On Thursday evening, at 7:30, Mr. Henry Gilham, was married to Miss Sarah Tulleys, daughter of our well-known citizen, Dr. I. W. Tulleys.

Rev. E. J. Randall officiating. The happy couple have both lived in Webster county for a number of years and are well and prominently known and esteemed by all who have the pleasure of their acquaintance. THE CHIEF extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gilham and wishes them much happiness.

S. E. Prentiss, proprietor of the Inavale Farm and breeder of the Holstein Friesian cattle, has just sold his fine herd of pure bred Holstein Friesian cattle to Williamson & Marshall of Beaver City. This herd, though small in numbers, contains some of the best blood of the county, headed by a grandson of the great Gerben 4th whose record of 80 pounds of milk in a single day, and 32 pounds of butter in a week, put her on the top shelf.

Mr. Prentiss is an enterprising ranchman and should be congratulated on his efforts to improve the stock of the county.

Mrs. L. R. Patton, Rockford, Ill., writes "From personal experience I can recommend DeWitt's Sarsaparilla, a cure for impure blood and general debility."

About next Monday, we presume the new dam across the Republican will be commenced. The new company are rapidly progressing with their business and THE CHIEF feels certain that with its reopening and with the enterprising men behind the project that there will commence a new era of prosperity for Red Cloud, as it is certainly one of the best water powers in Nebraska, and when once properly utilized by other commercial and manufacturing interests, there will spring up big inducements for people to move here. The mill and electric light plant will be in full operation by Oct. 1st at least. Our people ought to feel highly elated over the project.

THE GREAT WEST

As Seen by the Rev. E. L. Ely, of this City.

(Article 3.)

In 1864 four miners were prospecting in the mountains of Montana and in a gulch where Helena now stands found indications of gold but believing it was not there in paying quantities threw up their work and started north to a point where they had heard gold had been discovered. On the way they met some miners returning from that place who convinced them that it was useless to go farther. They then turned again to the gulch which they had just left and gave it the very suggestive and to them significant name of Last Chance. They stayed by it until each had made a fortune and in this way the foundations were laid of the present beautiful and rich young city of Helena.

It is not easy to describe the city. The first street and now the main street was built up and down the gulch. The main part of the town now being where it opens out into the Prickly Pear Valley which is about 12 by 20 miles in extent. From here it is a narrow street running up the gulch until it finally tapers off to a point. The last mile the street is not more than 20 or 30 feet in width and is occupied by shanties. In the main part of the city streets enter and cross the main streets at all sorts of angles and curves so it is said, and there is a complete absence of anything like regularity in the location or width of the streets. The narrow streets and tall buildings reminded me of St. Paul, Minn.

Besides this main gulch the city now extends up three smaller gulches and also extends out into the valley where there is more regularity in plan.

About where the city begins to taper off in the main gulch to about two or three streets is Chinatown where about 700 or 800 of the people live of whom our good Uncle Sam thinks so much of that he advises them to stay in China and eat rats and mice instead of coming to this "land of the free and the home of the brave" and being compelled to associate with coal miners, section men &c who are liable at any time to take a sudden notion to cut off their queue or hang up a few to a telegraph pole to bait the crows. Seriously a Chinaman's life is held in very little regard in that country and yet for certain kinds of work such as cooks they are the only ones to be had that are to be relied upon and there are many of them in Helena earning from $80 to $100 per month. In this vicinity is also the disreputable part of the city.

Some of the workmen will remember a dispute as to the pronunciation of Helena. While at Butte City I made the acquaintance of a Helena man and when I called it Hele'na he said if I did that they would call me a tenderfoot and that I must say Hele'na a decided accent on the first syllable.

I think if I had not been told that by him that after seeing it I would have put the accent on the second syllable for the main part of town and on the first for Chinatown and vicinity.

The Chinese live in miserable hovels huddled together as I suppose they do in the Chinatowns in all the western cities. Helena has a population of about 1400 is a beautiful place to live if one has the income sufficient to meet the expense.

The mines just at this point are exhausted although there are several within a radius of 10 or 12 miles.

One of the principal places of interest is the elegant new Hotel Broadwater and Natatorium located out about 3 miles and reached by electric cars.

These are surrounded by elegant grounds and makes a delightful summer resort.

The Natatorium is built over a warm spring and the building is 300 feet in length 100 feet wide and 100 feet in height.

One gets a fine view of the city and surrounding country by climbing Mount Helena which overlooks the city and is about 1800 feet above it.

The cost of living in Helena is extremely high. The pastor of the Congregational church said to me that his salary of $1800 was no more than $1000 would be in the east.

The leading denominations of churches are nearly all represented. There is a M. E. church and an M. E. church south, a Congregationalist, Presbyterian, Baptist and some others.

The meeting of supreme lodge A. O. U. W. was held in the fine new Auditorium which has a seating capacity of probably 2000. The citizens presented the members of the supreme lodge with souvenirs in the shape of a silver watch charm with a stone set the value of which was $23.00 each and there were 113 of them.

The meeting of the supreme lodge of A. O. U. W. called together one of the finest conventions to be seen in this country. Men of the highest standing and ability from 26 states and the British possessions were there doing business for nearly 300,000 workmen and their families.

The affairs of the order are in so flourishing a condition that there were no matters for serious consideration except the regular routine of business. The success of the order has been marvellous but it is accounted for when we see the class of men conducting its affairs and note the perfect system by which the business of the order is carried on.

Among all the members of that body there is no one who stands higher or is better qualified for his position, nor better able to set forth the advantages of the order than Nebraska's own Grand Master Tate.

On Sunday most of the city pulpits were supplied by clergyman in attendance at this meeting the writer supplying the pulpit of the Congregational church. In the afternoon memorial services were held in the Methodist church for members of the supreme lodge deceased since the last meeting addressed by Rev. Bane of California, Judge Trissell of Tennessee, Supreme Recorder Sacket and others. The A. O. U. W. has paid over $38,000,000 to widows and orphans and other beneficiaries and during 1891 paid over $5,000,000. Who can measure the amount of hope and cheer this has brought to the widows and orphans in their hour of need.

I left Helena on Monday for Salt Lake City and arrived there on Tuesday morning. South of Helena we pass through a tunnel through the mountain 6112 feet in length. At daylight on Tuesday morning we were passing through the Cache Valley in Utah the finest farming region I ever saw.

One cannot conceive anything more perfect than it seems although it doubtless has its drawbacks. As we pass the little towns the natives are on hand with strawberries so large and fine that—well I told one man in Red Cloud how large they were and he looked at me so strangely that I believe he thought I lied so I won't take the chances again.

We breakfasted in Ogden then ran down to Salt Lake where I will begin next time.

Dilapidated? Well I Should Say So.

Most people carry around with them a liver so dilapidated that if they should see it they would take it for a straw hat as quick as a liver—as a consequence they have a lame back and feel languid. Haller's Pain Paralyzer taken in conjunction with Haller's German Pills, will make a new person of you and effect a complete cure. For sale by C. L. Cotting.

There will be a regular meeting of James A. Garfield Post No. 80, next Monday night, Aug. 8, at 8:30. A full attendance desired.

H. B. SIMONS, P. C.

My head aches; my stomach is sour I can't sleep; have bad dreams, pain in back and limbs, dizziness, absent minded, bilious, languid, dull and stupid. All these are indications of malaria, blood, liver or kidney disease, deadly typhoid fever, all of which can be avoided by using "Hepaticure." For sale by L. H. Deyo.

Jim Hubble was in the city this week.

Other medicines might help but to make assurance doubly sure use DeWitt's Sarsaparilla to enrich, purify and open the blood. C. L. Cotting.
