THE CHIEF.

M. L. THOMAS, EDITOR.
THURSDAY, JAN. 19, 1882.

Two cases of small pox made their appearance in Omaha last Sunday.
Get vaccinated before it breaks out in Red Cloud.

The Guiteau trial is nearly completed and the case will surely go to the jury this week, and next week we will be able to give our readers the verdict.

A PASSENGER train and a special collied between Chicago and New York last week and a number of passengers were killed, among whom was Senator Wagner of New York. The brakeman whose duty it was to flag the special train, has been arrested for neglect of duty.

The Woman's Evangelical Temperance Association.

This society was organized immediately after the recent annual meeting of the Woman's National Christian Temperance Union, by members of the Convention who were opposed to the suffrage features of that Society as it has come, more and more aggressively, to the front each year, and as it was emphasized and adopted at the recent Convention at Washington.

We believe that the work for which women are best qualified, and which needs most of all to be done, is of an educational character.

That the enlightenment of public opinion and the quickening of the public conscience are essential to success. And that the God-given task of women is to lift public sentiment along educational, social, and gospel lines to the level of righteous Temperance laws, that shall be effective and permanent.

The grand successes of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the past, which have gained for it the confidence and good will of the masses which have been along these lines.
But the work undertaken has not as yet been accomplished; we therefore deem it unwise to divert any part of our force from this important service into other channels, or to do the work of organizing a WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE TEMPERANCE POLITICAL PARTY. And we are unwilling to be used in any way to forward woman's suffrage at the expense of the Temperance Work.

PLANS OF WORK.

This new society will take up the old plans and continue on the old lines of work which are so familiar to all, and which have in the past brought unity and success.

Already auxiliaries are being formulated and the society is assuming national importance.

At points where there are no societies auxiliary to this, persons wishing to become members, may do so by the payment of one dollar each. Where there are no State auxiliaries, local societies may become so by the payment of two dollars annually.

Donations of money and Temperance literature are desired. We lift up our standard in the name of our God and reconsecrating ourselves to the Temperance work, untrammelled by other issues, we invite the sympathy and co-operation of every thoughtful Christian man and woman in the land.

THE SUNDAY MAGAZINE
FOR FEBRUARY.

The February number contains, as usual, literary matter of rare interest and of an edifying and improving character, and the embellishments are admirable and profuse. Among the latter is a hitherto unknown portrait of Martin Luther which was recently discovered in the Thekla Church of Leipzig. On the lower margin are "D. M. Luther, at ALIX—1522" by the editor, T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., gives the second part of "People I have Met" "The Home Pulpit" contains his sermon, "Wheels Full of Eyes," and he also furnishes an interesting illustrated article, "Narcotics," "Called to the Ministry" by W. S.
Hervey, "On the River Nile," by W. S.
C. Proctor, "Lessons of the Snow," by Rev. W. Walters, "Missionaries in India," etc., are finely illustrated and replete with interest and information.
"The Reminiscences of an Old New Yorker," are continued, and the department of fiction contains, besides the charming serials, "Prudence Winterburn" and "Margaret's Enemy," short stories and sketches by popular writers. There are also essays, poems and an abundance of amusing and instructive miscellany. The subscription is $3 a year, 25 cents a number, sent by postpaid. Address, FRANK LESLIE, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16, 1882.

The Capital lies buried in a mantle of white, the first advent of winter, and happy men and maidens drive panting steeds on streets and avenues.
Jingling bells and ringing laughter are heard every-where. Pedestrians walk hurriedly through the crisp, wintry air. The pleasant autumn days had so trenched upon the winter term that many weather prognosticators had arranged for a skip in the usual frigid atmosphere of the winter solstice.
Enough of cold weather to enable the ice dealers to make a crop of the domestic article at home, ensures a competition in summer, which is a great benefit to feverish and perspiring humanity during the heated and torrid dog-days.

The Guiteau trial has brought out more testimony of experts than any other case ever tried in the courts of this or any other country. These witnesses for the most part, are men of large experience in treating insane persons, and they have established reputations which have reached far beyond our own land. There is one feature about Guiteau's case in which all experts agree. At the jail he is quiet and calm, not morose or tacit-urn, while in the court room he assumes to be irritable, is loquacious, and overdoes the thing entirely.
When appearing to be all absorbed in reading, it has been many times found his paper was upside down. He is a cool villain and his little game, thank heaven is nearly ended.

The proposition to extend Federal aid to the cause of general education, meets with great favor. The proportion of illiterate population is so large in some of the states that they cannot at any reasonable rate of taxation provide adequate educational facilities.
The federal government is in receipt of an enormous surplus revenue yearly, and no better disposition can be made of this surplus than to educate the rising generation. The amount appropriated by the government should not be made to depend upon any contingency, like the sale of public lands, as has been proposed in bills heretofore introduced in Congress.
Let education, which lies at the foundation of all our civil blessings, be as free and as universal as the air we breathe.

The first Wednesday in January is a gay day owing to the ladies taking the opportunity then to make their New Year's calls on the Cabinet families and the Speaker's wife. This is the beginning of the season of lunch parties, levees, receptions, and general gaiety, that makes winter life at the Nation's capital so attractive a residence, and brings hither thousands of stranger visitors. It is noticeable that every year increases the number, and at no previous period have hotels and boarding houses been so overcrowded as at the present.

When the House reassembled on Thursday the number of spectators in the galleries was unusually small, and the attendance of members fell far short of a quorum. During the prayer and the reading of the journal of the last day's proceedings, a member entered, and after exchanging New Year's greetings with their colleagues, took their seats, giving the chamber its customary appearance of life and bustle. But a few days will pass before the schemers and members of the third House will be here and be duly organized for the winter campaign.
The new members have to get into the harness, and make their maiden speeches, and six weeks will pass before any legislation will be much looked for. Meantime Uncle Sam, good old soul, pays the bills.

What shall be done with the silver?
The miners will dig tunnels, stamp-mills and mints will run. The Secretary of the Treasury has decided to ask Congress for an appropriation for additional vault room at the sub-Treasury in San Francisco. There was so much silver stored in the vault that the Assistant Treasurer declined to receive any more from the collector of the port, on the ground that he had no proper place to store it. Secretary Folger was informed of the state of affairs, and telegraphed to the Assistant Treasurer that he must receive the money and take such additional precautions to guard it as may be necessary until authority could be obtained from Congress for the construction of another vault. Why not spend it in helping our shipping interest and purchase indemnity for the diverse we now suffer for allowing all our freighting to be done by foreign vessels.

The public are treated from time to time with the announcement of startling discoveries of frauds in mail contracts, straw bids, etc. If there was not back of it all a powerful combination, determined to drive out all bidders, and secure monopoly of mail carrying, the men engaged in these investigations would be entitled to some credit.
The only security the people have is that there should be the largest opportunity for bidders all over the country, so that this privilege that involves millions of capital, should be scattered among contractors all throughout the United States. The combination are determined to have the contract in their own hands, and Uncle Sam will pay millions that would not be paid if there was open competition at the lettings. The whole thing is in the interest of the contractors' combination.

The New York
WEEKLY
is undoubtedly
THE BEST LITERARY PAPER PUBLISHED It is universally appreciated, as its immense circulation affords incontestable proof.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY is in every sense an entertaining, FAMILIARLY read, and is read by every household where a copy is taken every member of the family reads it, and the contents are discussed and criticised while the readers are seated around the cheerful fire.

The great success and unexampled popularity of THE

NEW YORK WEEKLY
is due to the excellence of its stories, its numerous entertaining features, and its fresh and varied attractions; but not the least among its recommendations is the fact that unusual care is exercised in revising the contents, that all objectionable words and phrases may be avoided.

Heads of families are aware that we never permit in our columns any word or expression likely to offend even the most fastidious guardian of youth.

The New York Weekly contains the BEST STORIES, the finest poems, the most entertaining sketches, as well as a choice variety of extremely interesting matter, and is therefore popularly commended to be

THE BEST STUDY SERVICE PAPER.

The New York Weekly regularly presents in the "Ladies' Work Box," plain and sensible suggestions regarding the making of garments and the choice of materials. This department is invaluable to every frugal housewife.

The New York Weekly also publishes Domestic Receipts, tested and approved by experts.

The New York Weekly, each week, presents a number of fresh and space-filling humorous anecdotes, in the column of "Pleasant Paragraphs."

The New York Weekly is constantly presenting the works of new contributors.

Many persons take medicine for their ailments, and as soon as they feel better they disregard all directions and stop taking it. They try it again and again, and finally throw it aside as useless, when, had it been persevered in from the start, a permanent cure would have been effected. Now in taking PRICKLY ASH BITTERS for all complaints of the Stomach and Bowels, remember to give the medicine a chance, and don't expect one or two doses to cure you.
