A Kansas man was in the city Monday night and while freely imbibing, got into trouble with a Nebraska man and got badly used up.

On Monday night the fire department was called out to extinguish a brush heap in the south part of the city that was getting quite dangerous. The work was quickly done and the boys deserve credit for their prompt response.

Down at Guide Rock the other night Ed Orme and Nate Doudna, while celebrating Harrison's election, got to fooling with a revolver, when it exploded, the charge taking effect in Doudna's shoulder making a slight flesh wound. Neither of them are blamed for the accident.

Mr. Pery's little boy was run over by a buggy Monday night and slightly injured. We might just add by way of a gentle reminder that it is almost impossible to drive anywhere in the city without running over children, they have become so careless about playing in the street of late.

Mr. Charley Lewis lying in the vicinity of Amboy, came to Red Cloud on Tuesday to sell a calf. He hitched his team in front of Lindsey's meat market and went into the shop and while there the calf scared the team which started to run. Mr. Lewis observing them jumped into the rear of the wagon, and just as the team turned Miner's corner the wagon was overturned throwing him out and nearly killing him it was thought; but we have since learned that he did not get dangerously injured, only a few bruises about the head. He was taken home where he will recover in a few days. Dr. Denney dressed his wounds.

Those of our readers interested in draft and driving horses should not fail to send for a catalogue to Fry & Fahrback, of York, Neb., containing the names, pedigrees and description of horses both draft and roadsters included in their grand dispersion sale to be held at York, Neb., Nov. 27th, 1888, and those intending to purchase first-class horses will find it to their advantage to attend this sale. The offering includes draft stallions of the Percherons, Clydesdale, English shire and French Canadian breeds. These animals are not only of good pedigree but of excellent individual merit. Among the roadster horses is the Hambletonian stallion Holiday, record 2:40. There are a large number of well bred brood mares and fillies sired by noted horses and many of great promise. There will also be included some well matched and well broken fancy driving teams, that will be sold singly or in pairs. No better opportunity has ever been offered in Nebraska to obtain first class horses. Read their advertisement on the fourth page.

Notice to Water Consumers.

You are hereby notified that if you do not come forth and pay your water rents by the 15th of November, the water supply will be shut off. Bear this in mind. L. H. FOX, Commissioner.

FINALE

THE TRIUMPHANT MARCH OF RED CLOUD REPUBLICANS MONDAY NIGHT.

In Honor of Harrison and Morton's Election

While the Democratic Hagger, Hagger L. has wanted the Aperture in the North to Hide.

"After death cometh peace," thus it was with the great democratic party. After the smoke of battle had cleared away the democratic dead were to be found all along the line from the Atlantic to the Pacific and it was with much consolation that republicans gazed upon their inanimate forms as they lay beneath the moldering ruins of political defeat. The boys waited with infinite joy the time when a due celebration of the great victory could be worked in safely. Finally the hour came and "There was a sound of revelry by night, And Belgium's capital had gathered there.

Her beauty and her chivalry and bright, The lamps show o'er fair women and brave men;

A thousand hearts beat happily; and when Music arose with voluptions sweet!"

The enthusiasm became intense. A few minutes later the vast column was moving up north Cedar street, and with one wild hurrah for Harrison and Morton, it seemed as if the dogs of war had been loosed from the way the Roman candles and sky rockets, went whizzing into the airy waste. The column started from the court house and moved to 9th avenue, thence east to east street, back to Webster street and through all the principal streets of the city. During the entire march the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The column was nearly a mile in length and was composed of cavalry, ice cabin, white house and many comic designs in banners, male and female singers. Occasionally the tolling of a bell could be heard as the crowd wended their way through the various thoroughfares of the city. This denoted Grover's death, and just in front of the bell could be seen a hearse properly draped, but the most comical sight was that of Jeff Ward wheeling Joe Garber on a wheelbarrow. "Jeff was dressed in a typical western suit of buckskin. About fifty or seventy-five houses were decorated in magnificent style and as the boys came near one of these three cheers were for president-elect Harrison. It was a proper ending of a great campaign by a party with victory perched upon its banners.

Old Settlers Meeting. Red Cloud, Nov. 13, 1888.

A STORY OF REAL LIFE.

New and Advanced Ideas Crowding out the old—Cash instead of Credit. Flush instead of Lull. A Revolution of Business Principles that will crush into Oblivion those Hoop-shine Merchants that purchase their goods on Long Time and sell at Tremendous Long Time Prices.

These are the words of a man who, as a merchant, experienced every vicissitude of commercial life—a man who raised high and beautiful the magnificent temple of LORRY PARKER, and built an enviable reputation on the rotten pillars of LONG TIME and ENORMOUS PROFITS. He reaped the whirlwind. The crash came, and no man ever drank deeper the bitter drops of wrecked hopes, lost credit, and disappointed ambition. With not a penny in his pocket he wandered a homeless refugee of regrets, debts and disappointments, until the Irish blood that knew no defeat, spurred him on to NEW ERRORS on New principles, and today he reigns the Cash King of Broadway, New York, ruling under the red flag, that dares and defies competition. WE CONFESS OURSELVES HIS DISCIPLE. We adopt the "cash before delivery" system, both in buying and selling. No more long time buying and big profits—we do not propose to sell only as cheap as others, or to meet the prices of competitors; such we would deem but small result and pauper pay for the untiring, ceaseless and sleepless effort, and constant thought and study that we will devote to our business—not to meet but to defeat competition is our effort, not to sell but to undersell is our aim and ambition.

We have established relations with a New York House and our buyer is instructed to watch every sale and every failure; to look after every house on the verge of bankruptcy and to buy first-class goods, but always at Less than its Value.

We will carry a full stock of Notions and small wares usually kept in a dry goods store. Just the class of goods that merchants make their money on. We will receive goods almost every day. New arrivals at panic prices. We will place our price close to cost, marked in plain figures, and every price is a paralyser of competition. Consult your interest, use your judgment and invest your money where it will do the most good. Do not be a blind slave to old terms, old places and old prices, but think, look and act for yourself.

We ask your patronage for the best reason on earth, simply, we will save you twenty-five cents on every dollar's worth of goods we sell. Our place of business is one door north of Miser's grocery store in Moon's brick block, and our stock will arrive about the 20th of November.

Brief Account of November Association.

The Webster County's Teacher's Association met at Red Cloud, Nov. 10th.

Session was opened with music and reading from the scriptures.

Prof. Curran then delivered a very interesting address, dwelling upon the importance and upon the ability of the teacher's mission.

The value of the teacher's association, interchange of thought, etc., was brought prominent before the teachers in the talk.

M. Scoles, teacher in district 69, treated the subject, "Short methods in Arithmetic" in an able manner. He gave illustrations of methods used by himself in teaching multiplication, factoring and common fractions. Great interest was manifested in this exercise. Misses Dorr, Fisher, Remsburg and Messrs Searley, Scoles and Curran, taking part in the discussion. The other parties on the program being absent, it was decided that the association adjourn to meet in Red Cloud, the second Saturday in December, at 10 o'clock a. m.

A very interesting program has been prepared: Two class drills will be an important feature of the day. These drills and the discussions following them cannot fail to be interesting and profitable. It is hoped that each teacher in the county will make an effort to be present at this meeting.

Great Stanghurst on Sale. Commencing Monday, November 19th, 1888, consisting of Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Cloaks, Shawls, Notions, etc. Immense bargains in everything.
