CURRENT COMMENT.

CALIFORNIA reports a very short prune crop for the season.

THE daily price currents show an enormous shrinkage in the price of cotton.

AN unknown insect is doing its best for the "bulls" by working on the wheat crop in North Dakota.

SENATORS Allison and Jones have accepted their appointment as delegates to the international monetary conference.

THE omission of an item of $5,000 in the sundry civil bill to audit postmasters' accounts, embarrasses the post office department.

EQUESTRIAN statues of Gen. Sam Houston and Gen. Albert Sydney Johnston will be placed in the state capitol grounds at Austin, Tex.

A WOMAN left a baby with John Carlin, a printer, recently in a Brooklyn park "just for a few moments." She never returned and Carlin has the baby.

THE empress of Russia is the first lady to answer from a European throne the invitation to take part in the women's work of the Columbian exposition.

RECRUITING for the army will no longer be tolerated as a mere "snap" for commissioned officers. The latter will be required to consider it serious business.

THE annual report of the English customs receipts show that the revenue from tobacco for the past financial year has been the biggest on record. The chief increase is in the use of the dry western tobacco from America.

THE Swedenborgians of this country are making considerable progress in numbers and count in their belief some men of good ability. Rev. Benjamin Fisk Barrett, who died in Germantown, Pa., recently, aged 84, was the most noted Swedenborgian in the United States.

A WASHINGTON item says: Alan Arthur, son of the late President Arthur is about to revisit America for the first time since his father's death. Mr. Arthur, who used to be called "Prince of Washington," is a handsome and athletic man, an excellent rider across country and a good shot. He is a great favorite in Paris.

THE Bismarck brothers do not by any means stand in the same rank, but they are said to be a great pair. The brother of Prince Bismarck, whom the ex-chancellor is now visiting, is about 70 years old. Despite the exalted rank of the unifier of Germany his brother bears the title of Herr von Bismarck, belonging to the lowest grade of nobility.

ANDREW J. JENNINGS, the lawyer who is defending Lizzie Borden, of Fall River, was, nine years ago, one of the best republican orators in Massachusetts and a leader in the state senate, although a very young man. He now shares with the venerable W. W. Croft the honors of leadership at the Bristol county bar and has no time for politics.

NOR much is positively known of Dr. J. B. Crandall, nominee for vice-president on the prohibition ticket, but it is said that he was brought up as a cowboy, studied medicine and practiced for three years, and, before he became editor and owner of a denominational paper, was noted for the facility with which he raised money for missionary purposes.

FORTY milkmen in Akron, O., have been arrested, charged with adulterating milk. For some time the milk inspector has been investigating the milk supply of the city, more particularly because of the unprecedented number of deaths of infants during the heated term. He claims to have secured evidence that salicylic acid and borax have been used to preserve the milk, and these ingredients rendering it indigestible to infants are responsible for the increased mortality.

A LONDON letter says: John Burns, M. P., is bound to cut a great figure in parliament, to which he has been elected as a representative of labor. He is a man of the people, living within the limit of £100 a year, and he will not take a penny more. This income of his is made up from individual subscriptions of one penny, willingly contributed by those on behalf of whom he toils. He fixed the amount himself, it being the equivalent of his yearly earnings before he became an agitator.

JOHN BLACKSTONE was the original owner of the land on which the city of Boston was afterward built. He was not a modern real estate operator, for the sale was made away back in 1633, and he received only $150 for the entire tract. But it is evident that the purchaser knew how to have a good strong deed made, for there has never been an effort to upset the title. If somebody can now name the owner of the cow that originally laid out the streets the history of the early days of the city will be materially improved.

A PROPOSITION by Spencer Bros., of London, and C. P. Huntington, to have the lower Congo basin in western Africa thoroughly explored for its industrial capabilities is to be carried out by L. A. Sheldon, of Los Angeles, ex-governor of New Mexico. Mr. Huntington is interested with the great financial firm of London in new railroads in the Congo region and the resources and capabilities of the Congo will be thoroughly examined. It is thought the lower Congo region will produce as fine fruits as southern California, but all other conditions which may have value in view of the development of the country will be described.

PREPARATIONS for the fourteenth annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic, department of Nebraska, to be held at Grand Island, August 29 to September 3, inclusive, are going rapidly forward. Speakers of state and national reputation have already been secured to address the soldiers and enlist the camp fires. All railroads will give reduced rates.

LATER developments in the death of Misses Bertha and Lizzie Shultz, who recently fell dead at Fairmont, went to show that the girls had committed suicide instead of death being the result of accident caused by falling from a buggy. Investigation showed that Bertha had purchased strychnine at a drug store and the bottle was found in the Shultz yard. No cause could be given for the strange act.

THE state oil inspector has filed his monthly report for July. During the month the number of barrels of oil inspected by himself and his deputies were 10,498, divided among the several districts of the state as follows: First district, accepted, 607, rejected, 940; Second district, accepted, 2,119, rejected, 2,039; Third district, accepted, 554, rejected, 1,893; Fourth district, accepted, 1, rejected, 499; Fifth district, accepted, 194, rejected, 689; total accepted, 3,475; total rejected, 6,932.

LAST year the principal crops in Valley county were corn, wheat and oats, corn taking the lead. They are a little more diversified this year and a larger acreage. The prospects of corn are not very flattering. The greater part of the oat and wheat crop has been harvested and is very good. Oats were rather short. Flax, millet and wild hay are very poor. Several pieces of flax will not pay for harvesting and the crop is losing favor with the majority of farmers. Winter wheat and rye are gaining in favor and good yields are reported. A large number of farmers held their last year's corn crop and sold it upon the advance in prices.

CHANCELLOR CHURCHTON, of the Wesleyan Methodist university of Lincoln, has commenced suit in the district court against Revs. George A. Smith and Hiram Barch, asking for $20,000 damages from each for defamation of character. The suits grow out of the recent action of the two gentlemen in making damaging charges against the character of the chancellor. The petition sets forth that on July 27, 1892, the defendant circulated and caused to be circulated an article which was false, scandalous and defamatory in its character. The article referred to was prepared by Rev. Asa Sleeth and accused the chancellor of various misdemeanors, most of them being infractions of the church discipline rather than of the civil statutes.

THE other morning Lizzie and Bertha Shultz, aged 20 and 18 years respectively, were driving in Fairmont. In crossing the railroad track the horse took fright and ran away, throwing them to the ground and apparently not hurting them severely. They then hired a team and drove to their home, five miles distant. After reaching home, Bertha went to the barn to see the horse and dropped dead by the stable door. A little sister near by ran to the house and said, "There is something the matter with Bertha." Mrs. Shultz and Lizzie ran to the barn and Lizzie, too, dropped dead by the side of her sister. The mother soon after swooned away, and for some time her life was despaired of also. The coroner was investigating the rather strange affair.

FIRE at Alliance the other morning burned the following business houses: W. W. Norton's mammoth general store; J. W. Vaneerhoof, harness shop; Mrs. W. L. Helling, millinery emporium; C. Shelton, meat market; Alliance Times printing office and a small one-story building next door east, including the post office. Nearly all the valuable mail was saved.

THE complete list of populist electors as finally chosen stands thus: At large, T. H. Tibbes and E. E. Link. First district, T. J. Ferguson; Second, J. R. Collins; Third, John T. Jones; Fourth, Rush R. Shick; Fifth, W. A. Garrett; Sixth, Peter Ebberson.

COAL CREEK.

Gen. Carnes Succeeds in Relieving the Besieged Fort.

MAJOR CARPENTER AMBUSHED.

Three of His Men Killed and Several Wounded—The Miners Lose Two Killed—The Return to Knoxville—The Trouble Not Yet Over.

COAL CREEK, Tenn., Aug. 20.—The battle of Coal Creek is at an end. The soldiers are victorious for once in the mining troubles. The state's honor has been upheld.

When Maj. Carpenter turned into the mountains at Offits with his 125 brave men the night was perfectly dark. Although the major was familiar with every bypath in the black wilds, it was found difficult to keep the direction as not even the stars were shining. Consequently progress was slow.

After a while four men appeared and offered to guide the party. Maj. Carpenter reluctantly accepted the offer and the march was again taken up and at a better speed. Between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning, while entirely unconscious of danger, the men were fired upon from behind. The miners lay behind a stone ledge. Their broadside moved down Volunteers John Walt-hall and Bush Givins, both of Knoxville, and wounded Volunteer Tom Carter, also of Nashville. Maj. Carpenter's men returned the fire and fought bravely, but retreat was necessary, the men fighting all the way. The volunteers fell back to Clinton, six miles, reaching there at noon.

In the meantime Gen. Carnes had established himself at Offits to await daylight. With the first streak of dawn the advance on Coal Creek was begun. The miners fired over their heads from the mountains, so that the bullets could be heard whistling by the soldiers. The soldiers returned the fire. At noon Gen. Carnes captured a band of miners. They were released on promise to deliver Capt. Anderson, who was lured from the fort the day before.

At the appointed hour nothing was to be seen of either Anderson or the miners. Then Gen. Carnes entered Coal Creek. There he found that a desultory fight had been going on between the troops and the miners at Fort Anderson all day. The miners surrendered at 4:30 p. m. and Gen. Anderson was restored to his command and peace was declared.

After reaching Clinton Maj. Carpenter's men, although they had not slept nor eaten for twenty-four hours, went by train directly to Coal Creek and reported to Gen. Carnes as he marched into town. They were then sent to Knoxville with their dead and wounded.

A representative of the Associated Press has been in Clinton and Coal Creek all day. The situation has been of the gravest nature and at any moment bloodshed was likely to occur. At present the town is quiet and there is little doubt but that Gen. Carnes and Gen. Anderson can hold it without serious trouble.

Reports came in that the surrounding hills were bristling with miners who could be seen when the sun got on a level with them. The captured miners, 100 in number, have just been placed in box cars. Everything is ominously quiet.

A brief engagement took place in the northwestern part of town between Col. Sevier in command of the Chickasaw guards and about 300 Yellow Creek miners, whom they encountered on the hills. The miners were routed and several wounded. Two of the Chickasaw guards were also wounded.

Arrival of the Dead. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 20.—Last night a special train bearing the volunteers who were killed in the battle at Coal Creek yesterday, three men who were wounded and 123 volunteers who went to the front Thursday night rolled into the depot. Three thousand people were gathered about the station and the excitement was higher than at any time since the trouble began. When the train stopped the men, who bore every evidence of actual service on the field of battle, poured out of the coaches and formed in a line through which two of their dead comrades were carried in military style. The company formed with arms reversed and marched behind the remains of the dead volunteers to the courthouse.

Not until the arrival of this train was it possible to get a correct statement of the incidents leading up to it. Five men were killed in all. John T. Walthall, of this city, a railway clerk, aged 23; Bruce Givens, a farmer of Knox county, aged 39, and a militiaman of the Second regiment, name unknown, supposed to be from Chattanooga, died in the service of the state.

Thomas L. Carty, a lawyer of this city, shot through the groin; injuries may prove fatal.

Samuel G. Heiskell, a prominent lawyer and democratic politician, slightly injured.

John Milton, a laborer, slightly wounded.

Two miners, George Miller, of Coal Creek, and George Neil, of Oneida, Ill., were killed, and one, John Wilson, of Coal Creek, was slightly wounded.

J. M. Gant, a business man of this city and one of the volunteers, was badly injured by falling over a ledge of rocks.
