

THE CHIEF.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Plenty of business in town last Monday. Wall paper in great variety at Brown's. Whose store will be the next to be burglarized. Yesterday, (Wednesday) was St. Patrick's day. Easter Sunday comes on the 28th of the present month. The spring term of the Select School opened last Monday. Window shades and fixture, at Brown's furniture store. Satisfaction given in all kinds of job printing, -bring it along. We noticed Dr. Kautson, of Guide Rock, in town last Friday. Court convenes on the 23d of the present month -next Tuesday. The recent winter put a stop to farming operations for a short time. It is said that the recent snow storm will be of great benefit to the crops. A man may be truthful in every thing she, and yet lie to the assessor. A dog show was one of the attractions at Holcomb's store last Monday. Go and see the fine stock of furniture at Brown's, before purchasing elsewhere. The CHIEF gives more local news in one week than the other paper does in three. The Jewell county, Kans. Monitor, has been enlarged and otherwise improved. Now would be a good time to bring in that wood that you promised on subscription. Go and see goods, and prices, before buying, at Brown's furniture and wall paper store. E. L. Grubb called last Friday, for the five hundred copies of the Guide Rock News. Al. Spracher and C. W. Fuller, of Cowles, were among our new subscribers last Monday. How did you like the weather, as presented to you last Thursday, Friday and Saturday? Mitchell & Morhart, are sole agents for the sale of the Davis Sewing Machine, in this county. Seward county has not had a murder committed, within her borders for the last three days. Liddy's store has been closed and an invoice of the stock taken. It footed up only about $1,200. Mrs. Foster, of Iowa, delivered a temperance lecture at the court house last Tuesday evening. A three days snow storm was one of the luxuries enjoyed by the people of this part of the "rinyard" last week. And still they keep boasting the price of print paper. This would be a good time for delinquents to pay up. The Guide Rock News will hereafter be issued weekly, we understand, and will also be made double its present size. Republican City will soon have a new paper, called the Enterprise. A man by the name of Rhoads, will make the venture. The Orleans Sentinel advertises "Money to loan at this office." The question is how the scheme did the Sentinel man get possession of the duceats. Mr. Pope, the County Superintendent informs us that after the first of April examinations will be held at Blue Hill and Guide Rock, as well as at Red Cloud. The CHIEF office has been completely overrun with job work, the last two weeks. We can stand it, however, for we will soon have increased facilities and more help. While we remember the sufferings of poor Ireland, let it not be forgotten that thousands of American freemen have to fasten their suspenders with single nails. Anybody had ought to know that, in justice to ourselves, we cannot afford to wait any great length of time for money due us on job printing. Please do not expect it of us. Mr. B. F. Boynton, of Illinois, who is the fortunate possessor of a tract of land in this county and who will, in all probability make Nebraska his home in the near future, subscribed for the CHIEF last Monday, to be sent to his home in Illinois. There has been several murders in Seward county, in the last few weeks, which accounts for the startling manner in which the conductor on one of the Lincoln and Northwestern trains - called out to the passengers when the train halted at Seward, "Seward; prepare to meet your God!" At the close of the article on the masquerade ball, in another column, we intimated that we might have something to say in regard to a certain matter connected therewith. Ed. Hawley was there dressed as a woman and disguised. In the language of the inspired writer of Holy Writ. "He is of age, ask him." With some one who has had experience in the care and management of sheep in this county, would write an article on the subject for the columns of the CHIEF, as many of our readers are anxious to learn what they can on the subject, preparatory to embarking in the business themselves. Who will respond? A lady called at a photograph gallery in Columbus, O., the other day, with a baby whose photograph she desired taken. The necessary arrangements were made, the little cherub was propped up in a chair in the best possible position, and the artist was proceeding to adjust his camera, when the mother exclaimed herself for a moment. The moment grew to minutes, and the minutes to hours. In short, the mother did not come back, and the artist finds himself with a ready-made baby on his hands, whose name and origin are unknown to him.

From our old associate in the newspaper business, Maj. D. H. Wheeler, Sec'y. of the State Board of Agriculture, we have received a circular calling attention to Arbor Day, which comes on April 21st. The following are the premiums offered: For the greatest number of trees planted on the third Wednesday in April, (21st.) to include fruit, forest and evergreen, and all varieties, $50.00; Greatest number hard wood, $25.00; Greatest number cuttings, $10.00; For the Greatest number of trees planted by one man during the month of April, 1880, $50.00. Who, in Webster county, will compete for these premiums. The Masquerade Ball came off last Friday night. There seems to be a vast difference of opinion as to the propriety of such things, some claiming that there is nothing wrong about it, while others are of the opinion that a masquerade ball is simply a place for young men, and old ones, for that matter, to indulge in immoral acts and exhibitions behind the mask, that would not be tolerated for an instant at any other time or place. How much truth there is in this view of the matter we leave to the participants themselves to judge. It is not for us to pass judgement upon the actions of others, we are in favor of everybody enjoying themselves to the fullest extent possible, consistent with propriety. As to the propriety of young ladies covering up their faces with a mask and displaying the tops of their stockings, we have nothing to say, but might ask the question, if it is proper to wear short dresses in the ball room, with a mask over the face, would it not be proper to wear short dresses without the mask? How many of you would like to be seen on the streets in such a plight? The burlesque article which appears behind the footlights without any wearing apparel to speak of, does not wear a mask, and is looked upon with contempt by many of her own sex who think it entirely proper to appear at a masquerade ball in the same costume, with the addition of a mask to cover the blushing face. A masked ball, however, is a splendid source of pleasure to the boys, there they are free from the restraint imposed upon their actions by the usages of good society, (without masks) they enjoy greater liberty of action and speech than if their faces were not covered with a mask, they are tempted to overstep the bounds of propriety and good breeding by the knowledge that their identity is concealed. In all seriousness we would ask, how many young men who attend masquerade balls, would want their sisters to attend? It is all very well so long as somebody else's sister attends, but bring the matter home and ask yourselves if you would encourage your own sister to attend masked balls. As we said on the start, it is not for us to say whether masquerade balls are a proper place for young ladies to go to or not. We leave the matter with themselves and their parents, but we know that there is a great diversity of opinion on the subject, and that there are a few things connected with the ball at the court house last week of which we may speak hereafter.

FROM ELM CREEK.

EDITOR CHIEF:—The protracted meeting at the Basin school house closed some time ago, forty-five unted with the church. Farmers began spring work in earnest a couple of weeks ago, but the storm last week put a sudden stop to operations in that direction. The "Foot Prints of Time" has been making serious inroads into the integrity of this settlement, many have traded off their property for territory and turned book agents. Whether they make a success of it, remains to be seen. Considerable petty thieving has been going on in this part of the country for some time; nothing escapes the aviciousness of the thieves, wheat, corn, potatoes and everything else of transport is ruthlessly carried away, and appropriated to the use of the class who "Toil not neither do they spin," yet Solomon in all his glory did not have grub piled up like they do. These thieving operations following upon the heels of the great religious revival which stirred up this community to such a pitch lately, is hard to account for, it must be that a reaction has set in. Our citizens are, for the most part, an honest hard working class, and the morals of the community at large should not be judged by the action of the few who do not seem to realize that others have rights that they are bound to respect, and property that they should be held to alone. A number of our farmers have rented their farms for this season, and will engage in some other business that they hope will prove more remunerative. Joseph Chambers has rented his farm and moved to that of his son Tommy. There is a good deal of grumbling about high taxes in this part of the county, and we suppose it is the case in other parts of the county, the first question that is asked by farmers when they happen to meet is, "how much taxes do you have to pay?" This question generally leads to remarks more forcible than polite, and generally ends in maliciousness upon the heads of the persons whose maladministration has brought a prosperous county to the verge of bankruptcy. We are glad to say that the CHIEF is more generally read in this part of the county than any other paper. Its straightforward and fearless course in denouncing the wrongs against the people—the farming class—has won for it the best wishes and undivided support of that class of people in this part of the county. The prairie fire did considerable damage in this section of the country several days ago, but as I see the CHIEF made note of it last week I will add nothing more. If you see fit to publish this I may write again. Yours etc., FELIX.

Holcomb Bros., hardware store was burglarized last Thursday night. The thieves got away with two shot guns, a lot of pocket cutlery, and some plated ware, in all about $300 worth. Since the above was in type we learn that the goods have all been recovered—found concealed in the woodpile at the rear of the store. The thief, for some reason did not carry the goods away the night they were stolen, but hid them, and on Sunday night came to take them away, and was seen by Mr. Holcomb's clerk, who fired a couple of shots at the thief causing him to "skin out" in a lively manner. No arrest has yet been made. Experience in every branch of business ensures success. Inventors who secure the services of attorneys familiar with patents, and the practice of the Patent Office rarely fail in obtaining patents. The same rule applies in all contested, Mineral, and land claims brought before general land office. Pension blanks furnished. PRESBYTERY AND GREEN, 509 Seventh Street, Washington, D. D. have had years of experience in practice in all departments of the government. (Send stamp for information.) In our column of "Happenings in the Valley" will be noticed a rumor that Jake Struve, the widely known proprietor of Struve's Ranch, had been arrested on a charge of murder. Whether he had any connection with the crime, we have not heard enough to justify us in forming an idea, but we will briefly narrate what we can remember of the circumstances. In 1872, a German from the neighborhood of Lincoln, located a claim in the western part of Harlan county, Dr. Tibbles, a brother of the notorious preacher of that name, wanted the claim, and endeavored to scare the German away by threats, etc. In the course of time, the German was misled by his neighbors, who went to the house, but could find nothing of him. Signs of a struggle were apparent, but no trace of the body could be discovered, after thorough and protracted search. Suspicion at once fastened on Dr. Tibbles, and he was notified to leave the country, which he did. In the minds of the more thoughtful people of the vicinity there was no belief in his guilt, but an excited mob is not to be trifled with. The missing man never turned up, and the ghastly mystery was well nigh forgotten by all but the fugitive charged with the murder. When the relation is extended between him and the detective who has worked up the present arrest, there will be one more thrilling chapter in the romance of crime.—Bloomington Argus.

IMPORTANT TO HOMESTEADERS.

Special Telegram to the Omaha News. Washington, March 10.—The senate passed a bill of great importance to homestead settlers on public lands. It provides that any settler who has or shall hereafter locate on any public lands of the United States with the intention of claiming the same under the homestead laws, shall be allowed the same time to file his homestead application and perfect his original entry in the United States land office as is now allowed to settlers under the pre-emption laws to put their claims on record, and his rights shall relate back to the date of the settlement of the same, as if he settled under the pre-emption law, and that where lands have been applied for and the original entry made under the homestead laws, and where such entries have not been made in good faith, or where lands have been abandoned after the original entry, and before the final entry, such lands shall be subject to claim under the homestead, or pre-emption laws of the first settler who has or shall hereafter settle on the same, provided such settler has or shall hereafter, within six months from the time of his settlement, take the necessary steps to have said homestead entry cancelled, and shall pay the land office fees in said contest when a homestead or timber culture claimant shall file a written relinquishment of his claim in the local land office. The land covered by such claim shall be held as open to settlement and entry without action on the part of the commissioners of the general land office in the same manner as it would have been if no entry under the homestead or timber culture laws had ever been made therefor. Peterson's Magazine for April is already on our table, ahead of usual. Every month, almost, this popular lady's book has a new and special attraction. The one this month is a series of designs in embroidery, furnished by the "Philadelphia School of Art Needlework." One is for a tea table cloth, printed in colors; another for the ends of a towel, also printed in colors; another for a pillow case, full size; another, a beautiful Flower Alphabet for marking handkerchiefs; besides a score of many other designs in crochet and embroidery of all kinds. The principal table plate is a charming picture of a little girl, seated on a bank, gathering grasses and early flowers, on one of these "windy March" days. For nearly thirty years "Peterson" has held a front rank as a lady's cheapness, it is without a rival. It has, in consequence, a larger circulation than all the other ladies' magazines combined, and will maintain that circulation so long as it keeps, as it does, in the advance, and has such contributors as Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis, Jane G. Austin, Frank Lee Benedict, Marietta Allen, and the author of "Joseph Allen's Wife," &c., &c. Remember the price is but two dollars a year, with liberal discounts to clubs. Specimens are sent gratis, with full particulars, to those wishing to get up clubs. It is never too late to get up clubs. Book numbers from January catalogue can, if desired, be supplied. Address, CHAS. J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. The better nations become acquainted with each other the fewer will be their prejudices, and the more likely will they be to love and respect each other. Just so with J. Moore Taylor's Gold Medal Soda or Saleratus—the more you know of it, the more you want to, and the more anxious you are to have your friends become its patrons. It not only makes the best Biscuit, Bread, &c., but it cures dyspepsia and strengthens weak stomachs. It has no equal. Most of the Grocers have it.

Settlers on Government Lands. Homesteaders and others who have not yet proved up on their claims should remember that the new regulations require that they shall advertise at least four witnesses who are not relatives of the party proving up, and that the time and place of making proof shall also be stated in the notice. This, it is claimed, is for the purpose of giving parties who may have adverse claims on the land a chance to appear and present their claims. Those who wish to prove up on their application papers made out at the CHIEF office, free of charge, as we always keep a supply of blanks on hand for this purpose, and as the editor of this paper is Notary Public, the affidavit does not cost anything, thus 25 cents is saved to each one who publishes his final proof notice in the CHIEF. The Nebraska Farmer. The March number of the Nebraska Farmer is before us and we like it. A large amount of its space is devoted to the present instance of the sorghum blight, and the editor has well handled both editorially and by correspondence. We furnish the Farmer and the CHIEF both one year for $2.50. UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE. BLOOMINGTON, NEB. March 10th, 1880. By a recent decision received at this office, the Hon. Commissioners directs as follows: "You are authorized in future to allow a preference right to parties who file applications to enter under either the timber culture or homestead laws, and produce the relinquishment of a previous timber culture entry, covering the tract desired." S. W. SWITZER, Register. FRANK LESLIE'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE. The number for April is one of unusual attractiveness, and contains a brilliant literary and artistic gem. Among the most notable articles are a charming German allegory, "The Maiden of the Wind Wheel," a comprehensive article on the movement of the Rev. W. W. Stevenson, entitled, "A City of Saints." It is profusely illustrated, as is likewise "Martin Luther," a biographical study by A. H. Gurnsey. There is a timely and sparkling article by M. E. W. S., entitled "Fashion and Faith." The subject of No. 111, "The Children of the Bible," is "Joseph the Dreamer." The department of fiction, besides the continuation of the popular serials, "The Bees," "The Natchez," "The Captives," and "Little Horses," some exceedingly interesting stories by celebrated writers. There are poems of unusual merit; one by J. H. Burns, entitled "Hazelbark," with two verses of a recent city, "April," by the late Frances Ridley Havergal (finely illustrated), and the "Magician," a poem of the New Testament, by the Rev. W. W. Stevenson, and a valuable "Religious News" at Home and Abroad. There are numerous illustrations and descriptions of ecclesiastical architecture, scenery, natural history, and adventure, etc. Also many articles illustrative of religious habits and customs, with Scriptural interpretations. In fact, the 128 quarto pages teem with the most interesting and edifying matter. The illustrations number about 100. A single number is only 25 cents, and the annual subscription $3, postpaid. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 55, 56, and 57, Park Place, New York.
