We call attention to the sale of the J. G. Miller lands, near here, in this paper.

Papers from D. H. Wheeler reach to office daily from New York where Mr. W. is attending the National Agricultural Convention.

The Omaha Republican has got the wrong credit on its article about the University in Wednesday's paper.

Thermometer at 60 and 70 degrees above zero in midday, and the sun as bright as in June, while our eastern papers come to us with reports of sleighs and robes and furs for sale.

A flick is going the rounds called "Fun on the Bristol." A sharp dramatist might get up a very pretty little farce, entitled "Fun in the City Council" if one had been there Monday night, and taken notes.

It is a pity that the Omaha Republican has got the wrong credit on its article about the University in Wednesday's paper.

The morning of the big fire in New York, a week ago, Tuesday, was sleazy, stormy and cold, turning into snow during the day.

As one letter after another, and one dispatch follows its predecessor, the Chili-Pan middle becomes more and more complicated.

AMLAND is jubilant too. The B. & M. are about to run a branch R. R. from there to Wahoo and thence to Lincoln and Fremont.

We've struck it. Beats a gold mine in California or a Toll road in Colorado. Oscar Wilde and "Joe" Connor travel with him this summer.

SHEKMAN, why did you skip the Sun editorial, the Finch matter, the small pox, and all other points made in last week's paper, and take up the little unimportant one about Geo. Smith?

"Josie" Connor, you are the only man who insulted Thatcher's memory. Why did you not notice the good words we had to say for Thatcher in last week's HERALD, from his late home paper?

It is always the perquisite of a coward to allude to the size of an opponent physically. Why did you wait two weeks to retort? Was it until your wife would be away, in fear we might answer in kind, and you could keep the paper here? Or do you mean to threaten to kill the editor of this paper again? Go slow, Jose, go slow; you live in a glass house!

The Beginning of the End.

THE NEW YORK TIMES, which cannot certainly be said to be either a Grant or Cookling paper recently, has this to say about the Peruvian-Chilian policy, as laid down by Mr. Blaine:

The country will read Mr. Blaine's instructions to Special Envoy Freest with amazement, not to say with a deep sense of relief and gratification that by the fortunate circumstance of his resignation and replacement by a Secretary of State of less in American aims and methods, the unaccountable policy by which he was seemingly deliberately seeking to enthrall this Government with that of Chili is arrested at this moment, barely in time to avert its inevitable and lamentable consequences.

It is a little laughable how those fellows down east think we're all set of hoodlums out west, forgetting that the most of us came direct from the east, or are of eastern parentage; and if we have bad manners they must have been learned back there originally.

University Matters.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 6th, 1882.

Editor Herald:—The action of the regents in dispensing with the services of Professors Woodbury, Church and Emerson, has been condemned and approved, but perhaps without due judgment.

For some time past, the Faculty of the University have, in their various meetings been inharmonious, for the reason that the educational views of the so-called Broad Guages, or in other words, broad minded Professors, are not readily assimilated to the ideas of the Narrow Gauge, or as the distinction has been made also, the Narrow minded Professors.

The Honorable Regents, with the exception of Regent Gannett, who was sick, and Regent Powers, who was absent, met for a meeting, after an investigation, that seems to have been a partial one, notified the Professors, whose names have been mentioned above, that their services in the University could be dispensed with, at the close of the year.

Indeed, the influence of the Professor is a very desirable one, and it would be well, were all the Professors of the University, to be progressive in their ideas, and to be in sympathy with the progress of the age.

It is asked to hear every student in an hour, and because every student does not pass, it is a fair way to become one of those plastic individuals, who can be moulded in anyway to suit the fashion.

Whereas, The papers inform us that Senator Logan, of Illinois, has introduced a bill in congress to set apart the revenue from the distilleries for education.

"Temperance Column."

FOR GOD, AND HOME, AND NATIVE LAND.

BY MISS MARY T. LATHROP. A wealthy man in St. Louis was asked to aid in a series of Temperance meetings, but he scornfully refused.

A few days after, his wife and two daughters were coming home in the lightning express. In his grand carriage, with his attendants, he rode to the depot, thinking of his splendid business, and planning for the morrow.

"I will give you five hundred dollars for an extra engine." The answer flashes back, "No."

"A train with surgeons and nurses has already gone forward, and we have no other."

By not drinking with wine wherein is excess, is the text of a Temperance sermon recently delivered in an Episcopal pulpit, the stress of the argument being laid upon the word translated excess, which conveys, in the Greek, the idea of anger, and treatment of the brain, stops the cough and arrests the progress of the disease.
