Geo. Holland has been appointed by the district court as receiver of the Red Cloud street railway company. We suppose now that the company will be compelled to go through considerable litigation. It certainly can be made to pay if properly managed.

An old gag revived is to claim that certain articles in the clothing line are made for Mr. so and so and for some reason did not call for them and will sell them to YOU at reduced prices. All our suits and our coats are specially made for the man that buys them. We might tell you that the Prince of Wales or Mr. Harrison, the next president to be ordered a suit of us, but did not fit him, this would be an untruth. We simply tell you we will sell you the suit at such and such a price and you may rest assured it will be at the bottom price. C. WIENER.

The Electric Light company have commenced the erection of a brick building for their new electric light plant. They will have the new building large enough to enclose the two dynamos, engine and machinery generally. The work will be commenced at once putting in the new lines, lights, etc.

The teachers meeting of last Friday night, presided over by Prof. Curran, was a grand success and will redound to the credit of the professor as well as being of much benefit to the patrons and pupils. The hints dropped by the professor on this occasion were timely and if followed out will aid the school in doing better work during the term. Speeches made by Prof. Funk and Hon. A. J. Kenney. Both gentlemen alluded to school matters in a way that showed their familiarity with school subjects. The meeting was a success.

John H. Brown, aged 18, and Miss Minnie McClaren, aged 15, both of Blue Hill, whose hearts would beat as one were it not for the interposition of the law made and provided, applied to His Honor, the County Judge for the little piece of paper that would make them happy, on last Thursday. The Judge arose from off the judicial pinnacle and in a solemn voice, remarked "While I am willing the edicts of our late lamented legislative body must be maintained, therefore, go thou back to thy home and await a more convenient season, or in other phrasingology, the time has not arrived." The young man turned sorrowfully away, and will anxiously long for the time when his sweetheart will become sweet sixteen, as the law strictly forbids the marriage, with or without the consent, of a girl under 16 years.

changed Hounds.

The Red Cloud Helmet has been sold to G. M. Plumb, of the Cowles Herald. The Herald will be consolidated with the Helmet and be run in this city in the place now occupied by the last named organ. Mr. Plumb takes charge on the 30th of November at which time Mr. T. J. Aard retired after a short record in the newspaper business during which time he has shown good ability in the management and control of the Helmet and THE CITY will be sorry to have him retire from the newspaper world. The political complexion of the Helmet will be prohibition on and after the 30th. The new editor will move his Cowles office to Red Cloud in a few days.

Orange Showings.

On the evening of the 15th inst. at the residence of G. R. Chaney of this city, was solemnized one of the most quiet, yet notable marriages that ever occurred in this city. The high contracting parties being Hon. J. M. Chaffin, of Guide Rock, one of Webster county's prominent lawyers, and Mrs. Anna J. Banks, of Cleveland, Ohio, a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families of Cuyahoga county. The parties were both born in Ohio and were old acquaintances, and have been engaged for two years. One year ago Mr. C. went to Cleveland intending to bring his bride home with him, but was prevented by the sad and serious illness of her aged mother. Mrs. C. had been visiting a brother at Aurora, Iowa, and was on her way to Kansas City to visit a sister there, and stopped off intending that Mr. C. should accompany her there, but he induced her to postpone that visit, so they came up here and were quietly married, Judge Trunkley officiating.

We know of some traveling whys worthy of patronage. Among them is Dr. P. Janes, president of our Medical and Surgical Institute. Success in his specialty in treating chronic diseases here, as well as all over the state, giving him an enviable reputation. The doctor began practicing in Hall county twelve years ago, at that time a graduate of two of the best universities with clinical advantages at Berlin, Vienna, and Kiel, and most of the European universities. By his energy he has succeeded not only in his profession, but financially as well, and is at present the owner of 2,000 acres of land and eight houses in Hall county, besides a stock of drugs valued at $12,000. In his work he is associated with a staff of able specialists. Dr. Janes is in every regard honest and reliable, and we heartily recommend him in the treatment of chronic affections. Patients who trust their cases to Dr. Janes can rest assured that they will be treated in the most skillful and careful manner. Closing we will say the Dr. has at his command the finest and largest lot of instruments in the state.—Grand Island Herald.

Letters remaining in the postoffice at Red Cloud, Webster county, Nebraska, for the week ending, Oct. 15th, 1888.

DEPARTING PROCEEDINGS.

Red Cloud, Oct. 11th, 1888.

The board of supervisors of Webster county, Nebraska, met in special session according to a call signed by the following members: Garber, Hummell, Noble, Berg, Kaley and Irons, for the purpose of considering the claim of R. S. Prouditt for repaving the Guide Rock bridge.

The board was called to order by the chairman. The following members were present: Burrows, Oct. Thomas, Hummell, Berg, Kaley, Garber, Frank, Fassler, Noble, Irons and Cather.

The bridge committee made the following report to wit:

Red Cloud, Oct. 11th, 1888.

We, the bridge committee long leave to report to your honorable body that we had an examination of the Guide Rock bridge across the Republican river, three spans repaired and constructed by R. S. Prouditt in its own opinion according to draft and specifications as near as practicable but we find that the specifications are very imperfect and consequently not what your committee would recommend as a good substantial bridge.

A. H. KALEY, Chm.
MARR NOBLE,
W. IRONS,
I. B. THOMAS,
J. L. FRANK

On motion the above report was received.

Yes. Burrows, Thomas, Hummell, Kaley, Frank, Fassler, Noble and Irons.

Nays. Cox, Berg, Garber and Cather.

On motion the claim of R. S. Prouditt for $500 for repaving the Guide Rock bridge was allowed and warrant ordered drawn on the bridge levy of 1887, the vote standing as follows:

Yes. Burrows, Thomas, Hummell, Kaley, Frank, Fassler, Noble and Irons.

Nays. Cox, Berg, Garber and Cather.

High School Items.

We had a very pleasant call from Mr. Knickerbocker on Monday.

We have four new pupils in school this week which increases our enrollment to ninety six.

Miss Goble has kindly rendered her services as organist for the past week. She was preceded by Miss Talley.

Miss Lona Bellows has returned from her eastern trip and entered school in the presence of her former substitute.

One generous student named Prady, recently purchased a philosophical apparatus for experimenting. We wish to return thanks for the same.

The long delayed drawing paper has arrived at last and the drawing class is making the desired progress under the able supervision of Miss Hartbert.

Mrs. M. R. McMillan visited our school Thursday. We wish more of the parents would do likewise, and would if they knew what an encouragement their calls are to both teachers and pupils.

Mr. R. B. Fulton, agent for Edgell's Universal Runners and Patent Tires, is hoping to induce the school board to take a set of bicycles for us. They would be of great value to us as books of reference and otherwise.

Messrs. Funk and Kenney favored us with remarks upon the Herbartian method of teaching arithmetic and compared it to that of Henry Ford's "New Ag". The meeting closed with a song by the school.

The one designed to sustain the philosophical apparatus is already quite well filled with the geological specimens. Many of them were furnished by Prof. Curran. We have also a few specimens in alcohol, and will thankfully receive many more.

The program has been so changed that the primary Latin class have an hour for recitation. There are some thirty five pupils in the class and they intend to do good work, this year by maintaining their industry with the thorough instruction of Prof. Curran.

Our Friday afternoon exercises were a great success notwithstanding there was a large number of absences.

Prof. Curran favored us by reading "The General's Wife," which Miss Knapp and Marsh sang. "The Light House" nicely. Messrs. Young, Marsh and Funk were present during the exercises.

The Public Teachers meeting was very largely attended and we desire to thank our parents and friends for the interest they displayed in the meeting, especially with singing by the school. Then Miss Hartbert commanded her class in arithmetic. The pupils, although slightly nervous, did well and displayed their teachers careful and commendable mode of teaching.

After the session Prof. Curran addressed the parents, and his remarks should be an incentive to the citizens of the city to manifest a greater interest in the school.
