Strange, But True!

Fishes are weighed in their scales
And an elephant packs his own trunk;
But rats never tell their own tales,
And one seldom gets chink in a chunk.

Dogs seldom wear their own pants,
Which fact lays them open to scorn;
No nephew or niece fancies ants,
And a cow never blows her own horn.

A cat cannot parse its own claws,
No porcupine nibs his own quill;
Though orphan bears still have their paws,
A bird will not pay its own bill.

Sick ducks never go to a quack,
A horse cannot plough his own mané;
A ship is not hurt by a tack,
And a window never suffers with pane.

And so we might continue, but what we wanted to say, was, The Greatest Stock of Substantial Goods for the Holidays will be found at Cotting's Drug and Book store. The Largest stock in the city, and same prices on these goods will make you think we stole them (but we didn't.) Bought them awfully low, though. When you get ready to buy, come and see, and if you have time before you want to buy just come in and look around. We want to knock our stock down by the first of the year, and prices on anything in the store will be about right.
