FRENZY OF FEVER.

EX-GOV. MORHOUSE, of Missouri, Dies by His Own Hand.

IN A FIT of Delirium He Cut His Throat at His Home in Maryville - Brief Sketch of His Public Career.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 24.—A special to the News from Maryville, says that ex-Gov. Albert P. Morhouse committed suicide at his residence in northeast Maryville yesterday morning at 9:10 o'clock.

The governor had for a week, at times, been in a delirious condition, which, it was believed, was occasioned by his becoming overheated one day last week, while driving east. Tuesday evening he was out driving with Hon. W. C. Ellison, thinking that the little drive would do him good. After driving a short time, Mr. Ellison noticed a violent nervous disarrangement on the part of the governor. They occupied the twisting of the muscles of the body and also by his seizing and holding tightly to the bows of the buggy-top. Mr. Ellison made no effort to control the governor's mind from his condition, but with no effect whatever. He at once concluded that it would be best to take him home.
