CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The opening of the extraordinary session of the Fifty-third congress, as far as the house was concerned, was unmarked by anything of a sensational character and was merely formal. Speaker Crisp was re-elected and without more than the usual political opposition, and as he took his seat he was enthusiastically received. In a few brief words he pledged himself to perform the duties of his high office with honor, fairness and impartiality. The only incident worthy of note was the objection made by Mr. Burrows of Michigan to the swearing in of George F. Richardson, Democrat, as representative from the Fifth Michigan district. Charles E. Bolknop claims to be entitled to the seat on a prima facie case. The consideration of the question was postponed.

A committee was appointed to wait on the president to inform him that congress was organized and ready to receive any communication he might see fit. The biennial drawing for seats proceeded amid laughter, cheers and alterations of pleasure and disappointment.

The house adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late William Enoch of Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The house was called to order promptly at noon and prayer was offered by the newly elected chaplain, Rev. Dr. Halaway. The journal, which was rather a lengthy one, was then read and approved and the house took a recess until 12:45 p. m. After the recess Mr. Springer (Dem., Ills.), chairman of the committee appointed to wait upon the president, reported that the president would communicate in writing a message to congress forthwith. Instantly Mr. Pruden, one of the president's secretaries, made his bow and sent the important document to the clerk's desk, where it was read by Clerk Kerr.

The president's message was listened to with interest by the members of the house, and at the conclusion of its reading was greeted with general applause, not confined to any section of the chamber.

The Michigan election case, pending between Richardson and Bolknop, was taken taken up.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The senate assembled at noon in obedience to the president's proclamation and spent just half an hour in session. During that brief space of time, however, the oath of office was administered to Senator Quay of Pennsylvania, who had not been present at the last special session of the senate, and to Senator Pascoe of Florida, who had been re-elected by the legislature of his state since the adjournment of the special session. The oath of office was also administered to the new secretary, Mr. Cox. The resignation of Senator Beckwith was announced in a communication from that gentleman. The usual committee to wait upon the president and inform him that congress was in session and ready to receive any communication he might be pleased to make was appointed; but before the committee had time to perform that duty the senate adjourned in respect to the memory of the late Senator Stanford of California. There were 75 senators present.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The proceedings in the senate were of great public interest. In the first place, the president's message was read and listened to with marked attention on both sides of the chamber—not a sound was heard. The message was referred to the committee on finance and its immediate printing was ordered. Then the floodgates of legislation were thrown wide open and a current of bills on finances and other subjects were admitted. Mr. Hill of New York was the first senator to get in a bill for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. Mr. Stewart of Nevada followed with two other bills, and a speech, on the same subject. In the speech, he declared himself against the repeal of the Sherman act, as such repeal would, he said, destroy silver coinage forever. A resolution was offered by Mr. Lodge of Massachusetts, directing the committee on finance to report a bill for the repeal of the Sherman purchasing clause of the act and providing for a vote on the passage of a bill by the 23d of August, if not sooner reached. This resolution was supplemented by another, offered by Mr. Hale of Maine, fixing the hour of meeting of the senate from and after Thursday next at 11 a. m. These resolutions precipitated a discussion in which several of the leading senators on both sides of the chamber participated. They went over without action.

BALD HEADS

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER

Is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mercury nor arsenic. It is not a dye, but a delicately cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it does nothing but what nature intended, and grows hair on bald heads.

Prepared on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 6 for $5.00. Disp., 75c per jar; 6 for $4.00.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Bean, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Jonestown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Devo & Grice.

The World's Fair. Reports from Chicago are a unit in demonstrating what a great many people have all asserted, viz.: that visitors to the World's Fair can find more class accommodations at very moderate figures. The fact is, there is very little difficulty in securing a good room at $1.00 a day. That surely is reasonable enough for anyone! As to the cost of getting to Chicago, the Burlington Route's local agent will gladly give you full information.
