2012 J. G. CHAMBERS.

—Every Saturday afternoon, among the passengers on the train northward bound, may be found Chaplain Wright enroute to Bellevue, where for nearly two years he has been in charge of the Presbyterian congregation.

When he retired from his position as army chaplain, his age entitling him to an honorable discharge, it was reasonable to suppose that he would be content to pass the remainder of his days in restful enjoyment as the result of his labors; but when, after occupying the vacant pulpit of Bellevue for a Sunday, he was called upon to take charge of that parish, which had intended to call a young man, but found the Chaplain young enough to suit them, with faculties and love of the work still unimpaired by advancing years, he accepted their call and has since occupied the pulpit of Bellevue with great satisfaction.

Mr. Rafter, of Omaha, has been visiting Mr. Charles Cummings.

Mrs. U. W. Wise returned last Sat-
