

THE CHIEF JUST LIKE CHICAGO

A. C. HOSMER, Editor. LARROY TAIT, Asst. Local Editor. P. A. Williams of Riverton has purchased the Riverton Guard and has changed the name of the paper to The Review.

We notice by the Lexington Pioneer that Jack McCall is a thoroughbred candidate for governor. Jack is all right, but we opine that Gov. Crounse, although said to have declined, will be the next nominee of the republican party for that important office.

A Red Cloud exchange is quite certain that James McNeny of that city will succeed Congressman McKeighan. But that well meaning contemporary is mistaken. McKeighan's probable successor lives in Hastings. McCook Tribune.

Now, our good brother, is as liable, we take it, to be in error as THE CHIEF, and we say when asked what county he hailes from, our sole reply shall be he hailes from Webster County. See!

Every newspaper man thinks he has a pretty tough time of it occasionally, but the following complaint clipped from a Tennessee paper down there all: "We are mad. D—n the people! How can they expect us out here twelve miles from a railroad, twenty-five miles from a river, millions of miles from heaven, about two miles from the devil, and about two hundred yards from a whiskey shop, to get out a live newspaper?"

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21, 1894. EDITOR WEALTH MAKERS: I have been informed that some of your correspondents have mentioned me as their choice for the office as United States senator. I desire space in your paper to say to my friends that under no circumstance will I permit the use of my name as a candidate for senator. My decision was made known to some of my friends more than one year ago, and it will not be changed. This is no empty conclusion; it was reached after a careful consideration of my duty to the people of my state, which has within its ranks many earnest and able men, any of whom would do honor to the state if elected senator.

I am, sir, yours for victory and right, W. A. MCKEIGHAN. From the above we should judge that our congressman was laying the wires for congress again, inasmuch as Senatorial honors are somewhat remote besides uncertain. By the time snow flies again new legislators will be elected, and they will be republicans too, and Senator Anderson will succeed himself again See!

THE OLD WOMAN.—Of all ungalant epithets that some men use in speaking of the wife of their bosom, none perhaps is more often used than "the old woman." Young married men soon form the habit of this woman culture and think it smart. "Dear Angelina" and "Molly Darling" only hear their pet names for a short time when "hubby" will address the nursemaid of the community as "Old Woman." The wife soon begins to think that she is growing old and one by one of her youthful charms disappear, and ere long that brightest vivacity that "would raise mortals to the skies" is gone, and in its place the effervescent spirit of discontent takes its place. Once he was wont to address her as "my angel of the golden tresses," but now he calls her "old sorrel top." Wonders "why she has changed so!" while he is all love and affability, kicks the cat into the cream jar, and is off to town till midnight, just to make the "old woman" hot. As a general thing this class of men who have "old woman" on the brain are chronic grumblers and fault finders. If the recent freeze froze his potatoes, why! the "old woman" is to blame, he didn't want to plant for a month yet. If the rats have eaten up his seed corn, he will saddle the blame on the "old woman." He will persist in buying the cheapest grade of flour in order to have an excuse to blame the "old woman" for not having bread up to the standard of a "Viennese loaf." If he is a republican, he blames the "old woman" for hard times and the defeat of his party in '92. If he is a democrat, the "old woman" is responsible for the McKinley bill, the low prices of corn and the hog cholera. And when life's bitter fever is over, and Satan invites him in to his engine room, he will say, "Well if it hadn't been for the 'old woman,' I'd been on the cupola of paradise. Will some of our scientists invent an "old woman" cure and bring the millennium! The pessimist no doubt would dread the cure, but—"If right makes might the world would be better for it."

BAND ANNIVERSARY.—At the regular meeting of the Red Cloud S. of V. Cornet Band the following officers were elected for the year of 1895: President, Oscar Patmor; Vice President, Walter Warren; Secretary, H. J. Clark; Treasurer, O. C. Bell; Business manager, O. C. Bell; Asst. business manager, H. J. Clark. By an invitation from O. C. Bell, the band and their ladies met at the home of O. C. Bell and family to celebrate their 2d anniversary. The evening was spent in various amusements. The band rendered some of their excellent music. A most delicious supper was served, after which the band rendered National Fencibles, and bid-departed for their several homes. The following were present: Messrs. Oscar Patmor, Harry Miller, Walter Warren, Robt. McBride, Sam Miller, Thad McRobt, A. B. Sellars, F. J. Grice, Amos Cowden, H. J. Clark, Geo. Headricks; Mrs. H. H. Hurley of Denver, Misses Belle Spanogle, Mary Detour, Jessie Warren, Jessie McKeighan, Lois Pope, Blanch Sellars, Bertha Talbot, Retta Ayer, Jennie Bell, Lillie Smith, J. C. Dickerson and wife, Wm. West and wife, G. J. Warren and wife, O. C. Bell and wife.

THE LOCAL CITY CONGRESS.

Has a Wordy War over the Mayor's Appointments at a Recent Special Session.

We have read about wars of various kinds, local wars, the war of the rebellion and the rebellious war, and Red Cloud has had quite a sufficiency of the latter during the last ten days. During the first of April, the City elected new officers among them a mayor, Hon. W. B. Roby. A month later he took his seat in the council chamber. Things went swimmingly on until the appointments were made, and then the rebellious war commenced. One of the learned council objected to the procedure. The mayor did not name the candidates, but allowed an Alderman to do so, when up jumped an Alderman, and in flowing language denounced His Honor in no uncertain terms. The mayor thought he knew his business, but the war went on, two Aldermen voting for the nomination and two against, and the mayor cast the deciding vote in favor of the nominee and the war went merrily on. Then another appointment was made. This did not suit the people although the council confirmed it, and a great deal of incendiary talk was indulged, and the war went on. The council finally adjourned to meet again on Monday night. It convened and about one hundred and fifty citizens gathered themselves together at the council chamber to see the fun, and the war went on. Finally His Honor, convened the council. The clerk read the minutes. The first thing that came up was the approving the bond of Harvey Vincent as water commissioner. Ald. Potter jumped up and began a Senatorial speech on the subject. He gave a great deal of expert testimony on the subject of appointments, and several times drew forth great applause. His Honor called him to order, but like the boy on the burning deck "He would not leave his post," but kept on in the even tenor and sometimes deep bass way. Finally a vote was called on the bond, and the war went on, and so did Ald. Potter.

He said, "That a bond that had been changed without the consent of the sureties was invalidated," and he was right. The bond was not approved. Here Col. Winfrey, sent in his resignation as marshal, and it was accepted. The mayor thereupon presented the name of V. Williams for the position at a salary of $40. The council by a vote of 1 to 3 failed to confirm. Then His Honor appointed Will West as street commissioner. This appointment was confirmed by the council. During the evening remonstrances were read against the appointment of Vincent as water commissioner and engineer, and the fire department presented a set of resolutions, which we give below in favor of Mr. Vincent's appointment, and the war went on.

RESOLUTIONS. RED CLOUD, Neb., May 7, 1894. WHEREAS: It has been called to the attention of the officers and members of the Red Cloud Volunteer Fire Department, that remonstrance has been filed with the city clerk, and

WHEREAS, said remonstrance is seemingly aimed at the said Fire Department for the reason that the Honorable Mayor and City Council saw fit to appoint a member of said fire department to the office of water commissioner and engineer at the water works, therefore be it

Resolved; That this fire department now in special meeting, extend our thanks and appreciation of the favor and courtesy extended by said Honorable Mayor and city council for the appointment made of said commissioner and engineer.

Resolved; That it is the belief of this department that the appointment will prove beneficial, and that a more efficient service will be had, and be it further

Resolved; That, at the expiration of 60 days from date of appointment, if the said system of water works does not show an improvement and that the cost of maintaining the same is not less, and that the Honorable Mayor and city council have any just reasons to believe that such is not the fact, then this department will concur in the removal of the present incumbent.

Signed, A. J. Tomlinson, Chief, G. B. McCall, Secretary, J. O. Butler, Treasurer, L. A. Ault, Jos. Herburger, H. Dietherich, Foreman No 2 H. Holtzman, E. Cook, L. M. Vance, G. W. Smelser, R. P. Hutchinson, R. V. Ferris, H. Sowler, C. L. Winfrey, A. M. Ault, T. W. Hatfield, Robt. McBride, F. P. Hadley, J. G. Sapp, E. Groat.

On Wednesday morning while the citizens were breakfasting Engineer Sellars was taking charge of the pumping Mr. Vincent the night before. This created quite a talk on the streets during the day. We here annex the bill of procedure in the case.

State of Nebraska, vs. Harvey Vincent, IN JUSTICE WEST COURT J. M. Sellars, plaintiff, being first duly sworn, deposes and says that he has a special property in, to wit: as water engineer of the city of Red Cloud, county and state aforesaid, the following described property to wit: The key to the east door of the engine house of the water works of the city of Red Cloud, and is entitled to the immediate possession of the same, and that said property is wrongfully detained by one Harvey Vincent; that said property was not taken in execution on any order of judgment against the plaintiff, or for the payment of any tax, fine or arrearment assessed against him, or by virtue of any order of delivery issued in replevin, or any other measure or final process issued against this plaintiff. (Signed) J. M. Sellars. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of May 1894.—ROBERT T. POTTER, Notary Public.

About 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the mayor called another special meeting of the council and appointed Harry Pond as water commissioner, which was confirmed.

Now as far as this paper is concerned we think the whole proceedings are out of order and much of it a disgrace to the city. It does not look well for business men to resort to such measures in order to make a little notoriety or political capital. The people elect their representatives to do business for them and they expect them to do it or resign and let the vacancies be filled by men who will.

THAT CITY WATER.—For the last few years we have heard a great deal about the city water. We have been led to believe that good water could be secured by spending money upon the bottoms at the present location of the pumping station, and as far as it goes, the water is all right, but it does not go far enough. Up to the present date the wells have cost the city in the neighborhood of $7,000, and what have we to show for it? If the money during these years had been properly expended in artesian wells there would be plenty of water. But here comes spring and before it is fairly begun the foul creek water has to be let in, impregnated with all the filth that naturally finds its way to the creek. We presume the Aldermen were honest in their purpose, but it does look like a waste of money to search after water where there is none, and keep sinking money in the ground without some good result. If there can be no better water produced, the city ought to at once, take off all rates and allow the people to have the water without cost as it is an absolute robbery to ask one to pay for such corruption as comes from the creek. If the water was properly filtered it could be used, but in its present condition it is an outrage to ask the citizens to pay for it. During the winter the water was excellent but things have changed now, and the other is the case.

THE BEAUTIFUL HILLS.—When one stops to think, he comes naturally to the conclusion that there is no other state like Nebraska, and not another city as handsomely located as Red Cloud. Situated on almost a 1000 hills, she can survey thousands of beautiful farms in every direction. On the south are the beautiful green hills dotted with farm houses and industrious farmers. On the west, north and east with handsome hills and belts of thousands of groves and other beauties of nature. With her grand stands pre-eminently ahead of any other Nebraska city for a place to build a home and live in happiness. Red Cloud received her name from the famous old Sioux Chief, Red Cloud, and if the early settlers had hunted the dictionary over for a name there could not have been found one that so admirably fitted the surroundings of our city. Then the salubrious climate, the delightful evenings, the gentle summer breezes all go toward making a man satisfied that he has at last found a local paradise.

A FRAUD.—On last Saturday, Sunday and Monday, numerous tramps visited this neck of the woods, soliciting money but not work. One fellow struck Hon Peter Shea for 25 cents. Pete told him that his exchequer was minus that amount, but that he would get him a breakfast. So they meandered towards J. O. Lindley's cafe (not eat.) Here Peter told the "boss man" to give the "Nomad" a lunch, and then it was discovered that the chap had just had breakfast. Such are the trials and vicissitudes of life. When you want to do charity, you frequently find you are imposed upon by ungrateful humanity. However, there are many who are deserving and should be cared for, according to the divine injunction, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these ye have done it unto Me."

A GOOD WELL.—The city dads ought to hire Dennis Lindsey to put down an artesian well. He has machinery to put a well down 1000 feet, and THE CHIEF believes that it would be a paying investment, and we also believe that he would put it down at almost cost. He has just completed a 335 foot well for Mr. Griffiths on the Jno. Barber west 80, and has a fine well of 250 feet of water. He struck a fine gravel bed at that depth and thinks that the well cannot be pumped dry under any circumstances. In going down he bored through 300 feet of solid rock. If he could get so good a well of water there, he certainly could get one as good or better in Red Cloud. The council should investigate it. If the $7,000 that has been spent for wells and other efforts to get water had been used in getting artesian wells, we would not now have to depend on mixed water for a diet.

Pension Attorney Porter has procured additional pensions since our last issue for De Jay Judson of this city, also original pension for George W. Patterson, both having been previously rejected cases and only restored by skillful management and experience in pension matters.

WHO IS JUDGE BENSON.—The one man who, next to Prof. Andrews, is talked of most, as the Moses to lead the republicans out of the sloughs of despair in the fifth congressional district lives at Haigler. Haigler is in Dundey county, and is only a short distance from nowhere. This man is Judge H. H. Benson. He is not a judge by courtesy, either. The Democrat has only a slight acquaintance with the gentleman, but he is no stranger in the proceedings of Iowa republican conventions. His name is not a "household word" in the Fifth district, it is true, but then Andrews was a stranger two years ago. Judge Benson is a lawyer and has served on the bench in Iowa, and gets title and handle to his name direct from the people. He is comparatively a young man, active and well-to-do. The Democrat has no knowledge that Judge Benson will be a candidate, but the papers are talking about him. Talk is cheap, but dangerous. Suppose this talk should develop a congressional bee. If so, we want to note a warning. Keep an eye on Judge Benson.—Adams County Democrat.

A CYCLONE.—On last Wednesday May 2d, the fearful looking cloud that appeared in the western horizon, and indicated rain for Red Cloud, proved to have been a veritable cyclone at Esbon, 23 miles south of Red Cloud, in our sister state of Kansas. At 5:50 p. m. the wind with terrible force struck that village and with hissing and creaking uprooted trees and demolished houses. John Butcher aged 60 years, well known in this city, and father of Mrs. Coleman, Miss Ida Butcher and Wm. Butcher of Red Cloud, while busy in his blacksmith shop, heard the roaring of the elements and thinking of another building 12x14 whose doors were open, rushed into it for the purpose of closing the same, when the building was picked up by the elements and carried a distance of 80 feet, demolishing it as if it were the merest tissue. The old gentleman was taken with it in an unconscious state. When he came to, he found himself in the midst of a shapeless debris, and being pelted with hailstones. With great violence of mind he dragged himself, as well as he could, under the circumstances, to a covering, and when the storm had subsided, he was discovered with a five inch gash in his head, a shoulder dislocated and otherwise injured, but at this writing he is doing nicely. Others were injured but not of a serious nature. During the storm, the United Brethren church, a new building was blown to atoms as well as several other buildings, aggregating a loss of something like $5,000 in that immediate neighborhood.

WHAT A PICTURE OF BEAUTY.—Red Cloud is now a picture of beauty, and if the old town could take a peep at herself in a looking glass and compare her present good looks with the slumped style in the early days she would give her bangs another twist and turn up her delicately curved nostrils at her envious neighbors. A drive through the streets of the town just now, when the trees are bursting into delicate green buds and the lawns are rich in the fresh verdure of spring, is a picture of beauty that would soften the heart of a man who is a pessimist by nature. The world is full of wonderful things, but there is nothing more wonderful or more beautiful than the re-awakening of nature when the frost gets out of the ground, when the sunshine warms its hands, and the birds fill the air with their merry songs. This is a grand world after all, rail at it as we may when the storms of adversity seem to sweep over us. And Nebraska is a grand state, when we have the seasons come in due time to brighten and cheer us up. After a long and dreary winter the first warm breath of spring breathes new life into us and gives us promise that in less than the cold winds of January come again there will be one succession of pleasant changes, and every one in its bringing the rich harvest of grain and fruit, and of every comfort and luxury that makes happy the heart of the industrious toiler. Red Cloud nestles in one of the best agricultural counties in the state, and no wonder she should be proud of what has been accomplished within a few years. Take a drive through the streets of Red Cloud and then extend your pleasure trip for miles in every direction and you will see one of the grandest pictures of prosperity that the sun ever shone upon.

THE BETTER HALF OF A SINFUL MAN.—It is often remarked that a large majority of those who regularly attend the churches in Red Cloud are women. It is safe to count that four out of five who go up to the temple to worship on the Sabbath are the mothers, wives and daughters of the men who ought to be there to show their children a good example even though they may not be of a religious turn of mind. If men took the same unselfish interest in church work that women do it would be better for them and better for the world in general. Religion is a refining and civilizing agency, and if people could only be induced to live up to its teachings they would become gentler, kinder and more lovable. Bad and all as the world is with Religion, what would it be without it? It is the anchor of safety to millions who would drift aimlessly and viciously about the sea of life if they did not have it to cling to. Life without religion is life without hope and without consolation, and leaves us nothing left to live for. Take our own county as an illustration of what religion does for a people. Those of us who have observed things for the past ten or twenty years can see marked changes for the better. It is not necessary to specify localities. When the millennium comes women will be in the front rank, and following up will come poor sinful man hanging on the skirts of his wife's gown trying to dodge into heaven on her merits.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.—Of the Nebraska weather service co-operating with the U. S. weather bureau of Omaha, Nebraska for the week ending May 7, 1894, except in the southwestern portion of the state, where vegetation is beginning to suffer for moisture, Nebraska has experienced another week of excellent farming weather. Wheat, oats and pasture show improvement; fruit prospects were never better, and all vegetation is growing vigorously. Corn planting is well under way in all parts of the state; the ground is with few exceptions in excellent condition for germinating the grain, and some correspondents report the plant already up and a good stand. The temperature for the week has been considerably above the normal while the rainfall has been light and scattered. Much of the corn planting is finished in Webster County, and some of it is up. Early planted potatoes well up. Weather generally too dry for small grains. Winter wheat about at a standstill and some of it is being plowed up.
