we crossed the Arctic circle until we returned, making a day of 192 hours but the weather was so stormy making it so cloudy that we had but two mid-night suns. It was very cold, for 700 miles the mountains were covered with snow. Valleys are fertile. All the cattle look well and comfortable. The pine is spruce and fir, very little spruce 40 to the top. Tomorrow we expect to start for St. Petersburg etc. Enclosed I send a picture of national holiday costumes in their national streets. Your affectionate brother, Geo. W. Row.

JUDSON. Threshing and fall plowing is the order of the day. Joe Moler has built a new frame house which very much improves the looks of his place. A splendid rain on Monday night, 3 in 10 bushels to the acre, winter 15 to 20 bushels. A. Beifich finished cutting Monday. T. Ryan has 100-head of logs that weigh 300 on an average.

The Estey Sewing Machine the best in the world for sale by F. V. Taylor. Horse and Cow Stories. The Easton (Md.) Ledger tells the following: "A gentleman in St. Michaels recently swung a hammock in his back-yard, in which he solaced himself when off duty from his regular employment. His neighbors said he was so fond of his hammock that he could spend his Sundays in it, instead of attending church, as had been his wont before he got the hammock. But Sunday morning recently a surprise awaited him. He allowed his horse to graze in the back yard, and the day in question, when after breakfast he prepared himself for a loll in the hammock, he found his horse had gotten into it, and was quietly resting therein. He had to cut the hammock down to get the horse out. A gentleman from the country reported in the Ledger office recently that, as he came to town, he saw along the road a cow up a cherry-tree, grazing on the fruit and foliage. Several cows were ranging in a very barren pasture. The cherry-tree was by the side of a high ditch bank. One of the cows had climbed from the ditch bank into the cherry-tree, and when the narrator saw her she was half hidden among the branches."

The Dames do not propose to have any decorations in their better supply. A law enacted in Denmark last year compelled all men and officers of honor to be decorated. The law was so strict that it was necessary to have a law to be enacted to allow a man to be exempted from the law.
