This week we print and circulate over 1000 copies of the CHIEF. Those and become a regular reader and pa-

To all farmers who wish to become subscribers to the CHIEF but are pre-hard times we make the following offer: We will send the paper free of charge until after harvest upon their agreeing to subscribe at that time and pay for a year in advance.

Some one, while we were absent from the office, laid on our table an envelope containing a dollar and a letter that they desired published.
We do not publish it because we do not know the name of the author and because we cannot allow the CHIEF to become a medium for the dissemination of scandal. The letter and the money is held subject to the order of the person who left them here.

The Contemplated Investigation of County Affairs.

A petition asking the county commissioners to appoint a committee of three competent persons to overhaul the books and papers of the county and make a thorough investigation of the county's affairs, is being circulated through the county, and, we understand, has already been signed by over two-thirds of the legal voters of the county. This will insure, we suppose, the appointment of such a committee.
In view of the fact that no remains with the Board of Commissioners to make a success of this investigation business or to cause it to terminate in a simple farce as previous efforts in the same direction have done, we beg to make a few suggestions in regard to the appointment of the committee and defining its duties, which we hope the Board of Commissioners will not overlook.

In the first place if the county is to be to the expense of an investigation the commissioners should see that competent men are appointed on that committee, men of undoubted ability and integrity, who cannot be approached by outsiders or bought by interested persons who are good accountants, should be appointed, and no would favor the securing of at least one expert from outside the state.
Every thinking man must know that if there has been any crooked transactions in connection with the clerk's or treasurer's office or whatever skulldiggery has been carried on, the books will show up all right on their face, hence the necessity for the employment of an expert to get at the bottom of the matter.

The people demand that the investigation be thorough, and that the exact status of the county affairs be so clearly showed up as to forever preclude the necessity of another investigation back of this date, and in order that the work be efficiently carried out it is absolutely necessary that the committee be empowered to subpoena witnesses and examine them under oath.

If this is done we are decidedly of the opinion that there will be a "rattling of the dry bones" that will be surprising to the least.

It is not our intention at this stage of the proceedings, seeing that the investigation is sure to take place, to make any charges against anyone, but, in order that the mass of the people may know that we are not actuated by any personal feelings in the matter, we will just say that it is our firm belief that the following list of offices have been committed by the present county clerk, and that an investigation, if properly conducted, will prove that James A. Tuttle, clerk of Wesley county has been guilty.

1st. Of unlawfully dealing and speculating in county warrants.

2d. Of having made $700 or more by "ways that are dark, and tricks that are vain" at the time the last finding scheme was perpetrated on the people of the county.

3d. Of having repeatedly charged and unlawfully obtained pay for work which was covered by his salary as county clerk, and for which he had no right to make any charge.

4th. Of having repeatedly made false returns of the receipts of his office and unlawfully retained money received as fees from parties having business at his office.

5th. Of having, for the purpose of gaining popularity with the people of the county, failed to charge and collect fees for affidavits &c., which fees rightly belonged to the county, and of which the county was defrauded.

6th. Of having charged and collected fees for affidavits made by him as clerk of the court, and for which the law does not allow a charge.

7th. Of having wilfully disregarded the law in the matter of letting the contract for furnishing the county with books and stationery, to the lowest bidder, thus causing an unnecessary expenditure of hundreds of dollars of the people's money.

8th. Of having received 25 per cent, as commission from the parties from whom he has purchased county books and stationery, (25 dollars on every hundred dollars worth of books &c., bought for the county,) thus defrauding the county of thousands of dollars in the last eight years!

9th. Of being in collusion with certain other dealers in county scrip, for the express purpose of keeping down the price of county warrants.

We believe that if the investigation of county matters is conducted in a proper manner, such as is contemplated by the signers of the petition for the same, and in the business like and searching style demanded by the taxpayers of the county, we say it is our firm belief that the county clerk will be found to have been guilty of all the above named crooked transactions, and more, and in that event the road from the clerk's office to a criminal's cell is short and straight.

If, on the other hand, after an honest and thorough examination of the county matters, it is found that our suspicious and those of a majority of the people of the county are without foundation and that the clerk is guilty of no misdemeanors, then we are ready to retract all we have said and make the amende honorable.

The Commissioners have an important duty to perform, a duty that devolves upon them as servants of the people of this county who are aroused and in earnest in this matter, and we hope and believe that they will not lose sight of the fact that the eyes of the people are upon them, and they are expected to conduct this matter in such a way as to set the question at issue forever at rest.

Spavin, Ring-Bone, Etc., with Methods of Treatment.

(From Farm and Fireside.) The horse is our noblest domestic animal, and in his structure, imposing in appearance, full of intelligence, and when kindly treated giving in return an affection almost human in its nature, and performing to the last, with endurance and industry, the most we may add is to often subjected to the hardest and heaviest usage of any of our animals, and probably for this reason is the most liable to disease and debility.

Many an otherwise valuable horse is disgraced for life and rendered more or less unfit for service by ugly spavins, unsightly ring-bones, splints, which it is compelled to struggle with not of a serious nature, that is, do not affect the horse, or make any material difference in the ability for performing work on the farm, but such animals are rendered unsightly, or if disposed of, it must be at a sacrifice of price.
Generally, however, the horse is permanently lamed, unless the cause is removed, which is very seldom, and often entirely ruined for travel or work.

Spavins are most generally produced by a strain or overwork in driving.
The body exercises of such nature,
and sometimes give appearance of an enlarged joint, and unless attended to in season will soon become difficult to manage. Many remedies have been resorted to, but with little success, usually with very indifferent success. Blistering is generally resorted to when anything is attempted, and will in some cases, when properly performed, do so, but the remedy will not remove the blemish already formed or cure the lameness, besides the process is a painful one, producing soreness, and rendering the horse more or less unfit for work.

Some four years ago Dr. J. B. Kendall of Enochburg Falls, Vt., having a horse troubled with spavin tried blistering, but with no effect. He then tried a remedy of his own, and in a short time the horse was cured, and that it was abandoned with the belief that a remedy less torturing in its application and more certain in its effect might be devised. Accordingly the Dr. soon hit upon a remedy, which he practiced with success, and he succeeded in preparing a remedy that since its introduction to the public he has achieved a success that is of the highest character.

About three years since, hearing of several cases where Kendall's Spavin Cure" as the remedy is termed, had been used with good effect, I took some pains to ascertain the facts in the case, and reported the same for several of our leading agricultural papers. I gave a few instances to which I refer to, as follows:—

R. A. Gaines of Berkshire, Vt., owned a valuable horse having a spavin of the size of half a hen's egg, and producing severe lameness. After trying the usual remedies, he had recourse to Kendall's Spavin Cure, and in a short time the lameness was removed, and the horse was cured.

I examined the legs carefully and could find no trace of the disease, and the points, and could not tell upon which the spavin was located. The horse has been worked hard since and upon examining him the second time, at the same interval of three or four years, was pleased to find no return of the difficulty in any shape or manner; one leg as sound and perfect to all appearances as the other.

M. N. F. Wild, also of Berkshire, Vt., treated a bad case of spavin with this remedy and in six weeks the lameness was gone, and the horse nearly restored, and he considered the remedy a success. There has been no return of the difficulty since, although the horse has been worked hard.

A. Simkins of West Enochburg, Vt., has had an experience similar to the above, and the result might be given, but these may be considered sufficient to establish the fact of the curative powers of this remedy, and also, which is equally important, the permanency of the cure, the result being, not temporary, but lasting in effect.
Equal success has been had with Kendall's Spavin Cure in the treatment of splints, curb, ring-bone, bruises, sprains, different kinds of callous, etc. I wish to call particular attention to this as a humane method of treatment, the remedy, which is efficient in the majority of cases, and does not pain or soreness, as is the case with most applications. This feature is deserving of notice and is receiving commendation from many prominent gentlemen in this country, among whom I would mention Mr. Charles A. Currier, special agent for the Massachusetts society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, Boston Massachusetts, and others.

Although this remedy was originally designed for the treatment of horses, yet it has been used for human ailments, such as different forms of rheumatism, or deep seated pains of long standing, with equally good effect.

"Kendall's Spavin Cure" has been introduced throughout the most of this country, and is being put into the hands of all the leading wholesale druggists from whom it may be obtained, or through whom it may be ordered, by every druggist. Dr. Kendall has also compiled a small work on "Horse Lamenesses and their Diseases," of about 100 pages, fully illustrated, and giving in a small compass a large amount of useful information, free from all technical terms, and which will be worth many times the cost, of twenty-five cents, to all owners of horses. Something of the favor with which this work is being received by the public may be inferred from the fact that one hundred thousand copies or over have been sold since April last. Should any one desire further information upon any matter contained in this article they will please address Dr. J. B. Kendall, at Enochburg Falls Vt.
E. R. TOWLE,
West Berkshire, Vt.

Those interested in good horses will do well to read Mr. Towle's letter in another column on Spavin, Ringbone, Etc., with methods of treatment. We are informed that Mr.
Towle is one of the best agricultural writers in Vermont, and no doubt his investigations on this subject will be of great benefit to horse owners.

"Be thou chaste as ice and as pure unhealthy compounds in your food," was a true maxim until J. Monroe Taylor's Gold Medal Soda and Saleratus we feel that there is one article in the way of food and saleratus that all can use with healthy results. We have almost cured our dyspepsia, and thanks to the Gold Medal for it. Try it, and you will say with us, that perfection has been obtained, and the inventor has immortalized his name for ever. Most of the merchants have it.
