When a man gets so low as to cast reflections upon a man's children who he knows nothing of comparatively he is getting pretty small. We think that Bur. should apologize to Mr. Shields in this instance for the unmanly reference.

Jeff Ward, ex-editor of the Democrat and G. M. Plumb of the Helmet had a war of words one day this week on the street corner, and we are inclined to think the boys were a little hasty. However our fighting editor has gone into training, for fear he may be the next.

Our chattel mortgage friends who own the Big B concern will have to screw on another one or two per cent per month to make up their losses evidently having recently mortgaged the concern for $1800, besides blowing in about $2500 that was raised to buy the outfit originally. The long felt want has been filled we presume.

The Hastings Nebraskan speaks of Heine as the greatest violinist of the age. The concert will be given next Friday evening. He is supported by a fine company of artists, including a lady violinist, a prima donna, and Ada Thompson, one of England's finest pianists. $4500 is not a bad pile to put on the wrong side of the ledger, yet an unholy combine of this city have blowed themselves about that much to add to the experience side of running a newspaper. The way of the transgressor is hard, yes, very hard. How much nicer it would have been to have invested the above amount in a good creamery or something that would have done the city some good. Eh, Docky?

That "Fair-sized Audience." The daily Helmet of Monday last was slightly off when it said that there was "a fair-sized" audience" at the M. E. church last Sunday morning. The church was crowded, every seat filled, standing room at a premium, and many went away unable to even see on the inside of the building. "Fair-sized." I should say so.

Children's Day.

Children's day at the various churches in the city was well observed on last Sunday morning. The Methodist church was handsomely decorated, and the exercises were of a fair character. The Congregationalist church, as well as the Baptist church was elaborately decorated. Chairman Tomlinson reports every thing moving along nicely and thinks the largest crowd that ever assembled in Nebraska will be here. Our home team is making every effort to become efficient in all that goes to make up a good company, and will make it interesting for all who come. Let every encouragement be given to our fire boys, so that they will have as little to contend with as possible in making their arrangements for the entertainment of the state association.

The postmaster general makes the following suggestion to the public: Print your name and address on the left hand corner of all mail matter. This will insure its immediate return if improperly addressed or insufficiently paid, and if not called for at its destination it can be forwarded without going to the dead letter office." It is perhaps superfluous to state that this suggestion from such high authority should be heeded, and all know that this office excels in as such work and does it the cheapest.

A newspaper man in this state brought suit against forty-three men who would not pay their subscription and obtained judgment in every case for the amount of each claim. Of these, twenty-eight made out affidavit that they owned no more than the law allowed, thus preventing attachment. Then, under the decision of the supreme court, they were arrested for petit larceny and bound under sum of $3000, each. All but six gave bond, while six went to jail.

The Helmet talks about the commissioner system being much better than the supervisor system. We take it that Mr. Plumb is not posted. The facts are that nine cases out of every ten the supervisor system is far superior to the other system as it gives more equal representation to the county, and much less chance for jobbery. During the life of the commissioner system in Webster county a few precincts received all of the benefits accruing and others never did get an appropriation. The commissioner system is a fraud and imposition on the people where a fair representation is wanted. The supervisor system is a little more expensive, but preferable to the other.

MEMORIAL.

We are sad and lonely now. Since Bro. Charley passed away, He left this vale of tears, Just after break of day. In his sickness, what he suffered, There is no human tongue can tell, Until death at last released him, And took from those he loved so well. From our ranks we now will miss him, And our watchful tender care, We can never more caress him, Nor fill his vacant chair. I hope and pray that up in heaven, Dwelling with the God of love, We may join our brother Charley. In his peaceful home above. —Written by John Earner.

At the close of the final examination of the high school students for school year just closed a premium was awarded to the pupil of each division whose general average was highest in his class. The following are the names of the pupils to whom the premiums were awarded; also the division to which each belonged and the general average:

Willie Letson A division 98 1/2
Alex. Bentley B " 96 1/2
Donald Pope C " 88
Mabel Day D " 84

Without any desire to slight the last three mentioned I believe it my duty to make special mention of Willie Letson, whom I regard as a remarkable good student, one whom a faithful teacher cannot fail to appreciate highly. Willie seems to have a knowledge of the true value of an education, and works diligently to acquire it. He possesses more than average mental abilities, having keen analytic powers. To be brief, his school life promises a prosperous and happy mature age. Those pupils of the high room whose general average reached 80 per cent or above will have their names published next week.

JNO. F. CURRAN.

Taylor-Murray. On Wednesday Orange Taylor, clerk in E. McFarland's store, a well known and respected young man of this city was united in marriage to Miss Clara Murray, the estimable daughter of our friend Mr. J. Murray of the Fair store, the ceremony taking place at their residence, Rev. Taggart speaking the mystic words that made the happy couple one. The CHIEF bids the newly wedded couple a happy life. They were the recipients of numerous presents. After the ceremony had been performed the young folks were escorted to their new home on Seward street where they will reside in the future.

The daily at this writing, rises to remark that the present incumbent, E. C. Scott, will be Webster county's next sheriff. We are not turning republican, but we are conscious of the fact that Mr. Scott has served and will serve his constituency ably and well. We bow our editorial cap for E. C. Scott.—Leader.

A Philadelphian's arrest has furnished another link in the chain of circumstances tending to prove who were the murderers of Dr. Cronin.
