The organizaion is really a camp of the Clan-na-Gael At one meeting of this literary see Coakey says Groain groated losman as an old comrade, as the meeting was held in M 8.84 March it would appear that the locman and Cronin were acquainted much earlier than the former will acknowledge. The coman admitted that he was a member of the literary society, but refused to say any thing further in that direction t was reported later that P. O. Sullivan.

the iceman, had been arrested. Peter McGeehan, of Philadelphia, was arrested at four e'clock yesterday morn-ing at McCoy's Hotel. McGeehan is charged with participating in the murder of Dr. Cronin and is being held at the Harrison street station separate from the other prisoners.

An extraordinary chain of circumstances was brought to light last evening Miss Murphy who declared she saw Dr. Cronin coming down town several hours after he left home never to return, is the daughter of a saloonkeeper in whose place an attempt was once made, it is said, to arrest Cronin for connection with an alleged woman scrape. She is also reported to be a relative of Detective Whalen, the partner of the suspected Officer Coughin, but this latter statement she denies.

The street car conductor Dwyer, who corroborated the story that Cronin was seen coming down town and presumably took a train cut of the city, is said to have since resigned and disappeared. An ex-street car man named Tieman, whose whereabouts could not be learned, had recently been in the employ of iceman P. O. Sullivan. It was one of the business cards of this iceman that played such a part in luring Cronin to death The man King, described by the prisoner Woodruff, alias Black, as the person who hired him to steal a horse out of Dean's barn the night of Dr. Cronin's disappearance, was captured at two o'clock yesterday morning in a house of ill-fame. The arrest was made by detectives from the Central station who acted under orders from Chief Hubbard. The capture was made with all possible secrecy, and King was taken to the Central station by a circuitous route. The officers walked beside bim in an easy and natural manner. and succeeded in getting him into the station without attracting any attention. In a number of particulars he answers the deecciption given of him by Woodruff.

When Woodruff, alias Black, first told his story he gave all the since oft-repeated particulars as to how he met King and was engaged by him to take part in the tragedy of the trunk. It is a mystery that King has not been arrested before, though at no time has he apparently manifested any desire to leave the city. The arrest has been k-pt secret, as it is desired to do their work at that time. The road offionfront Woodruff with King. brought face to face the men may indulge in mutual accusations that may be of value.

87. Louis, May 25.—The west bound train on the St. Louis & San Francisco-railroad, which left St. Louis Thursday night at 8:10 s'alsok, was wrecked three miles west of Bullivan, Ma, sixty-sight miles west of St. Louis. Not a passenger aped unhart and forty-five were seri-

The train was running at a high rate of ed when suddonly and without warnng the track gave way and the locome baggage car and five coaches went over the embanisment. The trainmen and those only slightly injured at ence set to work to prevent the additional herror of fire, in which they ded and turned their attenti the more unfertunate injured, and in a very short time forty-five passengers, all badly burt, had been released from the debris. A temporary hospital was im-provised at Sullivan and the most seriously injured were taken there, while others were brought to St. Louis on the relief train, which was hurried to the scene of the disaster. The women are under the care of Dr. McIntyre, chief surgeon of the

It was 11:25 p. m. when the accident occurred. The train was traveling at a high rate of speed and most of the passengers had already gone to sleep, while the few remaining awake were about to do so. There is a curve in the road about three miles west of Sullivan and when this curve was reached a sudden jolt and jar was felt all over the train. Everybody feit it and the people in the rear cars could hear the forward coaches rattling and rumbling over the ties and the crushing noises of cars being demolished. A creek is crossed by the road at that point and there is a steep embankment thirty feet high. Most of the passengers thought the train was going through a bridge and a feeling of horror chilled their blood.

In an instant all the coaches except the two sleeping cars had been thrown from the rails. People were thrown about in the cars in ail directions and some of them were thrown from the coaches and down the embankment. Walter Davidson, who travels for the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, was thrown right out of a window on the opposite side of the coach from which he was sitting and sent roiling down the embankment to the edge of the creek. His feet were in the water.

The explanation given by the trainmen and passengers was that the spikes and fish-plates had been removed from the rail at the curve thus leaving the rail oose on the ties. The forward portion of the locomotive passed the place all right, but the tender jumped the track and was thrown part of the way down an embankment. It would probably have gone the en-tire distance had not the forward end held it up. Who removed the spikes and plates is not known, but the supposition is the work was done by train robbers who wanted to hold up the train. Still no robbers put in an appearance, and if the accident was caused by them they must have either weakened in their purpose or have thrown the wrong train and were not prepared to cials claim it as a clear case of train wrecking. In the same train were several physicians returning from Springfield, where the State medical convention was being held, and they also rendered valuable asstance in caring for the injured. Among the latter was Dr. Russell, who received very serious hurts, having both ears taken off and being otherwise injured so badly that he could not be brought home and is now at Sullivan. The following is a list of the injured: D. & Weikert, Wentzville, Ma, both legs broken four inches above the ankle, may loss one of them; George 8. The Theatrical Manager Goes Down der a Burden of Debt.

NEW YORK, May 25-Edward E. Rice, the theatrical manager, who was formerly Adonis Dixey's pariner, has landed in the Ludlow street jail through financial difficulties. He says: "The bass of the tronble has been the Inter-State Commerce law. The heavy expenses for the transportation of baggage have absorbed all the profits of the enterprises I have been engaged in. Almost every manager in America has protested against the high rates. A meeting to discuss the sul ject has already been called for Ma-27, at the Madison Square Theater. Colo-nel Ingersoll and ex-Judg- Dittanboeffer have been engaged to look after the interests of the managers at Washington. 1 expect to give bail this afternoon. A. N. Palmer and T. H. French have volunteered to go on my boad."
