A DUBBIN paper states that General Komaroff's grandmother was an Irish woman of the name of Macnamara.

A CURIOUS legal document, executed by Napoleon I., was sold at a public sale in France the other day for one thousand six hundred and fourteen francs.

KING HUMBERT and Queen Marguerite of Italy were received with extravagant demonstrations of affection by the Neapolitans upon a recent occasion.

DR. DOREMUS, is left-handed from the fact that he was born without a right hand. He makes twenty-five thousand dollars a year from chemical analysis, mostly of patent medicines.

The Michigan House of Representatives yesterday passed over Governor Alger's veto the bill allowing minority stockholders in joint stock companies representation on the Boards of Directors.

The lamp which General Sherman carried from the time he entered the army, in 1861, until he camped on the south bank of the Potomac, in 1865, is now preserved at the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O.

DR. HUNT, Secretary of the Board of Health of New Jersey, says that hog cholera cost the farmers of that State in 1884 two hundred thousand dollars, and the loss thus far this year is sixty thousand dollars.

It turns out that Harold B. Wallack, the youngest son of the well known actor, was secretly married in Philadelphia last November to Miss Madge D. Fling. The young couple have been forgiven in true theatrical style.

A TERRIBLE and deadly disease was reported prevailing in the Seward Valley, N. Y. It first attacked Samuel McRoberts, who died, and since then funerals have occurred daily. The throat first swells, the tongue is paralyzed, the patient can not eat, and he becomes double-sighted. No one had recovered from the disease. It was very contagious.

The preliminary motion of the Receiver of the Exchange National Bank before the United States Court to remove the trustees of Bain & Brothers, and appoint a receiver was denied at Norfolk, Va. Warrants of arrest were then sworn out by the United States bank examiners against John B. Whitehead, late President, James G. Bain, Vice-President, George M. Bain, Jr., Cashier, and A. T. K. Bain, Director. They gave bail.

PROF. C. V. RILEY, Entomologist of the Agricultural Department, says that this country will soon be visited by two great breeds of locusts of the seventeen and thirteen year varieties. This will be the first time in two hundred and twenty-one years that they have appeared in conjunction. They will not prove greatly destructive, and the injury they will inflict will probably be confined to fruit trees. The visitation will be prolonged until late in July.

The count of the money and securities in the United States Treasury has been completed. Everything was found in a satisfactory condition and the reports of ex-Treasurer Wyman were proved correct in every instance; even the alleged discrepancy of two cents reported in the count of the cash room was shown, on a recount, to be incorrect, the missing pennies having been found on the floor, where they had dropped during the count. The books and accounts of the Treasurer's office were yet to be verified.

A DISTINGUISHED physician says that he is disposed to exclude vegetables, with the exception of cereals and a little fruit, entirely from the dietary of nervous persons. Animal food is more nutritious to the nervous system and to the body generally than a vegetable diet. It has all the elements for the formation of the tissues of the body, and is easily digested. Man can exist on it in any climate. Of meats, beef is by far the best. Pork is good for nervous persons, but is not easily digested. It is a mistake about eating too much. The majority do not eat enough. Nervous dyspepsia comes from working too hard and not eating enough. When a man begins to suffer from overwork, he should eat plenty of good bread and butter, drink two quarts of milk a day and eat plenty of good meat. When such a person resorts to a vegetable diet, he grows weaker and loses his nerve power. Man was made to eat meat and he never will flourish on a vegetable diet.

The late Commodore Garrison was a man of Herculean build and many stories are told of his feats of strength in his younger days. An old friend of his says: "His presence was imposing, and he had a breadth of shoulder that was Herculean. I saw him once lift a barrel of flour, with a man on top of it, and then throw them both off a dock as easily as one would fling a terrier. The man had made a remark that the Commodore objected to, and without a word the Commodore threw him overboard. He wasn't called Commodore then—only Captain—and wherever Captain Garrison was he 'ruled the roost.' In the early days of '50 he was accorded with receiving a friend of his from twelve border Mexicans while in a saloon. He broke two of the men's necks by flinging them from him, and fractured another one's skull with a blow of his fist."

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS.

A BIG HAUL.

Poundmaker and his Indians captured a heavy freight wagon loaded with twelve miles of Battleford. The inhabitants of the latter place alarmed.

WINNEPEG, MAN., May 15.—A train with provisions, which left Swift Current a week ago, was attacked by Poundmaker and his Indians, and captured after a fight in which several were wounded and two killed. Thirty-one teams and twenty-one teamsters were captured. Ten teamsters escaped. The train was within thirteen miles of Battleford.

WINNEPEG, MAN., May 15.—Later dispatches say the train, which consisted of thirty-one transport wagons laden with supplies, ammunition, arms and clothing for the troops, under escort of ten mounted police, left Swift Current for Battleford last Friday. The road had been good and excellent progress was made. A point twelve miles from Battleford was being passed about nine o'clock yesterday morning, when suddenly a horde of Indians rushed out of the bush from all directions and seized the teamsters, of whom there was one to each wagon. Three or four savages attacked each teamster, and the latter were instantly overpowered. The mounted police offered desperate resistance, and for a time the exchange of firing was general. One mounted policeman, whose name is not learned, was killed, and several were wounded. The balance of the police and teamsters escaped and made all haste to Battleford, where an alarm was given. The troops at once sprang to arms, and a strong guard was placed about the town. The inhabitants were terribly alarmed, but the day wore away without any attack. Colonel Otter was making preparations to attack the Indians, but on second thought resolved to wait for reinforcements. There is no doubt about the band being Poundmaker's, because they are known to be in that vicinity. Terrible anxiety is felt in Winnipeg, as it was understood that the women and children were to come from Battleford for Winnipeg early yesterday morning.

A LONDON MOB.

Trafalgar Square, London, in Possession of a Bohemian Mob, Who Sing "Rule Britannia," and Indulge in Other Culpable Demonstrations.

LONDON, May 14.—A riot occurred this afternoon between a mob and the police for the possession of the Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square. About 10,000 persons had assembled in the Square to make a demonstration against the Government budget proposals to increase the duties on spirits and beer. The crowd was very unruly. The police found themselves unable to maintain order. The pressure on the speakers compelled them to mount the pedestal of the Nelson Monument. When from this eminence the speeches were resumed, they were rendered inaudible by the uproar among the crowd. The police intervened to secure silence for the orators, and then a struggle ensued between the mob and the police for possession of the monument. The row lasted nearly an hour, and the promoters of the meeting and the police were compelled to retire, leaving the Nelson monument in triumph.

REBELS IN TEXAS.

Soon after the mob had compelled the speakers to leave, it surged down to the front of the National Club, which faces Trafalgar Square, W. C. Every person noticed entering or leaving the club building was mobbed. The attitude of the crowd was menacing, and the club doors were closed, and a messenger was dispatched to Scotland Yard for additional police. At nine o'clock last night the rioters were still in full possession of Trafalgar Square and Northumberland street. The police were also captured by a mob of several thousand. The police by this time had been largely reinforced, had charged a number of times upon the mob and had made several arrests.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

The President of Honduras interviewed Relative to the Late War and the Present Status of Affairs—The United States Looked To for Central American Development—Reciprocity Wanted.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., May 15.—The Times-Democrat publishes an interview with President Bogran of Honduras relative to the late war and present status of affairs in Central America. Bogran says there are three parties there, the Nationals, who favor unification of the five States; the Conservatives, who oppose it, and those who are here to the several governments with no opinion at all on the question of the Union. Himself, Barrios and Zaldivar, of Salvador, made a compact to reconstruct the five States into one republic, which failed through the treachery of Zaldivar, as is already known, and resulted in a declaration of war against the latter by Barrios.

With the death of Barrios fell all hopes of Central American patriots in Honduras. Barrios was actuated in the movement by a patriotic sentiment of restoring the old republic of 1824, and not through ambition of becoming dictator of the united country. His patriotism was sincere, and he had no hope of becoming President of the Union.

Regarding Admiral Joutel's statement Mr. Bogran said Barrios was too much of an American to seek European allies. The only foreign nation whose friendship he desired was the United States. He was a friend of the Nicaragua Canal, and regarded America as a generous nation whom the smaller States need not fear. Bogran is looked to by the United States for the development of Central America, and would offer every inducement to its citizens in the way of grants. Honduras desired to close a reciprocity treaty with the United States.

PERILOUS NAVIGATION.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 15.—The British steamship Clifton arrived at this port yesterday in a damaged condition. The vessel had two of her forward plates broken and another near the engine room stove in, and her forward compartment was filled with water. Captain Mace stated that when off the banks of Newfoundland 47 west, he encountered heavy fogs of fogging ice, which caused the damage, and that for three days the steamer was beset by large fields of ice and many icebergs.

THE CRISIS AT.

LONDON, May 15.—The evidences of wide differences of opinion among the members of the Cabinet in regard to the crises act are becoming more apparent. Mr. Gladstone, Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Chamberlain favor a total repeal of the measure, while Sir Vernon Harcourt, Lord Hartington and Lord Rosebery wish it retained in its entirety. Earl Spencer, it is said, threatened to resign unless the act should be renewed, and the compromise effected at the meeting of the Cabinet Wednesday evening by striking out the most stringent clauses of the measure, is looked upon as a doubtful prospect.
