The Indians of the Territory to Be Masser as Close as Possible.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T.. Nov. 22.-Significant acts have recently transpired which indicate the opening of another chapter in the Cherokee negotiation. Until recently it was supposed that the Government would not avail itself of article 15, treaty of 1866, but that the Western tribes might possibly be settled upon the Strip. Two letters, recently written, seems to indicate that the Government will use its privilege under article 15. The Quapaws and other tribes in the extreme northeast of the Indian Territory wish to dispose of their present reservation and join their friends, the Osages. Acting under instructions from Secretary Noble, the Commission will soon visit the Quapaw agency. The Indians can be settled upon Osage lands by the consent of the Osages. The Commissioners are authorized by Congress to negotiate only for lands west of the 96th degree. The Osages are east of this line of longitude. The only other lands which the Government could conveniently use are those of the Cherokees, which lie west of the 96th degree. The Quapaws could be settled there and the price per acre settled afterwards. The unoccupied Cherokee land adjoining the bage land will probably be selected, so that the two friendly tribes may establish the neighborly intercourse, which they desire. The lands would cost but little more than those of the Osages. In a late letter the Commission has indicated a disposition to consider economy of the several proposed locations for reservation Indians, who are to be en massed in as compact a body as possible, but where this can't be done, they can be scattered about in the most available places and still keep up their tribal relations. Much less than one-fourth of the Cherokee home tract is unoccupied. The cost of settling tribes upon these lands would not exceed $2 per acre. The settlement of 8,000 Indians in the Cherokee Nation would make a population of about 35,000, or about one-half the population of the new and small territory of Oklahoma.

Eight thousand Indians would include the Quapaws, Osages, Iowas, particular piece of territory had been Kickapoos, Shawnees, Chevennes and Arapahoes and other tribes, thereby and held that in a general proposition opening nearly 10,000,000 acres to settlement, or nearly twice the number of determine its own jurisdiction, and acres as in the Cherokee outlet. STANLEY HEARD FROM.

The Great Explorer Makes Some Additional Discoveries, Among Them the Largest Lake in the World.

LONDON, Nov. 22 .- Mr. MacKinnon, head of the Emin Pasha relief committee has received a cable dispatch from Henry M. Stanley, announcing his arrival at Mpwapwa and stating that he expected to reach Zanzibar in four or five days. The dispatch also stated that he had made the important discovery that there is an extension of Lake Victoria Nyanza.

The British Consul at Zanzibar telegraphed to the Foreign Office as follows: "Stanley arrived at Mpwapwa on the fifty-fifth day after his departure from the Victoria Nyanza and the 188th day after leaving the Albert Nyanza. In addition to the names already telegraphed Stanley has with him Hoffman, Emin's daughter and Fathers Gault and Schinze of the Algerian mission. Stanley left Mpwapwa on the 12th traveling toward the coast by the way of Kemba and Mwemi. Stanley made an unexpected discovery of real value in finding an extension of the Victoria Nyanza toward the southwest. The utmost southerly reach of extension is south latitude 2 degrees 48 minutes. This brings the Victoria Nyanza within 155 miles of Lake Tanganyika. The area of the extension is 26,900 square miles.

This new discovery of Stanley's, if confirmed on his arrival at the coast, makes Lake Victoria Nyanza the largest body of fresh water on the globevery much more extensive than Lake Superior in the United States. The old Victoria Nyanza was about 890 miles in circumference, and the present addition is within 5,000 square miles of the size of Lake Superior.

The position of the Government, broadly, was that all public lands of the United States, whether particularly set apart to any Indian tribes or not, were for the purpose of construing statutes and making general laws and rules for the government of such country, to be deemed and held to be Indian country, if not included within a State or Territory.

The defendants contended that this was not Indian country and therefore was never attached to the Northern district of Texas and was attached to no district and was not in the jurisdiction of the United States at the time the offense was committed; that if the Muskogee Court act attempted to attach this territory to the Eastern district of Texas it could have no applica- of the Remington Rifle Company, and is tion to offenses committed prior to the date of that act. The Government contended that this constitutional provision did not apply to offenses committed within the territory, and further that Paris, Tex., the place designed for the trial of those inditments, was within the territory which constituted the Northern district of Texas at the time the offense was committed.

KNIGHTS ADJOURN.

After a Short and Profitable Session the Knights of Labor Adjourn.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 21 .- "This has been the best and most profitable, as well as the shortest session the general assembly has ever had," said General Master Workman Powderly in his speech, which brought the exercises of the general assembly for 1889 to a close. The assembly has finished its work and the delegates have left.

The treasurer stated that even if the order should remain in statu quo the receipts of the order would exceed the expenses by $15,000 each year. Mr. Brockmire, of the co-operative board, was appointed to have general supervision of all the stores indorsed by the Knights of Labor. He was instructed to see that the Knights of Labor stamps should be respected.

The finance committee recommended a change so that in the future the actual car fare to and from conventions should be paid. In future all local questions referred to the general assembly will pay a per capita tax of ten cents per quarter, instead of six cents, as heretofore. The general executive board was empowered at its discretion to put on an assessment tax of not more than six cents for the next year.

Terrible Fire Raging. FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 21.-Passengers who came in on the south bound Fort Worth & Denver brought news of a terrible prairie and forest fire now raging for ten miles along the road and back from the road for over a mile. The fire caught from a locomotive and, swept away hay, fodder, corn oats, fences, the grass, barns and in some cases farm houses. Railroad section men, farmers and stockmen worked the spread of the flames. Great trees WASHINGTON'S SENATORS.

John Beard Allen and Watson C. Squire Chosen United States Senators From Washington-Brief Sketches of Their Careers, Military and Civil.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 22 .- Following are short biographical sketches of Washington's new Senators:

WATSON C. SQUIRE. Senator Squire was born at Cape Vincent, N. Y., on May 18, 1888. At the age of eighteen he entered the sophomore class of the Wes-seyan University at Middleton, Conn. He graduated from that institution at the age of twenty-one years, in the class of '69. After

He participated in all the battles of the Army of the Cumberland, including the battles of Chickamauga, Chattanooga and Nashville. During the latter portion of his term of service he was Judge Advocate of the District of Tenee, and served on the staff of Major-General Rousseau, and also on the staff of Major-General George H. Thomas. At the close of the war he was appointed managing agent that capacity visited the capitals of Russia, Spain, Turkey, Mexice and other countries. Later he was made business manager for the Remingtons, and during the years 1871 and 1872 he negotiated with the Prench Government, selling that nation over $15,000,000 worth of arms. In 1879 he removed to Washington Territory, and in 1884 he was appointed Governor of the Territory by President Arthur. His administration as Territorial Governor was in every way successful. Colonel Squire's first ballot was east for Abraham Lincoln.

JOHN BRAND ALLEY. Senator Allen was born at Crawfordsville, Montgomery County Ind., May 18, 1843. He lived at or near his native town until the spring of 1964, when, although not yet nineteen years of age, he enlisted in the One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Indiana Infantry, and served in Tennesser
