-Our reporter attended the show

Monday night, given by Dickey's Minstrel Troupe, and these are his notes as we get them from his book : 'Had to pay my way in, something I never did before, -sat about three hours waiting for the performance to commence, -two small boys had a wrestle, -some fellows came in with their girls which caused a general elearing out of throats, -- somebody behind the curtain played "Sweet Home" on the violin, which was very appropriate. -curtain for lumber. was unpinned and tolded back, -a man appeared in tights and made a few remarks, after which he performed some old tricks and then we had another rest of an hour ; Then came the minhave taken about 150 tons of ice out strels .- the opening consisted of one loke and one song, -next was a nigger boking for a barber shop in a photograph gallery, and as a matter of course got his face covered with flour. -next a song, followed by a song and dance. In conclusion came the great repertying feat, which did not come off until a gentlemen from the andience Mr. Van Dyke, offered to perform the trick for them, when he was securely tied by two men, but when the curtain was drawn became free in less than a minute. Taking everything into consideration, Dickey's Minstrel Troupe is a first-class traveling humbug.
