EDITORIAL NO. 10.
Anent the political situation in Webster county the Signal a few weeks ago advanced the idea that the large majority of the people of the county—the farmers and the business men generally—outside of a few professional politicians would be pleased to see all the present county officers return to their present positions for another term. We are strengthened in that opinion by many things we have seen and heard since, but it is just as well that the people should be informed of the fact that there is a good deal of hard work being quietly done by the "outs" who would like to be in to counteract that rapidly growing sentiment. Particularly should this be known and understood in this part of the county, for as usual our representative come in for a full share of this opposition from the source mentioned. It is well known to those conversant with the affairs of the county, that in the election of Mr. Bailey to the important office he now holds this part of the county receives its first and we believe its only prominent recognition in the distribution of the county offices, and if the importance of the office had not been underestimated at the time we would not have received that recognition. A pretty strong effort was made to wrest it away from us two years ago, but the office had been so well filled and the work so satisfactorily performed that the rank and file of the party not only here at home but all over the county, and particularly in the rural districts could not see the slightest reason for a change and when the time came for the convention Mr. Bailey went in virtually without opposition. Heretofore Mr. Bailey has been put forward more particularly as a Guide Rock man, but his ability and his strict attention to the duties of his office have obtained for him a just recognition all over the county and he will enter the coming campaign more as a candidate of the people without regard to sectional division, but all the same he will find his home precinct backing him up with her old time unanimity.—Guide Rock Signal.
