

THE CHIEF. LOCAL MATTERS.

Get out your fishing tackle. New goods at Mrs. Fowler's. Imperial oranges, at Roby's. Lard wanted on subscription. Go to Mrs. Fowler's for military goods. Trimmed hats for 50 cents, at Mrs. Lutz's. Land to rent, at Cowles, call at CHIEF office. The noblest summer hats, at Mrs. Fowler's. Corn for sale, at Cowles, apply at this office. California canned fruit at Roby's, for 25 cts. per can. Town election passed off very quietly, Tuesday. Roby sells head light oil, for 25 cents per gallon. Barium's mammoth circus will be in Nebraska in July. Only 41 votes were cast at the town election last Tuesday. W. B. Roby has just received another lot of FRESH garden seed. If you want a "love of a bonnet," go to Mrs. Fowler's military store. Potatoes wanted on subscription—bring 'em along, and don't you forget it. If Roby can't give you satisfaction in the CHOICE grocery line you need not look further. An average of about 20 "prairie schoolers" a day pass through town on their way to the frontier. Our Guide Rock correspondent dished up a column for the benefit of our readers, this week. Persons wishing to purchase farms in this county, would do well to write to the editor of the CHIEF. Nine Edith Smith, DIRECT FROM THE EAST, and an experienced trimmer, is in the employ of Mrs. Lutz. We understand that Rev. Geo. Bent will soon commence the erection of a new residence, near Mr. Yeiser's. The Rev. Geo. O. Yeiser is to preach at the court house, in Red Cloud, next Sunday morning and evening. Eber is building a residence on the lack end of his lot, facing the street on the north. He proposes to live close to his business. The game of base ball last Saturday between the Red Cloud boys and the boys from Cowles, resulted in a victory for the Red Cloud boys. The circulation of the CHIEF has nearly doubled in the last six months, and we can now show the largest circulation of any paper in the valley. Last Monday about 4 o'clock the wind ruddily blew cold from the north, and those who had fondly looked for rain soon, were again doomed to disappointment. Note makers should understand that the U. S. Supreme Court has decided that where the figure 7 is printed on a note, as 187-, and an 8 is made with a pen on the printed 7, it is not valid. The following gentlemen were elected to fill the honorable and lucrative (?) position of town trustees, at the election Tuesday: R. D. Jones, J. B. Wilcox, H. Holcomb, W. Whitson and Lou Albright. Wilkinson, the man who murdered young Richardson in Bloomington last February, was sentenced by Judge Gasin to the penitentiary for life. The verdict of the jury was murder in the second degree. The divorce laws of Indiana will excuse a wife for throwing a teapot at her husband across the table, but if she strikes his pet dog with a boot jack she is laid out cooler than a wedge on the question of alimony. Mr. Magee returned from his visit to the east last Saturday, somewhat improved in health, although he is far from being strong yet. Neuralgia holds on to a man like the king of terrors to a defunct African. Last Thursday our sheriff arrested a man who is supposed to be the person for whom $100 reward was offered by the marshal of Dowan, Kans. He had obtained goods by false representation, and was skipping out. Nearly everybody in town is building caves—places of refuge—"arks of safety" to flee to when the gentle zephyrs get up and howl, and yet this country is no more subject to destructive tornadoes than any other part of the "heritage."

The school meeting at the school house last Monday was a tame affair, no button-holing, no striving for the lucrative position of moderator and no hair pulling. R. Mitchell was chosen moderator, and a tax of 10 mills was voted as a building fund, which, with the tax that was voted for the other purposes makes a total of about 20 mills for school purposes in the district. Miss Charlotte Webber, living 4 miles north-east of town, underwent a very painful operation last week. Two years ago she was thrown from a horse, an ankle joint was badly fractured, and the result of that she has been rendered a cripple ever since. Dr. Moena, assisted by Dr. Elliott removed considerable dead bone from the limb, she is now doing well and in a good shape to lay aside her crutches, which she has used for two years. Last week Eugene Dought and Al Sutton were arrested on the charge of burglary, it being supposed that they were the parties who broke into and robbed the Red Cloud post-office on the night of September 29th, 1879. They had a preliminary examination before J. R. Wilcox, United States Commissioner at this place, and their bail fixed at $1,250 each, which they could not give, and were taken to Lincoln by Deputy U. S. Marshal Wright for safe keeping, to await the May term of United States Court in Omaha. The principal witness against the prisoners is a young woman of easy virtue, Ada Conway by name, who seems very unostentatious terms with the boys, and had at a time shortly after the robbery, taken care of a considerable amount of money for the boys, and who finally gave them away. At the preliminary examination she appeared to be in great fear of "Gene," who she said, had repeatedly threatened to kill her. The prisoners were represented in the preliminary examination by E. C. Hawley and O. C. Case, while the prosecution was conducted by U. S. District Attorney G. M. Lamberston. The case looks pretty dark for the boys charged with the crime of robbing Uncle Sam's mail. MARRIED—On the 18th day of March, 1880, by Rev. J. T. Milner, at his residence, Mr. John W. Fox, and Miss Harriet E. Milner, youngest daughter of the officiating clergyman, all of Webster county, Neb. A big rush at Frye & Ewing's Photograph gallery—why? because they have one of the best artists in this part of the country to operate for them. FRYE & EWING, Red Cloud, Neb. INAVALS ITEMS. INAVALS, NEB. April 5th, 1880. Inavals increases a little, a family has moved in near the post office, and Mr. Olmstead has built a "nobby" on his place to accommodate his renter, but the place does not grow as was expected. We hear complaints very often, such as this, why don't some one start a store here? or we need a blacksmith shop &c. The fact is there has been a great mistake made, if the depot had been located half way between Red Cloud and Riverton, and the bridge had been at Riverton, we should have had all these things, and more to boot, than perhaps some of those immigrants who this spring are seeking homes near some new town, would have stopped here and helped to build up our town. An eastern man was ready, wanting to bring a grist mill here and put it up as on the bridge should be located at the ford, but that failed and he would not come. Also two men have been here who wanted to put up a building and put in a stock of goods, but after having looked the situation all over, they have given it up. One said he thought the circle of patronage too circumscribed, the station being within 40 miles of Riverton, that is the way it looks to outsiders. Now our only hope is that those people who in their wisdom used their influence in the location of the bridge and station, will also use said influence in building up a town. If the town should be a success at no distant day, it will prove that they did not work with a selfish aim, but for the greatest good of the greatest number. We have the assurance of the patronage of the Walnut creekers, and that is a boom for the town. EBERY.

still on earth, as when the tadpole chimed in the diapason of our darwinian ancestors, kept the first ranch or stopping place. The old settlers knew of him, and it wasn't such a ranch either, as Greenly described in Colorado where the bad bug had and looked over the register to read the great names to find out the number of their rooms. Uncle Jack's ranch on state creek stands in memory as the landmark of pioneer days, and its winsome host as the connecting link between red man and pale face. It was at the log store in Red Cloud, kept by Smith Brothers that we bought our first tobacco and groceries. And do you suppose old settlers, that I have forgotten how I drove breaking team for one—, bear-footed to earn money enough to pay for them. How long the days were. It did seem to me that some modern Joshua commanded the sun to stand still on many days that I drove that team. Stone bruised feet, torn overalls and sun burnt face, told how pressing were the necessities of the situation. The first newspaper was the Red Cloud Chief, now owned and edited by its able editor M. L. Thomas, one of the pioneer settlers. Pioneers and old settlers reflect back to the early days of that paper, how it struggled and worked against the tide of almost penny and want. How it has changed hands through almost a generation of editors, and now after all the hardships it has endured have passed and washed away by the tide of immigration, all who love to cherish the memories of our early settlement will wish it to continue its new lease of vigorous life, no matter how widely they may differ from it in political faith. Here is Captain Munnell, the "John-the-Babitt and white chief of the old settlers." I do not say that he lived on grass hoppers and wild honey, but I guess he brought down as many buffaloes as any of the boys I almost think that the almighty, ex-hausted all his material in making the captain, for he was always a father to me. The first doctor was Peter Head, and I cannot easily forget his bitter medicine. The personal retrospect would be incomplete were the constitutional lawyer John R. Wilcox left out, the first lawyer in the county, to sound all the depths of legal lore and open the law books for the benefit of his client, sleek and pert as the prairie gopher, he washed in the pool of Blackstone, and drank from the fountain head of England's most gifted lawyer. Of the first settlers who number the oldest dates are Emanuel Peters, Donald McCallum, Silas Garber, A. M. Talbot, Abraham Garber, Wm. McBride, Joseph Garber, Luther Mick, Albert Lathrop, Sarah Mick and Mrs. Sarah Rich, after which came August Roach, David Heffebauer, William, John and Edwin Parks, then came Wm. E. Jackson, George Taylor, Jacob Kursher, John Farmer, Wm. Sablin and Edwin Kellogg. Of the first noble and brave women to grace the uncivilized soil was Mrs. Catharine A. Garber, Mrs. Rich, Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Sarah Mick, whose name is more familiarly known as grand-ma, with many others who will be spoken of at some future time. Well friend Argus, you seem to think that I have "sined against myself and against my neighbors, and deserve abuse for some things I have said." Do you not think that you have abused me more, were I the person you take me to be? I am proud of one thing if nothing more, that my creator is higher than a newspaper. In all you have said and misrepresented in this matter, you seem to have forgotten this principle Bis peccasse in bello non licet, or in plain English, to blunder twice is not allowed in war. Yet with all your blunders you still show fight, and at last make a stand by the comparison of Webster county's financial condition with Adams and Buffalo counties. Will you please, through the columns of your paper give its few readers the history of Buffalo county's financial standing, that the people may just know how a county gets into a bankrupt condition? And also tell the people what a claim or an account against Webster county is worth at the present time? Your comparison is rather thin and shows bad upon the face of it. Why did you not make the comparison with Gage, Jefferson, Thayer, Nuckolls, Franklin, Harlin and Farnas counties? Come, don't cover up and uncover, tell us why you make the comparison you did? Now friend Argus with all the personal abuse and vulgar slang that a newspaper could belch forth from the pen of its editor, you have tried to heap upon me as you supposed to be the writer, for all that I can forgive you, and here is my offer, trusting that your soul may be blessed from on high by the all wise, the all good, and the all divine, and in his goodness make you a wiser if not a better man. VAL.
