REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphate, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVY, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. HENRY W. MOORE, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1874; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country. No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

Note—The above Diagram illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Scheller. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Scheller only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair-minded person of these facts.

While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

It Caused Excitement.

The following epistle received by the sheriff on Tuesday morning caused quite a commotion in this city. The note was addressed to Sheriff Scott and started out with the exclamation:

"HORROR OF HORRORS. We have just discovered near Burtis' house in the weeds, three dead bodies, apparently mother and three children. Some one at Burtis' house or barn will show you the place.

In haste,
LUTZ & PATNOR."

July 2, 8:30 a. m.

The sheriff like the good official that he is, promptly hired a rig, and with a number of his fellow men, solemnly entered the vehicle and proceeded to the residence of Mr. Lutz, and asked that gentleman to indicate the position of the dead. Mr. L. did so, and upon arriving at the barn the sheriff and his deputies jumped out of the wagon and thinking of the ghastly find they were about to behold (and at the same time holding their noses to prevent the fumes of a distant pole-cat from entering therein) indicated to Mr. Lutz to lead the way. With slow and solemn tread the party started in the wake of the guide and when within a few feet of the barn, in the weeds, behold, lay the bodies of an old pole-cat and her three kittens "deader than a door nail." A smile was visible on Bro. David's piz but the sheriff's brows knitted, and the fee was demanded for his services. A serious look is now worn by the practical jokers, who we presume did not imagine that sending the sheriff on a wild skunk chase was no laughing matter, and it may cost them some money before they are through with it for trifling with the majesty of the law in such a frivolous manner. The joke was conceived and worked to a charm, the boys biting like little suckers.

Card of Thanks.

The entertainment committee of the fire department wish to extend their thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who attended their ball on July 4. They especially desire to thank all for their good conduct on that occasion, and will say that at no late date will give another ball and hope all will attend. The fire boys are always thankful for the liberal turnout at their dances.

The 4th of July was duly observed here yesterday and over the county.

Lon Kenney, formerly foreman of Tax Chief office, and now an employe of the Belleville, (Kan.) Telescope, is in the city this week visiting his parents. Lon is a good printer in whatever position you may put him.

Geo. W. Hutchinson, for the last year with our popular artist, E. Bradbrook, has gone to Wilcox, Neb., where he will open a gallery for himself. George is a good photographer, and we wish him success in his new venture.

The Tournament.

The tournament committee are building a big amphitheater and are getting everything ready to entertain the fire laddies and the thousands of people that will be here during that period. Red Cloud is making every effort to give the people a grand ovation and we feel the tournament will be the grandest affair of the kind ever held in the state. The departments from all over the state and from Iowa, Kansas and Colorado will be here, besides a large number of spectators will be variously estimated at from five to ten thousand people. If you want to have a nice time be sure and come and put in the four days. It will pay you and you will see something that you only have a chance once in a lifetime to see. Since the copy of the extra premiums of the official programme was placed in the press the tournament committee at Red Cloud have received several special premiums from various parties which now swell the prizes and premiums to the amount of over $2,000.

FIRE WORKS.

The tournament committee have purchased direct from the manufacturers $1,800 worth of fire works of the finest kind which will be displayed on the grounds on the second and third evenings of the tournament July 17th and 18th.

WORKS OF ART.

One of the most attractive features of the tournament will be the $29,000 art and bric a brae exhibition. No finer exhibition of art has ever been placed before the public for inspection west of Omaha than this will be. Among the works will be seen paintings which won first premiums at the New Orleans exposition.

THE USE OF FIRE APPARATUS.

Fire departments who have been making preparations to attend the tournament, and are prevented from doing so by the want of proper apparatus, will have the same furnished them free by making application to the tournament committee.

Death of Will N. King.

Will N. King died at a late hour Thursday night at St. Joseph's hospital, of consumption. Poor fellow, naturally very bright, he would, but for his weaknesses, have been a more than ordinary successful business man. His last days were anything but happy. He had been released from a charge of petty forgery to go to his death bed. He was impulsive, and at times would do anything for a friend. At one time he was editor of the Red Cloud Helmet, and has for several years past been an advertising solicitor for various papers in this city. He was a married man, his wife being in the east, dependent entirely upon her own exertions for a livelihood. His father, living in Ohio, was wired as to the disposal of the body, and the wife replied to bury her husband here. The funeral occurred at 6:30 last evening from Tagart's undertaking rooms, to Forest lawn cemetery.—Omaha Republican.

Gu Roats is one of our leading farmers and stock raisers. During the past winter he has fed 140 head of steers, as fine a bunch as you would wish to rest your eyes on. He has fed the steers 1600 bushels of corn at a cost of nearly $4,000. W. N. Richardson has fed 300 head about 40,000 bushels, making a total corn cost of $10,000. Webster county has a large number of men who feed from 25 to 150 head of cattle making an outlay quite large. There are over 21,000 head of cattle in the county. When it comes to stock Webster county takes the cake.

Chas. Schaffnit who for many months has been the well known manager of the Southern & Western Mercantile Association has purchased that stock of goods, and is now in full possession. Mr. S. is an experienced dry goods man and will make the business "hum" from this on. We bespeak for him a good trade and in return we can assure the people that they will be treated in a first class manner. He has had years of experience in the business and will proceed at once to put in a good new stock such as the trade demands. THE CHIEF wishes him success and prosperity in his new role as proprietor.
