"Pickle" Butler of Lincoln lately left that city in a hurry leaving several creditors in a decided pickle. The Journal says it is supposed he took some $2000 with him "about one half which amount it would take to liquidate his whiskey bills." Suppose he used that for making "whiskey pickles."

This is what the Omaha Republican thinks :

Even if the grasshopper relief bill should not pass congress, so as provide our frontier with sufficient grain for seed, we doubt the policy of issuing county bonds. They are a dangerous thing, and stay with the tax-payers.
