BRIEF MENTION.

John Kellogg is home from Oklahoma. N. W. Kingsland was in Franklin this week. Rev. Putman was in Hebron this week. S. F. Spokesfield was in Hebron this week. Porter Hedge was in Bloomington this week. Nightwatch Miller is suffering with a sore eye. Cong. McKeighan was in Lincoln this week. Mrs. Truman, of the Nation, is very sick this week. G. A. Harris and wife of Cowles were in the city Tuesday. C. E. Putman and wife of Cowles were in the city this week. Geo. B. Lea and Isaac Fish renewed for THE CHIEF this week. Fred Peterson is a new subscriber to the Great Family Weekly. Miss Montrose of Beaver City was visiting in the city Sunday. Mrs. J. O. Lindley is visiting her daughter in McCook this week. Finest line of Boston drops at Calmes' bakery, that are to be seen in the city. Misses Clara and Mabel McMillan have returned from their visit to Omaha. Charley Calmes will have 1000 pounds of the finest fancy candies for Christmas. The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Barker through the month of December. Mrs. Nellie Braudt of Republican city, is visiting Miss Rose Green this week. Mrs. W. H. Fuller, who has been on the sick list for two weeks, is again able to be up. Wm. Sargent of Kansas, an old friend of Mr. Jno. Gilbert, was in Red Cloud this week. W. N. Richardson has extended his fence to the north, much beautifying its appearance. W. H. Shultz, Jake Autzen and Phil Zigler, of Riverton were in the city Monday. J. B. Christ, who was recently a resident of this place, has returned from from California. C. L. Cotting's store is beginning to look like fairy land—there are so many pretty things displayed. Red Cloud is getting quite metropolitan, as far as fires go. We have had five or six in the last few weeks. Banker McLaughlin and grain dealer Shottenkirk, of Bladen, were pleasant callers at this office Monday. Mrs. McVey and daughter started Tuesday morning for Indiana, where they will reside in the future. T. W. Herrington, brother-in-law of J. W. McIntyre, was in Red Cloud this week. He expects to locate here. Rev. C. M. Larsen of Mankato, Minnesota, is visiting with the family of O. to Skjelver of Catherton township. Wm. McIntosh of Alma was in the city this week, and while here, bought 200 tons of hay of W. N. Richardson. We now have Mrs. Southworth's stores, beautifully bound for 50c per volume; regular price $1.50.—C. L. Cotting. W. E. Morlan and family have returned from Kansas, where they have been spending a few weeks visiting relatives. E. P. Bolton, proprietor of the B. & M. eating house, is visiting and attending to some business in Oskaloosa, Iowa, this week. Henry Clark and Sam Miller were in Guide Rock Saturday, erecting an elegant monument for the Red Cloud Marble Works. "Jones," the irrepressible, has after a long trip in which he endured many hardships, returned to his old stamping ground in Red Cloud. Pension attorney, J. Porter Jr. has again been successful in procuring a pension for Mrs. Sarah Peters, late of vicinity of Guide Rock. The front of J. O. Lindley's store relieved a coat of paint this week which greatly beautifies its appearance, Cowden and Hadley were the painters. The public school gave entertainments of a varied nature on Wednesday. They were reported to be excellent and highly appreciated by all present. W. W. Wright has purchased the dwelling house lately occupied by J. Murray Guilts. They will fit it up in a nice manner and move there soon. Johnny Bassett, the affable proprietor of the steam ferry-boat which visited Red Cloud last, in company with Wm. Good passed through here this week enroute to their home in Lebanon. John Kellogg, who has resided in Red Cloud nearly 20 years, has decided to move to Oklahoma. John's many friends in Red Cloud will be sorry to hear of his intention of leaving Webster county but wish him success in his new home. Rufus Milesch and Jno. Barkley fought it out according to gooseberry rules in Lew Albright's store Monday night, over some difficulty imagined or otherwise. The referee was not decided as to the winner, as by the time Rufus led out with his right, John got one in with his left, and time was called and the mill decided a draw. Our particular friend, O. C. Case, who has been dwelling at Hot Springs, South Dakota, for some weeks for the benefit of his health, has returned home much improved. THE CHIEF is pleased to note that his familiar face is again to be seen on our streets and we hope he may live for many years to come. He is enjoying a lucrative law practice and richly deserves it. Success to him.

Both papers are classed among the greatest, and those who invest their money this way will be sure to get value received. Some miscreant, with malice aforethought, tried to burn the Plattsmouth Herald, owned by Frank Potter, known in Red Cloud as "Precipes Potter." The man who would burn a printing office ought to be burned to a "steak," taken out of the side of a rhinoceros. The new story in this issue, entitled "A Study in Scarlet," is one which has much fame, and should be read by everyone. Its author, A. Conan Doyle, is a forcible writer, and has made the story to suit everyone. It is humorous, pathetic and romantic, and has been all the rage in some localities. Ben Adhem Lodge at its annual election of officers, elected the following: W. M. Million N. G. W. B. Roby, V. G. A. O. Berg, Treasurer. Chas. Schaffert Rec. Sec'y. J. A. Tulleys, P. Sec'y. G. W. Daw. S. E. Cozad, and W. Roby trustees. Charley Winfrey is doing some very excellent work, as auctioneer and is fast gaining a splendid reputation in that line. The other day at Charley Hoppe's sale in Kansas he sold cows from $28 to $30 per head, and hogs, horses, etc., in the same satisfactory manner. He also did equally well at Mark Noble's sale in Walnut creek. He cries John Kellogg's sale on the 6th. Fresh oysters every day at Calmes' bakery.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—Last Saturday night about 9 o'clock, the fire bell sounded and the fire was located in the south part of town near the depot, between Walnut and Bluff streets. The property was owned by Mrs. Martha Belford of Oklahoma territory, and was occupied by Mrs. Anna Scott, a widow with three children. She had been up town, and hearing the alarm, hastened home to find her property on fire, but a good share of the household goods had been saved. Geo. O. Yeiser was the agent for the building. Neither the house nor its contents were insured. A large crowd attended the blaze. Strange things are the outcome of the official count at every election. Take this county's vote on university regents. In voting the ticket one would suppose not one voter in five thousand would give any attention only to see whether his party name preceded that of the candidate, and thus they would go with the head of the ticket. Yet the republicans carried one of these offices, Mr. Kaley of Red Cloud, by 55 majority, while populists carried the head of the ticket by exactly the same majority. On coroner and surveyor the figures were again reversed, the republican candidate for surveyor getting 34 majority while the populist candidate for coroner had the same majority.—Superior Journal. PLACIDIOUS WEDDING.—Yesterday, Thanksgiving day, at 10 a. m., occurred the marriage of Mr. John C. Dickerson, and Miss Edith Gertrude Pond, at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Cline's in this city. The event was of a peculiar character and involved a novel feature, inasmuch as the nuptial rites were performed by lamp light the house darkened and artistically decorated for the occasion. It was a tranquil unassuming affair, only a few friends being present. Rev. E. L. Ely tied the hymenal knot in an impressive manner, which united for life two loving hearts, and placed in co-operation two bright and vigorous young minds to battle with the adversities of an uncertain future. The contracting parties are well and favorably known to a majority of our people, both having resided here since childhood, and shared till the age of maturity the varied experiences of a pleasant domestic life in the city. The bride is blessed with grace and beauty, is accomplished and versatile, and held in high estimation by all who know her. The groom is the son of our respected townsman W. M. Dickerson, and is at present occupying a responsible position with the Kirschbaum-Haskill Produce Co., and commands the implicit confidence of his employer. Both are extremely popular socially and generally, and as they set sail in their matrimonial bark, they have the sincere kind wishes of a large acquaintance, for a safe journey through life. The S. of V. band, to which the groom belongs paid the couple an excellent serenade on Thanksgiving night, and received a cordial welcome. THE CHIEF acknowledges a choice variety of delicious cakes, and well knowing the true merits of both young people, extends congratulations and wishes them a life of perennial sunshine. BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.—A genuine surprise party was given Mr. Hugh Miner on his 22d birthday, which event occurred Tuesday, the 28th inst. The occasion was suggested and the guests were invited by the Misses Mary and Margaret Miner, whose debarment proclivities have long since placed them in the front ranks of society, and in the zenith of esteem of their acquaintances. The nature of the entertainment was a card social, and by mutual agreement the game was made progressive high-five. The interior of the palatial Miner residence was elegantly arranged for the pleasure of the guests, and the several handsome tables were soon occupied by the merry young people, eager to attain some excellence in the game, or capture the prize awarded to the winner of the most games, accordingly, a card was issued to each person, on which the games were tallied. The contest was thoroughly enjoyed, and at its close, the first prizes were awarded to Miss Della Bolton and Wallace Wright, and the "hooby" prize to Robert McBride. At the conclusion of the contest an elegant supper was served, comprising all the various delicacies that heart could wish, with magnificent dessert of the choicest fruits. After the repast, the company was delighted with classical musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, and after a brief social intermingling, they repaired to their respective homes, profuse in extollment of the modes employed in their innocuous entertainment, and the kind and hospitable manner in which they were treated. The following guests were present: Misses Jennie Bell, Della Bolton, Grace Fort, Helen Roby, Cora Kaley, Grace Boudine, Amelia Purer, Mrs. Walter Sherwood, Messrs. R. K. Stowe, Ernest Bolton, Amos Cowden, Robt. McBride, Henry Richmond, Charley Landmesser, Thad McNitt, Allie Albright, Homer Sherwood, Wallace Wright, Dave Kaley, Irvin Cummings, John Tulleys. While politicians are con testing fairly elected officers we are fairly treating trade by giving more goods for the money than any other merchant in the city.—Chicago Clothing Co. A. MORHART & SON.

The masquerade given at the fireman's hall Thanksgiving night was in many ways a success, and in as many ways a failure. There was a large crowd, and all were masked, the dancing went on nicely until some inebriated tough started a row and things for a time assumed a very riotous aspect. The troublesome individuals were soon excluded however and the dance proceeded nicely there being 50 numbers sold. If Geo. McCall and Henry Diederich had the co-operation of the officers, they would always have good order. The prizes for the best costumes, were awarded to four people. The first prizes to Miss Josephine Shearer and Mr. Chas. McCord. Second prizes to Miss May Young and Mr. J. G. Sapp. Last Sunday night the Methodist church gave a musical concert, and as there was no service at the Congregational church, the church was filled to overflowing and the back of the church was crowded with those who could not find sitting room. The concert consisted of choruses, anthems, solos, trios and male quartets. The solo by Mrs. Baum was especially good. Mr. Cotting, leader of the Congregational choir, kindly assisted in the services. This was one of the best concerts that has been given. Mrs. Beal, the organist, has worked hard and faithfully to help make the choir what it is. The choir is practicing a cantata entitled "The Ship of Life," which they hope to produce soon. We understand they will give another concert the latter part of December.
