Where are the promises of a strong administration, an honest administration, a pure administration? Echo, answers, Keeby, docky McKecky.

J. C. Warner has been selected as one of the Nebraska state delegates to the Iowa state fair. J. C. is one of the best fair men in the state.

The question now is, how much does it take to go to Chicago and return? Ask the board of trade, and they will refer you to Keeby, docky McKecky.

Hon. A. J. Kenney, of Red Cloud, as a sojourner in the Big Third, Wednesday remembered the Republican as one of his many friends in Hastings. Mr. Kenney is one of the men that recognizes James B. McNeny as the peer of all men named for successor to Laird in Congress.—Hasting Republican.

In another column the announcement of our friend Henry C. Scott appears, which was handed in to us by interested friends, who desire to see him nominated again for the office of sheriff. There are few men who have filled the office better than he, or equal to him. He is careful and accommodating, and always ready to do his duty without fear or favor. It would be extremely doubtful if a better man could be found for that office in Webster county. THE CHIEF believes that he will receive the nomination without a dissenting vote.

In this issue of THE CHIEF we take pleasure in announcing the name of our old friend Samuel West, for county judge. Mr. West has lived in Red Cloud, Ia, these many years and is known to all of our people as a good, honorable, straightforward man, fully competent to administer the affairs of county judge in a manner that will be satisfactory to the people of Webster county. He has been Justice of the Peace for several years and otherwise understands the duties and necessities of that responsible office. He certainly has a large number of earnest friends working for his nomination.

THE DAY NAMED.

The Old soldiers Reunion will take place at Red Cloud, September 17, 18, 19 and 20.

The members of Garfield Post No 80, G. A. R., have been making arrangements in conjunction with the board of control of the district composed of Nuckells, Webster, Franklia, Smith and Jewell counties, for holding the annual reunion, which will take place in Red Cloud, September 17, 18, 19 and 20, 1889. This will be one of the grandest events in the history of this portion of the west and hundreds of old soldiers will be present. Everybody make arrangements to attend one or more days. Prominent speakers will be present from both Kansas and Nebraska. Don't forget the dates.

Farmers, what are you doing towards making the coming fair a success? The officials are making every endeavor to make it profitable to you and you in turn should show your interest in bringing the best you have to show your neighbors and citizens just what you have done. God has blessed the land with a bountiful crop this year, and there is no reason why the annual fair might not be made the great farmers' week of rejoicing. Make your arrangements to come in during the entire four days with your best productions, both of the field and pasture, and above all bring your wife and children. They need the vacation, the change from the daily hum drum of hard work and it will make them better contented with their lives, to see what other are doing, to gain information such as is afforded at an exhibition of this kind, than they would otherwise be. But unless you do your part the matter will prove a failure and the society's officers will not be the ones to blame. Shall the fair be a success?—Ex.

The "Jackamule" editor of the "big 8" turns on his mournful lay in another direction last week, and pours his venom out in large and small quantities. The fellows whom he smears with his vials of wrath are the same fellows who refuse to follow when he whistles, people who are ashamed to be caught in his unholy outfit's company. Dockey, you and your crowd may be as "meek as Moses" but you will never reach the promised land, and the editor of this "Great Family Weekly" predicts that you will not even be allowed a peep into the treasury box. The people are fully aware who your outfit are, and are watching with both optics wide open to see that you don't get your clutches on to the county funds, which you desire so much. No, dockey, no.

Not the least of those mentioned for congressional honors in this district is Hon. G. R. Chaney of Red Cloud and Superior. We say Superior in as much as he has a branch law office here with our energetic and rising attorney, Mr. G. W. Stubbs. Mr Chaney is a lawyer of fine ability and long standing for so new a country as this, while in the business walks of life he has proven himself a man of sterling integrity and without a blemish on his character or reputation, and should be receive the nomination, would honor the position as representative of Second district of Nebraska in Congress.—Superior Journal.

Little Emery Young, son of John M. Young, was billed to address the temperance contest meeting at the M. E. church the other night, and he did it and did it well, but, however, little Emery is a strong republican, and note the surprise on the prohibit's face, when Emery, instead of reciting an appropriate temperance piece, gave them some good sound republican doctrine. The point was well taken and Emery was loudly applauded.
