

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

WEDNESDAY MARCH 17, 1875.

District Convention for the Counties of Adams, Kearney and Webster.

There will be a Delegate Convention held in Hastings, on Tuesday, March 30th, at 1 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of nominating two candidates as delegates to the Constitutional Convention, to be voted for at the special election on April 6th, 1875.

Counties will be entitled to the following number of delegates: Adams, 12; Webster, 10; Kearney, 5.

A. L. WIGTON, Ch'm Cen. Com. Adams Co. L. L. HOLBROOK, Ch'm Cen. Com. Kearney Co.

ATTENTION.

The citizens of Webster County are requested to meet in Mass Convention at Red Cloud, on Saturday March 20th, for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the District Convention to place in nomination two candidates for the Constitutional Convention. A large attendance is respectfully urged.

J. E. SMITH, Chairman Central Com.

Election Notice.

Notice is hereby given that on Tuesday the sixth day of April, 1875, an election will be held in Webster County Nebraska, at the places hereinafter mentioned, for the purpose of electing two delegates to the Constitutional Convention, being the number apportioned to the District composed of Webster, Adams, and Kearney counties, which election shall open at 8 in the morning and close at six in the evening. The place of holding the election in each precinct will be as follows:

- Red Cloud precinct—At the Court House. Guide Book precinct—At the School House in District No. 1. Walnut Creek precinct—At the School House in District No. 6. Basin precinct—At the school house in District No. 22. Harmony precinct—At Wells Post Office. Oak Creek precinct—At the School House in District No. 5. By order of the County Commissioners, this 10th day of March, A. D. 1875. J. A. TILLEY, County Clerk.

The District Convention for the purpose of nominating two candidates for the Constitutional Convention is called to meet at Hastings on the 30th inst. Inasmuch as no one from this county could or would attend the meeting that fixed the apportionment, and time and place of holding the convention it may not be in good taste for us to offer any criticisms on the subject. But in one or two respects the thing has a bad look.

In the first place, the apportionment is anything but just. Either of the counties of Adams or Webster has four times the population of Kearney, and yet the latter county is given five delegates to Webster ten and Adams twelve. But as the aspirants from Kearney county, as we understand the matter, are well worthy of that or any other position we will waive the question of apportionment for the present.

In the second place, the time appointed is open to a very serious objection. From the 30th of March to April 6th is altogether too short a time for a candidate to be before the people. This has a bad look about it. It certainly would appear to an outsider that the candidates would have little or no time to give their views upon the various "points," and the people will have no time to discuss the fitness of those asking their suffrages. This is not, or should not be, a partisan matter, nor should anyone seek to obtain a nomination through the strategy usual in political conventions. A fair deal is all that is asked.

With the prospect of a good season ahead, in our humble opinion, the County Agricultural Society should be reconstituted and put into good working order. In the first number of this paper, issued almost two years since, we urged the propriety and necessity of an organization of the kind, and as most of our readers are aware, a society was formed, a fair held, and everything brought into good shape for the future. But the failure of crops last year virtually broke up the society, and it will be necessary to begin anew.

If our farmers will begin early and make the proper effort a great amount of good can be accomplished even the present season by the formation of a lively, working agricultural society.

We hope that that generous and all other interested will join in together and form a society that will be a credit to the county.

THE TIME IS RAPIDLY APPROACHING

when our citizens will be called upon to select those who are to represent them in the Constitutional Convention which meets in May. A column might be written advising that none but the best and most able men be chosen for a position which involves so great a responsibility, but this our people already know. No doubt, some of the best lawyers of the State will be members of that body, as well as intelligent men of other avocations. The tearing out of an old, and substituting therefor, a new constitution is, from the nature of things, something that should be done in the most careful manner, without undue haste, and with only the object in view of securing the greatest possible amount of good from the change proposed.

The necessity of a new State Constitution is to appear too need argument. But a great difference of opinion exists as to the best course to pursue in the matter. It is urged by some, with a show of plausibility, that the only changes needed are increased representation and a larger number of Judicial Districts, while others insist that our whole system should be wiped out root and branch, and a new start taken. We are inclined to believe in the latter plan. If there is anything good in the present constitution, anything suited to our wants as a great and growing State, that cannot be bettered by a change, adopt it, not because it a part of our present law, but upon its intrinsic merits. Let us, however, begin anew, and endeavor to take the right start. This lopping off a branch here and there may improve the quality of the fruit, but it will be the same fruit. Grafting new fruit into old branches, may do for a season, but eventually, the vigorous growth of the "graft" will be out of proportion to the old stock, and therefore it will be short-lived.

With the experiences of the past to guide our Convention, that body need not consume a great amount of time in preparing a constitution acceptable to the people and suitable to their necessities. The constitution rejected four years ago was a very good, and with a few changes, would, we believe, be acceptable.

Our platform is a new Constitution, not a tinkered-up concern, with our present Constitution as the basis.

In answer to the many inquiries concerning the bill to equalize the soldier's bounties, we will state that it failed to become a law. The reports have been various and conflicting, but the true circumstances seem to have been something like these: The bill passed the House and was sent to the Senate, where it was amended. The House refused to concur and asked a committee of conference. The House receded from its refusal and the bill was sent to the President without the signature of the Vice President, which informality, of course, was fatal to the bill. It is reported that the President would have vetoed the bill on account of the vast amount it would have taken to pay the claims that would come up for payment if it became a law.

The excitement resulting from the reports of rich gold deposits in the Black Hills has spread over the country, and thousands are preparing to go fortune-hunting as soon as the season will permit. Neither the Indians or government interference will have any terrors to the frontiersman if gold or other valuable minerals should be found in any considerable quantities. In the meantime, it is best not to place too much faith in the reports put into circulation by parties interested in getting up a "rush."

Several years ago a hopeful young minister left these shores for the Canibal Island as a missionary. On arriving at the end of his journey the natives weighed him and cut a silver off his leg as a trophy. He came home by the same route and on the traveling agent of a circus.

An amiable citizen of Burlington called to see another, who was dangerously ill. Attracted by a festive pair of boots in the room of the invalid, the visitor tried them on, when turning to the sick man with much sympathy, he remarked: "supposing the worst to happen, I'll take these boots."

Brief colloquy in Texas between a tourist and a native:—"My friend, why is it everybody in this country thinks it necessary to carry one or two revolvers?" "Well, stranger," said the Texan, "you ought travel along here a good long time and not want a weapon, but when you do want a pistol in this country you want it bad."

STATE NEWS.

The State Teacher's Association, will meet at Omaha, on the 20th of the present month. The railroads offer reduced rates of fare to all wishing to attend.

During a snow storm some three weeks since, a dwelling house in Seward county was struck by lightning and almost destroyed. A little girl was so severely shocked that she died the next day.

From the Fairbury Gazette we learn that a Mr. Tanner, "pitched into" Mr. Scott, editor of the Hebron Journal and gave him a complete tanning. The trouble grew out of some remarks made by the latter, concerning the aid business.

Hon. J. B. McDowell, late member of the Legislature, from Gage Co., has been appointed by the President, and confirmed by the Senate, to the position of Register of the Lincoln Land Office. This comes from being on the winning side.

From the Crete Post we learn that Doane College, located at that place has sixty-three students, and that the institution is in a prosperous condition.

The State penitentiary lost eight of its boarders a week or two since, by "honorable discharge," but the spring terms of the District courts will more than make up for that trifling loss.

The most prominent candidates for the Constitutional Convention from Gage county, seem to be Messrs Golly and Murdoch, both of whom are good and able men. Where's Griggs?

Beatrice has got the spelling school mania, and offered a calico dress to the best lady speller, and a Webster's school dictionary to the best gentleman speller.

The new steam flouring mill at Beatrice is completed and has begun business, to the delight of the citizens of that place.

Mr. Coleman, of the Beatrice Express has disposed of his interest in his paper to Mr. Brown. We judge from the announcement that he has secured an appointment at Washington.

Another simpleton lost his money in Omaha, at the three-card monte business.

Gen. Ord. who for a long time past has commanded the Department of the Platte, with headquarters at Omaha, has been transferred to another command and Gen. Crook takes his place. Probably no man in the State has done more for the State during the present crisis than Gen. Ord, and he will be followed by the blessings of thousands of our citizens.

The Lowell Register has got out another issue with the inevitable "oops." It is very incorrect, inasmuch as it does not make Red Cloud the future great railroad center of the west.

Mr. Merchant, late proprietor of the Clifton House, Lincoln, "went on a visit east" some weeks since, and some of his fellow-citizens of that village mourn his absence to the extent of various amounts long since due.

The Omaha and Lincoln papers are warning everybody against going to the Black Hills, and at the same time publish everything that will serve to incite enthusiasm in that matter.
