Mr. Johnson the proprietor, aims to please his patrons, and generally succeeds, as he done here. It is strictly first-class, carrying with them such talent as the Melville Bros., who are simply im-mense. Mrs. Johnson and her two The Signal is well prepared to print a delinquent tax list in a creditable mandaughters, Ella and Edna, aged 9 and 13 years take a very interesting part in the entertainment so also the Lewis Bros., who are hard to beat in their specialties. Mr. Cullins, the clown and his team of goats are a big card. J. B. Lehan, the negro commedian, took the cake in his original songs, dancing and funny sayings. Mr. Johnson carries no side show. neither does he allow gamblers and fakirs to ac-company him. He aims to have nothing that would cast odium on himself or people who are with him. He has a good show, and worthy of patronage.
