CURRENT COMMENT.

Mrs. Cleveland has accepted membership in the National Press League.

The campaign expenses of Congressman O'Neill, of Massachusetts, were only $27.

The onyx mines at Cave Creek, Ariz., have closed pending tariff action by congress.

Though only 47 years old, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps has been writing for publication over thirty years.

Hereafter no non-residents, even though they are soldiers, will be allowed to acquire lands as settlers in Oklahoma.

The Grand Trunk's new ocean steamer line, and Canadian and English interests in American railroads, are attracting a good deal of attention.

A confirmation of the reported attempt to assassinate President Hippolyte, of Hayti, has been received. The would-be assassins were shot.

Miss Susan B. Anthony, of Rochester, N. Y., the well-known woman's suffrage advocate, has been appointed manager of the state industrial school by Gov. Flower.

A chair in Egyptology at University college, Oxford, was founded by Miss Amelia Edwards by a provision in her will, and it will be filled by Prof. W. M. Flinders Petrie, who will enter upon his duties after the holidays.

The Alabama legislature is considering a bill appropriating $15,000 in addition to the $10,000 already appropriated for the purpose of arranging an exhibit at the world's fair. None of it is to become payable until a like sum is raised by private subscription.

Daniel H. Chandler, of Portland, Me., who in 1863 had one of the best military bands in the service of the government, and is one of the oldest bandmasters in the country, lies seriously ill. In his selections and methods he was considered a good deal of a musical reformer in his day.

Bishop Paret, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Maryland and the District of Columbia, will soon have built a steamer which will be fitted as a church. The boat will carry the bishop and his assistants to the oyster dredging grounds on Sunday, where services will be held.

Lady Florence Dixie, who is an expert in the use of rod and rifle, and who has done her share in shooting big game, has provoked the wrath of her sporting compatriots by denouncing fox hunting and rabbit coursing as wanton cruelty. She advocates the substitution of the snipe bag.

Prof. Charles Squard has been lecturing in Philadelphia on the wickedness of that city and Boston, and pronounced the two cities worse than Paris. In the modern Athens much indignation is felt, especially over the insinuation that Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes is a plagiarist. To get even with Prof. Squard the Boston News calls him a "Rudyard Kipling."

One of the charitable acts of Father Time is the tempering of the mortal mind to the culmination of life's errors. Poor Ferdinand de Lesseps, who deserved to bear his honors to the grave, outlived the day when those who played upon his name were asked to meet their accusers. But his impaired mind keeps him in ignorance of the fact that the outraged public holds him jointly responsible for the millions that were mulcted from them in his name.

Annie Wilson Patterson, a native of Ireland, is one of the few women who have been given the title of musical doctor. With the exception of the princess of Wales, whose title may be supposed to be partly, at least, complimentary, Miss Patterson is the only woman bearing that title in the British empire. She was graduated as bachelor of music from the Royal Irish university in 1887—also bachelor of arts, and in 1889 from the Royal Irish academy as doctor of music.

D. L. Kekernol, a veteran of three wars and for over sixty years a citizen of Texas, died at his home in Gonzales. He was 88 years old and a native of Holland, but of Jewish parentage. In 1850 he joined the Methodist church. He was at the battle of San Jacinto, where Texas overthrew the Mexicans under Santa Ana, served in the Mexican war and was four years in the army of the confederacy. He leaves a vast fortune and 280 direct descendants.

Hildegard Hawthorne, the eldest daughter of the novelist and eldest grandchild of the great Hawthorne, is a remarkably pretty, fresh faced girl who does not appear like the intellectual heir of "The Scarlet Letter," nor of "Garth." Yet she probably deserves the distinction of being the youngest contributor to our first-class monthlies. A wonderfully clever and Hawthornesque sketch by her was published in Harper's when its author had scarcely reached her eighteenth birthday.

Political biography notes that when he is inaugurated next March Mr. Cleveland will lack but a few days of being 50 years old, which is the average age of presidents on their accession. The oldest president was William Henry Harrison, who was 68; Buchanan was 62; Taylor, 63; Jackson and Adams, 62; Monroe, 59; Jefferson, Madison and J. Q. Adams, 58; Benjamin Harrison, 56; Hayes, 54; Lincoln, 52; Tyler and Arthur, 51; Polk and Fillmore, 50; Garfield and Pierce, 49; Cleveland, 48, and Grant, the youngest president, 47.

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS.

The Relief Fund.

The report of the state relief commission has been sent to Gov. Boyd. The state's relief has been extended to the people of thirty-six counties, and the number of people benefited together with the amount of money expended in each county is shown below. It will be borne in mind that the figures which show that 191,660 persons were aided do not refer to separate individuals. In other words, if ten persons were aided three separate times the figures would show thirty persons in the aggregate. The tabulated statement below shows only the amounts expended for fuel, clothing and provisions, but does not show the money used for the purchase of grain for seed:

Table with columns: County, Perms. Relieved, Amount Expended. Lists counties like Banner, Blaine, Box Butte, etc., with corresponding figures.

In addition to the above a large amount of money was expended for seed grain. Toting the reports of the county clerks as to the acreage and yield of the several counties to which relief was extended, the commission estimates the following as the cash value of the grain raised from the seed furnished by the state: Wheat, $1,071,248; corn, $5,551,415; barley, $287,383; oats, $89,053; potatoes, $50,080. Total, $7,049,181.

WINSIDE is to have a new bank, with a capital stock of $20,000.

HERMAN POLMERHEN, a bachelor who resides on a farm near Hubbard, was awakened by a noise in his room the other night, and opening his eyes found himself confronted by two masked men with revolvers drawn. They tied his hands behind his back with a leather strap and requested him to bring forth his money. Polmerhen went to his bureau drawer and gave them about $800 in silver and a bank check for several hundred dollars. They refused to take the check. They then left. It is evident the thieves intended to secure much booty, as Polmerhen had sold fifty head of hogs that day, but fortunately did not receive his pay.

In his annual report to the governor Dr. Bowman, superintendent for the state hospital for the insane at Lincoln, asks for the following appropriations: For new wing to building, $50,000; for rebuilding kitchen block and additions to general dining room, sleeping rooms and amusement hall, etc., $20,000; for new ice house and cold storage room, $2,500; for new system of locks, $500; for new roof to entire building, with iron cornice, $6,300; for new boiler and pump house, $1,500; for fencing farm lands, $1,000; for permanent fence, $6,000; for finishing basement, $2,000. Total, $119,800. In addition to the above Superintendent Bowman asks for maintenance the sum of $181,300.

At a late meeting of the state board of educational lands and funds held in Lincoln for the purpose of considering the alleged frauds perpetrated in the leasing of school lands in Perkins county, it satisfactorily appearing to the board that the several leases of school lands in Perkins county, made by the county treasurer of said county on the 25th of November, 1892, were not made in accordance with law, nor was the interest of the state subserved thereby, and of right should be set aside. It was resolved that each and all application for lease of the said school lands of Perkins county be rejected and set aside, and Hon. A. R. Humphrey, commissioner of public lands and buildings, be instructed to forthwith readvertise and lease said lands in manner provided by law.

The report of the superintendent of the boys' industrial school states that during the existence of the school 550 inmates have been received and 575 dismissed. Of the number dismissed the superintendent says that fully 80 per cent. are conducting themselves in a manner to reflect credit upon the school. The average population of the school approximates 225. The superintendent recommends the erection of a chapel, the purchase of a new dynamo and a larger engine for running the machinery in the laundry, printing office and iron and wood working departments. Superintendent Malleliu also recommends that the law should be amended making 16 years the maximum age for commitment to the school. His estimate for the expenses of maintaining the school for the next two years is $121,719. The appropriation two years ago was $137,748.

FIRE at Tobias the other day destroyed the Masil building and its entire contents. The ground floor was occupied by H. H. Cowgill as a general merchandise store and the second story by Dr. J. H. Borland as a dentist's office and Hiram Townsend as a dwelling. The Townsend family barely escaped with their lives.

While playing with an elder brother at Nebraska City the other day the sixteen-months-old child of John Omaha met with a distressing accident. The children were playing with a pair of scissors, when they were dropped, the sharp point penetrating the little girl's eye, destroying the sight.

CONGRESS.

Condensed Report of the Proceedings of Both Houses.

The senate was in session three hours on the 12th and did but little business. The anti-opium bill came up but was laid over a day in order to have it correctly printed. The subject which occupied most of the session was Mr. Vest's joint resolution for the appointment of a commission to have an agreement made with the five civilized tribes of Indians for the taking of lands in severalty, and for opening the remainder of the lands to white settlement. The discussion was chiefly between Senators Vest and Berry, who were both agreed as to the main object proposed, but who differed as to some statements of facts. The matter went over without action. The session of the house was short, little of interest occurring except the dramatic episode which opened the proceedings in the spontaneous ovation tendered to Speaker Crisp and Mr. Amos Cummings' resolution to investigate the alleged misuse of the mails.

In the senate on the 13th the joint resolution for the appointment of a commission to make an agreement with the five civilized tribes of Indians for allotment of their lands in severalty, and for opening the Indian territory to settlement, was discussed during the morning hour, and then went over without action. The anti-opium bill was taken up and the rest of the day's session was occupied by Mr. George, of Mississippi, in advocacy of that bill. In the house a contest took place between the ways and means and the appropriations committees as to which should investigate the treasury, which was won by the former. Most of the day was consumed in considering the senate bill enlarging the provisions of the act for the distribution of the awards made under the convention between the United States and Mexico of the La Abra claims. Other proceedings were unimportant.

The famous McGarrahan claim occupied the attention of the senate on the 14th up to 2 o'clock, when it went over, the question being upon the passage of the bill over the president's veto sent in at the late session. Mr. George then continued his speech in favor of the anti-opium bill. Before his speech was concluded the bill was laid aside, and Mr. Daniel's resolution calling for information on the subject of the civil service was taken up and agreed to. After a short executive session the senate adjourned. In the house, after a brief debate, the army appropriation bill passed. Among the other measures passed was the bill extending the provisions of the act for the immediate transportation of goods to Duluth, Minn. Also a bill extending for one year the provisions of the act authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Red river. Adjourned.

In the senate on the 15th a strong presentation in favor of the claimant in the McGarrahan case was made by Mr. Hinton, of Virginia. The chief point made by him was, that after a hearing before President Lincoln in which both sides were represented by counsel, Mr. Lincoln had decided in support of the claim and had directed the issuance of a patent, that the patent was actually filed out and signed and that it was afterwards before McGarrahan knew of its existence, mutilated in the land office of the interior department. Mr. George brought to a close his three-day speech in favor of the anti-opium bill, and Mr. Washburn made a determined but fruitless effort to have a day devoted to the senate bill. The McGarrahan amendment to the senate bill of last session extending to Duluth, Minn., the privilege of the first section of the "immediate transportation of suitable goods" act was presented and concurred in. The senate then went into executive session and soon adjourned till Monday. The house agreed to a resolution for a holiday recess from the Thursday before Christmas to the Wednesday after New Year. The bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to convey into the treasury $48,800 of the appropriation for the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians passed. A bill was passed to ratify and confirm an agreement with the Kickapoo Indians in Oklahoma territory. Adjourned until Saturday.

BANDITS OF THE SAHARA.

The Touaregs said to be the Worst of All Organized Robbers.

The Touaregs are the most formidable band of professional brigands in the world. They occupy the entire central part of the Sahara, from Ghatames on the north to Timbuctoo on the south. It is impossible to give an approximate idea of their numbers. Dr. Supan estimates the population of the entire Sahara at 2,500,000, and it is probable that the twenty-six sub-families of the great tribe of the Touaregs number at least 400,000 souls. All the trade routes from Algeria and Tunis, and some of those from Morocco and Tripoli, pass through their territory. It was these fanatical nomads who murdered Miss Tinné, the handsome young heiress of Holland, whose devotion to the cause of discovery led to her tragical fate in the desert. The Touaregs murdered the entire Flatters expedition. They killed a half dozen Catholic priests who were toiling across the desert to found missions in the Soudan. Lient Palat, and a little later, Camille Douls, both of whom were undertaking the hazardous journey to Timbuctoo, met death by violence in the Touareg country. But their hand is turned no more against the whites than against every traveler in their land who has plunder worth seizing.

The Central Sahara is a land where violence is supreme, where treachery is the only law. Not one of the murderers of white travelers has been punished. Ernest Mercier and M. Le Chatelier have graphically described the reign of terror in this great region. Many thousands of Arabs or Arab-Berbers who live by camel raising, spend their lives in the Touareg country or around its borders. They guard their herds with arms in their hands, but very often the guards are killed by a sudden descent of Touaregs, and the herds are driven away to enrich the bandit camps. Only those Arab tribes are safe that pay heavy blackmail to be let alone. Trading caravans are always on the lookout for black specks on the horizon that may indicate the approach of the desert pirates. As soon as a suspected group appears in the distance the camels are collected and made to lie down, the goods are piled up behind them, and inside this double rampart the traders open fire when the enemy comes within range. More than half the time the Touaregs win the day, and the booty that falls to them they regard as an ample recompense for the losses they sustain.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Letter of the Law.

Boy (on a bridge)—Say, mister, if you don't look out you'll be fined. Teamster—Why will I? Boy—That sign says "Walk your horses," don't it? Teamster—Jesso. Boy—Well, yours are standing still.—Good News.

Smith—I see the dispatches state that the king of Bavaria is a bankrupt. Mrs. Smith—That's too bad. How did it happen? Smith—I don't know. I suppose he started a newspaper.—Texas Siftings

Mrs. Anna Sutherland Kalamazoo, Mich., had swellings in the neck, or Goitre from her 40th year, causing great suffering. When she caught cold could not walk two blocks without fainting. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now free from it all. She has urged many others to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and they have also been cured. It will do you good.

HOOD'S PILLS Cure all Liver Ills, Jaundice, Sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, nausea.

"August Flower"

"One of my neighbors, Mr. John Gilbert, has been sick for a long time. All thought him past recovery. He was horribly emaciated from the inaction of his liver and kidneys. It is difficult to describe his appearance and the miserable state of his health at that time. Help from any source seemed impossible. He tried your August Flower and the effect upon him was magical. It restored him to perfect health to the great astonishment of his family and friends." John Quibell, Holt, Ont.

JAY GOULD.

After all Jay Gould died of consumption. The doctors said he had neuralgia and Jay offered a million of dollars to any one who would cure him of his trouble. It turned out that he did not have neuralgia at all, but simply consumption. Don't you make this same mistake. If you feel that your lungs are weak or that you are subject to colds and coughs, or if your throat be sore and tender, get a bottle of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure and take it freely. It contains no poison and it is the only cough remedy on the market that ministers to all of the excretory organs. The small bottles cost twenty-five cents, large size fifty cents. Every druggist has it. SYLVAN REMEDY CO., Peoria, Ill.
