ODDS AND ENDS

Vin Williams has returned to McCook. Miss Pearl Smith is visiting in Lincoln. E. B. Smith was in Guide Rock this week.

Mrs. J. Tait is visiting with friends in Cowles.

Mrs. I. H. Hummel goes to Oklahoma, this week.

M. W. Dickerson is home from his visit west.

Miss Lillie Smith has arrived home from Lincoln.

Mr. Brown talks of putting up a dwelling in this city.

Mr. Hildreth of Cowles, was a pleasant caller this week.

Miss Ella Remsberg has been engaged to teach school in Lincoln.

Ward Zintt has gone to Lincoln to receive further treatment for his ears.

E. L. Fawcett and J. L. Fuller of Cowles, were pleasant callers this week.

The Amboy mills recently shipped two car loads of flour to Memphis, Tennessee.

The Kindergarten school-house has been moved along side of the Episcopal church.

Miss Margie Miner entertained her young friends on Tuesday evening with a tea party.

The B. & M. folks are now connected with our water work system having completed the connections Tuesday night.

Mrs. S. R. McBride, will be home Sept. 1st, with an elegant line of millinery goods. The ladies should wait and see her styles.

The young ladies of this city have organized a band and have purchased some fine instruments. Red Cloud proposes to lead.

Don't forget that Mrs. K. Skeen will have a nice line of fashionable millinery good on exhibition Saturday from St. Louis. Call and see her.

The following are new subscribers this week: M. C. Judd, Mrs. A. C. Hale, J. L. Fuller, E. L. Fawcett, H. H. Hillyard, and John V. Thompson.

The familiar face of our old friend J. H. Remsberg, is on our streets again, after a hard spell of sickness. He will move back to Red Cloud.

J. R. Clark, treasurer of the Union Central Life insurance company of Cincinnati Ohio, was in Red Cloud this week a guest of Senator John Myers.

Mrs. Morhart arrived home to-day to the great joy of our friend Adam who has had a face on him that would make butter turn green, during her absence.

Matilda Fletcher spoke at the Coliseum, Tuesday, to a full house. It was the best lecture we ever heard. She is one of the ablest lecturers of the age.—[Nationalist Manhattan, Kansas.

John V. Thompson of Denver, a brother of our friend Reese is visiting at his brother's residence. Mr. Tompon owns several farms in Webster county. Both gentlemen were pleasant callers at THE CHIEF office.

Work has begun on the mill dam and sometime next week the mill will be painted. With Red Cloud's two mills in operation there is no reason why the surrounding country should not be fully supplied with flour.

Oh, yes, if you want to see a fine line of oaks and heating stoves, you just step into Mohar's the veteran hardware man. He has excellent assortments to pick from. Be sure and see him and get what you want.

Now is the time to get a good building association in running order in Red Cloud. It would be of immense value to the property owners of Red Cloud, besides helping those who have no home to get one. Who will start the ball to rolling?

H. H. Hillyard of Kansas, a gentleman of experience has purchased Joe Herburger's bakery and will hereafter run it. He is fitting up the interior of the rooms and otherwise adding to it and proposes to run a first-class institution. We wish him success.

Mrs. Sada J. Bailey, who is well known in Red Cloud, as a dealer in music and musical instruments has opened a music store just north of THE CHIEF office, where she will keep a full line of pianos, organs, and musical merchandise. The people of Red Cloud and Webster county should call on her for such goods.

The Woman's Relief Corps the Grand Army, and the ladies of Sherman Circle went to the Superior reunion this week besides a large number of our other citizens. Last year Superior people failed to come up to our reunion, in very large numbers, in fact we think 20 would have caught the whole number yet Red Cloud people turn out to Superior by the hundreds. Superior people have never shown a disposition to patronize celebrations at Red Cloud at anytime.

OLD MISSOURI,

As Seen From a Road Cart by S. I. Umphenour.

Articles have appeared at times in THE CHIEF, about the Pacific coast, Utah, Colorado and other places, but I recall nothing said about poor old "Mizory," therefore in the Republican Campaign language of the state, I propose to "stand up for Missouri." Perhaps a few words about S. W. Missouri, and my trip thither will be of interest to the stay-at-home readers of THE CHIEF.

Left Red Cloud July 27th. Corn very uneven between here and Missouri River, which we reached at dark, had a night ride down the river, the tall wooded bluff's rising on one side, the river often in view on the other, was very enjoyable. Passing through the busy and finely illuminated city of St. Jo, saw the lights of Atchison and Leavenworth across the river. Reached Kansas City at day light, looked over lower city including Union depot, stock yards, &c., then took a street car and rode several miles over the upper city, then walked back several miles to the Union depot, taking in by the way several noted buildings including the "New England," "Gibraltar" and "Exchange," buildings. The latter is an elegant building, the interior looks like a "marble palace," it is occupied mostly by Loan Co., offices, everything in Kansas City betokens a great city. One of the most striking things in the city is the immense elevated bridges called "Viaducts" crossing the lower city at several points running over all the streets, railroads, and some buildings, and through others, and running away up by a sharp incline to the bluffs above.

Left Kansas City for Rich Hill, which is a great coal mining town. "There I got a horse and cart and "took for the woods." Crops not as good on an average in Bates county as with us. Crossed the Osage river at Taberville, on a suspension bridge and struck south-east for Howards mills on Sac river. This is a rough rocky and densely timbered country. Passed little clearings along the road with log houses and worn fences. Stayed all night with Mr. Fletcher, who keeps a store at the mills. Mr. F. is an old confederate soldier but a true gentleman, and his wife a lady of refinement, he also has a daughter of rare accomplishment. Started for Humanville, in Polk county. This is a live town on the Memphis route, the surrounding country is somewhat rough and rocky. Thence east 23 miles through some timber, some nice prairies and some fine valleys. Polk county has over 20,000 people. Its county seat Bolivar is a good town, a town well built. A stub railroad runs to this point north from Springfield. The county out of debt, good schools and the people (as I was surprised to find) as progressive and intelligent as any place I ever lived. Stephen Shrader formerly of Salem, Kansas, lives in the north-east part of the county, has a good farm and like the country. I came back via Osceola, an old town burned by Jim Lane in 61. In retaliation for which Quantrell always claimed he burned Lawrence. Visited the celebrated Monegaw Springs 10 miles west of Osceola. For cleansing and building up the system I don't think their superior exists in the country, they are free to all and hundreds of people are encamped in the surrounding woods at all times during the hot season.

Returning to Kansas City I took the Santa Fe for Emporia by way of Lawrence and Topeka. A fine ride up the Kaw valley, did not get off the cars but saw the capitol building at Topeka. Emporia is a fine town in a nice country, stopped over Sunday with Austin Marsh and family, who are well known here Judge Culver, formerly from my boyhood home in Illinois and an old acquaintance of Congressman McKeighan. The Judge is an old Christian and Temperance worker, and spoke at Red Cloud during the great prohibition campaign. The state Normal school is located at Emporia which the Miss Elva and Miss Lizzie Marsh have been attending. Came home Aug. 8, via Enterprise and Abelia fine country around these towns, great wheat country, but saw as fine wheat in the Republican valley at Concordia, as any place, while corn in the valley was the best on an average I saw on my trip. I rode only by daylight. A few more words about S. W. Missouri. It is a great fruit country, though this is an off year for fruit. Crops are light this year. It is a healthy country and the water is excellent, good well water and a number of springs and many fine streams, in conclusion will say it's the last chance left any more to obtain cheap timber lands in the United States, unless you go to the southern states or Pacific coast and I think the future of the country is bright with hope.

S. I. UMPHENOUR.

The M. E. church Sunday school will have a picnic next Thursday at Amboy.

Mrs. P. C. Phares and children, who have been visiting with her mother have returned to their home in Kansas.

We are indebted to A. Calmes for some very superb peach ice cream. It was the most delicious that we have ever tasted in Red Cloud.

Prof. Frank Cunningham, who has been spending his vacation among his relatives near Stamford, has been elected principal of the high school at Red Cloud.—Beaver City Tribune.

The republicans of Webster county should see to it that a live republican club is organized in every township in the county. Call at this office and get documents for organizing same. No cost, all are free.

CURRENT NEWS.

Corn going to be a magnificent crop in Webster county.

Floresy Ranney is visiting friends in Blue Hill this week.

Jon. McClelland called this week and renewed for Tax CHIEF to 1892.

W. W. Wright an alliance apostle, held forth in the court-house Saturday.

Several showers of rain in last few days have freshened up crops wonderfully.

Mrs. A. J. Hale, of Inavale, called this week and added her name to Tax CHIEF list.

The Sons of Veterans held a very nice ball last Thursday evening in the K. F. Hall.

Mrs. A. L. Funk, entertained her lady friends on Thursday afternoon with a tea party.

Frank Potter is home from the Mormon Mecca, very much infatuated with the country.

J. B. Wright formerly of this city but late of Florence, Colorado, has removed to Red Cloud.

We are indebted to Mr. Hines of Amboy for some fine honey, to sweeten the editor with.

One of the citizens of the state of Walnut occupied a room in our city jail for a few hours Saturday.

Joe Nan, editor of the Wave and F. P. Shields of the Leader of Blue Hill were callers at these headquarters Saturday.

Cholera is fast approaching this country and the government health officers are doing their best to stop its progress.

The Democratic county convention sent delegates to the democratic congressional convention who were opposed to McKeighan.

On last Friday night, serenaders "held up" the CHIEF residence with some very fine selections, to all of which we say amen, and come again.

The democratic party seems to be a thing of the past. In the western and southern states it is losing its identity, and is merging into the alliance party.

S. W. Fulton of Bladen had his house and entire contents burned recently. The fire was a great loss to him as it took all of his household furniture and bedding.

M. S. Marsh, D. Bedford, Wright Thornburg, R. P. Hutcheson and others were in Kansas City this week in attendance upon the Knights of Pythias convocation.

The "anterrified" were in session Saturday in county convention and placed in nomination Bernard McNeny for county attorney and H. W. Hall for county representative.

From reports from the Inavale Independent rally, McKeighan is making democratic speeches again evidently. Democratic endorsement is what he wants, and democratic votes is what he is after, yet he said at Holdrege that he was no democrat.

The people of Red Cloud will have the privilege on Sept. 10 of listening to one of the first lecturers on the platform Mrs. Matilda Fletcher, subject, "Is man an Angel?" At the Opera House. Price of admission 35 cents. Reserved seats 75 cents. We understand about 125 persons have already been sold.
