TERRIBLE CALAMITY

Frightful Coal Mine Explosion at Pittsburgh, Kan.

Nearly Two Hundred Men Entombed With But Little Hope of Rescue - Frantic Women and Children Vainly Secting for Lost Ones.

PITTSBURGH, Kan., Nov. 10 -At 5:15 o'clock last evening an explosion awful in the horror of its results, occurred at the Cherokee and Pittsburgh Company's coal shaft No. 2 at Frontenac, three miles north of this city, and the report was distinctly heard here. The working level of the shaft is sixty-five feet below the surface and at the time of the explosion 164 men were down in the awful traps of death. A few minutes later one man escaped by the air shaft and since then twenty-four have reached the surface by the same means.

There can be little doubt that the remainder have perished, as the main entrance to the shaft is piled full of debris and dead mules, and those escaping report crawling over dead men at every step in the depths below. At least two thousand excited men, women and children are gathered round the mouth of the shaft and the cries of those whose husbands or fathers are known to be below are heartrending. Men are driven to desperation by pitiful appeals from weeping women and girls to get "the boys out before they all die."

Entrance to the mine is being achieved as fast as within buman power, but the main entrance is absolutely blocked and imminent danger attends every attempt by the air shaft. Among the anxioucrowds at the mouth of the shaft are crowded every doctor from this city and many from Girard, Litchfield and other places in the county. Snow and rain have teen falling since the accident and the shivering crowd of half-dressed women plending for some one to give them tiding-E. C. Cushing, D.; William Neve, D.; F. R. of loved ones it pititul.

The cause of the explosion can not be now determined. A blast had just been put in and a good deal of powder is known to have been in the mine, but whether this or a fiame from the lamos ignited toe gaand did the deadly work no one yet knows. No such horror has ever shocked the twople of Southern Kansas and a thorough explanation of it will be demanded. At least 107 men are now lying dead in the Intel souft.

ACOTHER ACCOUNT.

Sr. Louis, Nov. 10,-A special from Pittsburgh, Kan., to the Republic gives the following account of the coal mine explosion there last evening: A territile explosion that broke windows in this little vit inge and spread consternation among its inhabitants occurred at dusk to-alcht The violence of the shock was so great as to hurl dishes from shelves and demolish chimneys. Half an hour after the explosion the villagers, who were preparing to go to the mines, were startled by a ragged, bleeding man who almost staggered into the arms of the searchers. He said that No. 2 shaft at Frontenac, a mining suburb of this village, had been destroyed by an explosion and that all the men in the mine at the time, except bimself and a base whom he left bleeding at the mouth of the pit, were undoubtedly dead. Horses were quickly harnessed to wagons and in a tew minutes the villagers were hurrying tarough a fierce snow and sleet storm which was raging. At the mouth of the mine the tremendous force of the explosion was apparent. There were huge seams in the earth, and the timbers of the hoisting apparatus were shivered and burned. Foul gases were escaping. The Dane who had escaped with the men who alarmed the villagers lay in the mud with his face covered with blood. For a long time it was thought he was dead, but he regained consciousness in a few hours and is now at his home. He can not speak and does not know what caused the explosion. His clothes were in ribbons. The man who reached this village with the first tidings of the disaster and who accompanied the rescuers back to the mine, said the men were about to quit work for the day when the explosion occurred. Together with the Dane he had ridden in the car to the top of the shaft when the earth seemed to snap beneath him and the nex; thing he realized was the splashing of the snow and water upon his face as he lay with his comrade in the wreckage above the mine. There were 160 men in the mine at the time of the explosion, and as they were at work 112 feet below the surface, it is believed that no one survived the shock, as the explosion must have destroyed very thing in the pit. Big fires were built near the month of the pit and beside these blazing piles the omen of the entombed miners placed their children, while they then selves tried by all means of entreaties to induce the miners from the other shafts to enter the pit and rescue their relatives. One rescuing party started down the shaft at seven o'clock, but was forced to turn back owing to the foul. air. Another attempt was made at n ne o'clock, but the plucky rescuers again were forced to aban lon their work. They could hear no sound from the chambers below, and this leads old miners to believe that all the men in the shaft inveperished. Other attempts will be made to reach the entombed men before maraing. Those who started down the shaft carix in the evening say that the shock has destroved whole dr fts and that it is possible that the men in the lower levels are buried beneath tons of slate. Back domp is supposed to have caused the explosion. Most of the miners at these shafts came originally from litinois and Pennsylvania ----

Governor Thayer Issues His Thanksgiving Proclamation.

On the 10th the Governor issued the following Thanksgiving proc amation: The Lord reigneth. Let the people rejoice and give thanks to the Supreme Ruler of the universe for his countless blessings

The people of Nebraska have most abundant reasons for heartfelt gratitude to Hum for His guardian care and keeping. They should eive praise: That He has blessed them with citizenship in this favored commonwealth; that He has conferred upon them the blessings of peace and social order: that He has rewarded the labors of the husbandmen with most bountiful harvests; that He has stayed pestilence from our borders; that he has conferred upon us general he ith and presperity; that all are permit ted to live under the benificent influences cf education and Christianity. Therefore, in acknowledgement of all these mercies, and in accordance with a most appropriate custom, I. John M. Thayer, Governor of the State of Nebraska, do hereby designate Thursday, the 29th day of the present month. as a day of thanksgiving and praise to our Heaveniv Father.

I respectfully urge that all the people of the State abstain from their usual avocations on that day and assemble in their accustomed places of Christian worship and give thanks to Him who has so bountifully blessed us with evidences of His goodness. And let not the poor be forgotten on this day of thanksgivings.

In witness whereof. I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Nebraska to be affixed.

I had only in (10 te beid in a förinight. in which to prepare for the Exam. I about recommend a pre's preparat on in the case of aryone as utterly only entred as I was, but your option had so strongilized my against sumary that I was able to remember and give the stat of any fool off r reading it asco. I therefore read Lightfoot, Proctor, Harold Browne Mosbein, &c. Ar. over, and was recentred in sever one of the size papers. The present Habop of Editburg knows the facts.
