

The Congressional Committee of the Second District Meet. Convention to be held at Hastings Sept. 22.

The republican electors of the Second Congressional District of the state of Nebraska are invited to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention at Hastings, Wednesday, September 22nd, 1886 at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of nominating one candidate for congress, and the transaction of such other business as may properly be presented to the convention.

It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention except such as are held by persons residing in the counties from which proxies are given.

H. BOSTWICK, Chairman. W. E. STARR, Secretary. Hastings, Neb., August 18, 1886.

The Congressional convention will be held at Hastings September 22.

GENERAL THAYER, of Grand Island, would receive the votes of this district for governor. The General would honor to the state in the gubernatorial office.

Just who will be nominated for the Republican ticket for congressman in the 2nd district is hard to foreshadow but the movement of the press in the district shows up decidedly in favor of Hon. James Laird.

THE CHIEF can not see the reason why Hon. James S. Gilham is not as an available candidate for congressman as there is in the second district. He is every way qualified for the position and THE CHIEF would be pleased to see him receive the nomination for congressman.

We understand that the nomination for congressman has been offered to Hon. W. A. McKeighan, of this city. Personally THE CHIEF has not a word to say against the Judge, and feel sure that if he was nominated and elected by the "great untrified" of the second district that he would make a faithful and zealous officer, but unfortunately the Judge is on the wrong side of the house, politically.

The prohibitionists in a somewhat lengthy platform recently adopted at their convention in Omaha, profess many things. They are opposed to monopolies, in favor of woman suffrage, in favor of granting pensions to soldiers, acknowledge God as the sovereign of mankind, are in favor of enforcing the Sabbath laws on our statute book, are in favor of statutory prohibition, are in favor of the repeal of the statute which allows foreigners to vote who are not full and complete citizens of the United States, are opposed to convict labor, etc., etc., and that but not least give our railway commission a parting kick in the following language:

We condemn the Republican and Democratic parties for fostering upon the people of Nebraska a selfish and exclusive railway commission, in utter disregard and in contempt for the wishes of the people, as expressed by their ballots at the general election of 1884.

AFTER you get upon your car and make up your mind to stop your paper to make the editor humiliated just poke your finger in water and pull it out and look for the hole, then you will know how sadly you have missed it. The man who thinks a paper can not survive without his support ought to go off and stay awhile. When he comes back he will find that half of his friends didn't know that he was gone. The other half didn't care a cent and the world at large hadn't kept any account of his movements whatever. You will probably find some things in your home paper you can not endorse. Even the Bible is rather plain and hits some hard licks. If you were to get mad burn the Bible hundreds of presses would go right on printing them, and it you were to stop your paper and call the editor all sorts of ugly names, the paper would still be published, and what is more you will sneak around borrow a copy of it every day from your neighbor. It is much better to keep your vest pulled down and your subscription paid up.—EX.

Who Said So? (Continued.) The republican press in general are much agitated over the fact that in almost every state the prohibitionists are organizing themselves into a third party. When Blaine was defeated it was the third party's fault. If such be the case the republicans themselves are to blame. The prohibitionists tried in vain for several years to get one of the two leading political parties to incorporate a prohibition plank in their platform, and failing in that they commenced organizing themselves into a party, adopting a platform and sending their orators into every state in the Union. It serves the republicans perfectly right for not until they could see their own interests menaced by the encroachments of a third party did they take as a party advocate prohibition principles, and if they yet unite as one in the name of temperance, they would have no occasion to try and hood down a third party. Let the republicans do what is right in this matter and they will have no occasion to waste words on St. John and his followers.

A REPUBLICAN. A FESTIVAL and fancy fair under the superintendence of the Cowles ladies aid society of the Congregational church will be held at that church on Thursday, September 16, commencing at 6 p. m. All friends and well wishers of the church and society are cordially invited. Come early, and aid your society the ladies' aid society. Mrs. W. D. PAOR, Sec'y.

What Will You Do When You Go to the City? Ma. HERRON. Let me give you a true story of a local event which your reporter did not get out. Last evening there arrived on an evening train a young man of respectable appearance. He meets an acquaintance of like respectability and they adjourn to the saloon for a social glass. Result: About two o'clock a. m. a woman and children sleeping in their home in the city limits are awakened and terrified by a noisy stack on the door. Not getting any response he goes to another part of the house and attracts the attention of the husband and frightens a sick child whom the father is caring for. Citizen: "What's wanted?" Stranger: "Let me in, I'm freezing." C: "We can't, the folks are sick." S: "Let me in. I'm wet, the night is cold and rainy." C: "Go down town," etc. A long dialogue, threats, etc; the frightened wife hides the light so that family may not be shot. More pounding at the door, then an interval of silence. The stranger has found a partly open window; he reaches in, undoes the fastening, raises the window, enters, and when the citizen takes a light and goes to his back room he finds the stranger hatless and coatless, removing his remaining clothing preparatory to retiring on his couch on a miscellaneous collection of boards, tubs, dirty clothes, etc. He is nearly famished, is taken to the fire, fed, warmed, and put to bed. He remembers going to the saloon. There he theoretically read over the door the following: "To all whom it may concern: Know ye that we, the people of Red Cloud, being willing that the freedom of our citizens shall not be interfered with, do hereby through our mayor and council certify that the proprietor hereof is a man of good moral character, and that said proprietor having paid into the school fund the sum of $1000 with intent to make our children wise, is hereby authorized and empowered to furnish all who come with liberty and means to make fools of themselves." The stranger relying on the certified respectability of the place indulges in the protected liberty to put himself into a state to annoy anybody who is foolish enough to try and run a home without a certificate of good character. The next thing he knows he is trying to "fix up the covers" and finds himself on the ground in the cold rain and darkness. Next he is making his bed on the wash board and coal pile. Moral—What will not a man pay for liberty? XXX.
