Composed largely of powdered Mica or Isinglass, is the BEST and CHEAPEST lubricator in the world. It answers equally as well for Harvesters, Mill Gearing, Threshing Machines, Corn-Planters, Carriages, Buggies, etc., etc., as for Wagons. It is GUARANTEED to contain no Petroleum. THE CHIEF.

M. L. THOMAS, - - - EDITOR.

THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1881.

I. P. OLIVE, the man-burner of Plum Creek has returned from his visit ? to Texas.

PRESIDENT GARFIELD has decreed that no more intoxicating liquors shall be sold at military posts.

THE fact that intemperance is visibly decreasing in Canada is attributed to the further fact that the population is also visibly decreasing.

THE Editors of the North Platte propose to organize a North Platte Editorial Association. They never attended the State Editorial Association to any alarming extent.

THE Omaha Bee, which for editorial ability and general cussedness surpasses our other daily exchanges, has donned a new dress and presents a much better appearance.

MISSOURI has prohibited gambling and Kansas has abolished liquor. The Missouri gamblers are all moving to Kansas and the Kansas liquor men are moving to Missouri. Which state will gain by the exchange is a problem that we turn over to the pungent paragrapher.—Journal.

DURING the month of april upwards of 90,000 people, mostly emigrants from countries beyond the Atlantic ocean, passed though Chicago to find homes in the great west. This is an increase of about forty per cent over the registry of foreigners arriving on our shores in the corresponding month of 1880. No Provision having been made by our last legislature for the purpose of encouraging immigration, but few of the April arrivals found their way to Nebraska, as the resources and numerous advantages of our state were not properly explained by well-informed representatives.

THE insanity of the last legislature in refusing to make some provision for attracting emigration is daily becoming more apparent. The great body of the present enormous immigration to the United States—the greatest ever witnessed—is tending to the cheap lands of the northwest, chiefly Dakota; and that new territory will in a year from this time, probably, have a population large enough to entitle it to admission into the Union as a state. Nebraska is not obtaining a tenth part of the new settlers which she might have secured by a little judicious advertising.—Bee.

MR. W. H. H. LLEWELLYN has received a telegram from Senator Saunders announcing his confirmation as agent of the Mescalero Apache Indians. The appointment of Mr. Llewellyn was originally made by Secretary Schurz, as a recognition of his efficient services in breaking up the gang of depredators on the frontier. The Apaches are confirmed hair-lifters and the department, after experimenting with meek and humble Christian agents, thinks that the tribe needs an agent who dosen't always trust in the prayer gauge and a volume of Watt's hymns as Indian pacificators. Mr. Llewellyn is thoroughly acquainted wiih the habits of the Nation's wards and knows how to deal with frontiersmen.—Bee.

When asked to subscribe for their home paper, some people say, "well, there isn't much in it, and I can get more reading matter in an eastern paper." Did it ever occur to the reader that it was much more important to know what was going on in his own town or county than in Indiana or New York? Your town paper gives the very news you ought to know, and that you are most interested in. All your local affairs and the news of your neighborhood are weekly set forth in its columns. In hundreds of ways a paper benefits a town. Without it the people of the outside world would not know there was such a town. Every family should take their home paper, and every business man should have an advertisement in its columns. Every public-spirited citizen of a place should take a pride in having his own town and surroundings improved. Every new house, every road, every manufacturing establishment erected, every new business opened enhances the value of property in our midst, Every reflecting mind knows this to be true, and it should not be forgotten that a local newspaper is always found advocating these improvements, and adds much to the wealth and prosperity of the place, besides it is a public convenience. It increases trade, cautions against imposition, saves you from loss, warns you of danger, points out different advantages, and increases your profits. Show us a man that takes his home paper and we will show you one that is well posted in local affairs, and knows what is going on around him. The local press is the power that moves the people. Therefore support it by advertising in it liberally, subscribing for it and paying for it.—Ex.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON May 16, 1881.

For six weeks a remarkable drama has been upon the boards of the Senate of the United States. At the onstet it promised to be of a legitimate character but as the play progressed it was early discovered that the cast of the characters had been unfortunately and improperly selected and notwithstanding the persistent remonstrance of the Magnificent, those who were expected to assume characters of propriety, dignity and grave decorum suddenly transformed themselves into clowns and harlequins and enactad scenes of buffoonery and pantomine unsurpassed in the annals of the histrionic stage. It has been temporarily suspended in consequence of a notice that the hall was required for other purposes. During this extraordinary performance your correspondent has been an occasional visitor, and became an auditor to much of the wrangling transpiring between the management and the opposing element. The "bourbon" was there, he of the "sunny south" of a "proud and haughty race," possessing a divine right to govern, still holding inviolate the primal rights of the States, and persisting in maintaining the theory of the superiority of the white to the colored race to whatever hight the latter may have ascended by the benefits and advantages of education and the result of experience in the methods of skilled labor. The only change that his views of slavery has undergone is that he accepts with philosphy the fact of its extinction, the mere circumstances of defeat in the field has not altered his notions of its beneficence as an institution, the superiority of the peculiar civilization it developed or the justice of the race and class distinctions which were its natural product he scorns to admit that the adverse results of the war had influenced in the least degree his opinions however greatly they had effected existing facts, but knowing as he does that his persistence in publicly proclaiming his old heartfelt opinions is a source of weakness to his party in the face of the reforms that that party are projecting (by way of experiment) without effecting to deny them prudently keeps them in the background and humbly submits to the party lash of his Democratic brother of north. The Stalwart Republican was there and in thunder tones demanded that all these theories were contraband of war and should be given up, that such ideas are inconsistant with the theory of a free government and at war with the fundamental principles of a Democracy, that the old fight is not ended till these lingering issues are settled finally, and Bourbonism follows slavery out into the wilderness of the dead past, that until this is accomplished there can be no lasting peace.

The weak-kneed politician was also heard, he would have political battles fought without contention, with kid gloves upon the hands, healing ointment protruding from every pocket the lubricating oils of charity and magnanimity applied to the tongue, and the grand old flag of the Union wrapped about him with APPROPRIATION in guilded letters among the stars and stripes.

The galleries applauded as the special favorites entered the arena and encored with animation extraordinary acts of grand and lofty tumbling. Scenes nnd incidents of this character while not unfamiliar to the British Commons nor-even to the other chamber of our Congress, have never before disturbed the decorum of the most dignified body on earth known as the United States Senate. Since the breaking of the dead-lock the citizens of California have been made exceedingly glad by the confirmation of the Chinese treaty, this had become a political question of no mean proportions and the favorable disposition of it will relieve the minds of all classes of American citizens and retire effectually a subject that had assumed a national importance because of its effect upon the political completion of a doubtful State.

We have recived a visit this week from two sprigs of English nobility, the Duke of Sutherland and the Marquis of Stafford, accompanied by the Directors of the Northwestern Rail Road of England, the party was quartered at the Riggs House, entertained by the British Minister, Cobinet officers and others, driven through our beautiful streets and parks so charming in their spring verdure, shown the grave of our first President who by the sword had wrested peace from their old King George III, and introduced to our brainy last President at the White House. They conducted themselves properly, kept sober and out of the hands of the police, and departed full of encomiums of Washington and its citizens, and as they came over to learn something that will be of advantage to them at home we were glad to have the pleasure of initiating a system of instruction that will make the distance across the deep blue sea seem nearer to the two English speaking nations.

THE GREAT APPETIZER TONIC, AND COUGH CURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, AND All Diseases OF THE THROAT, CHEST AND LUNGS.

The BALSAM of TOLU has always been one of the most important weapons wielded by the Medical Faculty against the encroachments of the above Diseases, but it has never been so advantageously compounded as in Lawrence & Martin's TOLU, ROCK and RYE. Its soothing Balsamic properties afford a diffusive stimulant, appetizer and tonic, to build up the system after the cough has been relieved.

GREEN B. RAUM, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., Jan. 26th, 1880, says: "TOLU, ROCK and RYE is an agreeable Remedy in Pectoral complaints and is classed as a Medicinal preparation under the U. S. Revised Statutes, and when so stamped, may be sold by DRUGGISTS, GROCERS, and other persons, without special tax," or license.

CAUTION! Don't be deceived by dealers who try to palm off Rock and Rye for Lawrence & Martin's TOLU, ROCK and RYE—which is the only MEDICATED article made—the genuine has their name on the Proprietary Stamp on each bottle.

Put up in Quart Size Bottles. Price $1.00.
