Geo. Barker Wanted.

Mr. Editor: We wish to call the attention of the nominating committee of the republican and prohibition parties of Webster county to the fact that we would like to have Geo. Barker nominated to the office of county attorney. We believe Mr. Barker well qualified to fill the office, being a thorough lawyer and a steady, honorable young man. Being a true and tried temperance man he would receive the temperance vote, and being the son of a fallen comrade he would receive the soldier vote. Having been a resident and taxpayer of Webster county for the past eight years he is no stranger among us. By order of the nominating committee, W. C. T. U.

STILL THEY COME.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our thousands of readers to the new advertisement of Messrs Goldman & Waugh, a new firm that is opening up in Morhart & Fulton's old hardware store one of the largest stocks of general merchandise that has ever come to the city. They have remodelled the interior of the store, shelved it on both sides and up and down the center, and propose to do business in Red Cloud if selling goods low will do it. Their stock embraces boots and shoes, dry goods, clothing, etc., and they are informed as to that they propose to sell them at all hazards. The gentlemen to our patronage, as both are entitled to a dot and full of vim and vigor. As soon as Mr. Moon's store is ready for occupancy they will open about Saturday morning.

A. S. WATSON, a prominent gentleman of West Liberty, Iowa, and an old friend of W. W. Gardner, was in our city this week and has decided to locate in Red Cloud, with a fine stock of imported stallions. Mr. Watson, as will be seen by comments from West Liberty papers, comes to Red Cloud highly recommended as a breeder of fine stock, and just such an institution what is needed in Webster county. He is also a breeder of fine blooded dogs, and will engage in both branches of the business.

We take pleasure this week in calling the attention of our many readers to the advertisement and incorporation of the South-Western Investment Company, of Red Cloud, with a capital stock of $50,000. This institution, we are glad to say, starts out with every evidence of prosperity. They have secured an abundance of money to loan, from eastern parties, who have connected themselves indirectly with the company, and from this on persons who are desirous of making farm loans, or loans on city property, can be accommodated at honest rates of interest and on easy terms. The officers of the company so far are F. A. Sweeney, President; P. A. Wells, Secretary; and J. R. Willcox, Treasurer. The office of the company will be at present in the law office of Willcox & Sweeney in Opera House block. THE CHIEF wishes the new organization success and prosperity. Agents will be established in all of the principal towns in South-western Nebraska as soon as possible. This institution adds another spoke to Red Cloud's wheel of prosperity.

We see among the names mentioned as likely to be before the republican county convention for the nomination to the office of representative, that of Mr. I. B. Hampton the present member of the county board from this precinct. This will be news to many of his friends even in the vicinity of his home as he is not much given to office seeking, but he will get their unanimous support just the same. For the information of newcomers to the county we may say that Mr. H. is a farmer of this precinct, and one of the most intelligent and prosperous of that intelligent class of our citizens. He has been long identified with the interests of our county, both as a private citizen and in an official capacity, and always with credit to himself and to his constituents. Guide Rock precinct can do herself no greater honor than by sending a solid delegation for Mr. Hampton to the county convention. The choice of the banner republican precinct will receive due consideration at the hands of the convention.—Guide Rock Signal.

W. C. T. U.

It was our privilege, in company with five others, to attend the W. C. T. U. convention held at Blue Hill August 11. We were met at the depot by a delegation of ladies and taken directly to the Presbyterian church where the convention was held, afterwards assigned places and most hospitably entertained by the citizens. Mrs. Wm. Gates resigned her office of county president on account of her removal from Red Cloud, and Mrs. Brakfield was elected to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Alden was appointed county organizer in place of Mrs. Brakfield. Miss Manroe, of Wells, was elected treasurer. There were five delegates from the union at Wells, the same number from Stillwater, four from Blue Hill, and four from Red Cloud. At the morning session we had the address of welcome by Mrs. Manroe, of Blue Hill, and the response by Mrs. Maryatt, of Red Cloud, and a short but spirited talk from Brother Barnes, of this place, who accompanied us. At the afternoon session we had reports from the superintendents of the different departments, an interesting essay upon hygiene, by Mrs. Dr. Munroe, of Wells, short speeches from Elder Barnes, Dr. Watkins and others. Mrs. Cooley, of Lincoln, State organizer, was present and gave us an entertaining and instructive talk upon methods of work in the union. She gave a most excellent address in the evening. Everything passed off most harmoniously, and we came home with our hearts cheered and encouraged in the good work for "God, Home and Native Land." AN ATTENDANT.
