Republicans at Guide Rock.

A number of ladies and gentleman from this city attended the speaking at Guide Rock last Monday, where the eloquent and intrepid Hon. W. E. Andrews held a vast audience quiet for over two hours, and added more laurels to his already famous reputation as an able exponent of true republican doctrine.

Among the party were: A. Galusha and wife, T. C. Hacker and wife, L. H. Fort and wife, A. Berg and wife, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. S. F. Spokefield, Mrs. W. R. Parker, Miss Clara McMillan, M. E. Bentley, C. B. Crone, Judge Wilcox, H. D. Ranney, Joseph Garber, R. T. Potter, R. McNitt, A. H. Kaley and H. C. Richmond.

The Red Cloud party with Mr. Andrews dined at the Guide Rock hotel recently re-equipped and arranged by Mr. T. L. Watt. The accommodations were splendid and the hotel folks were very courteous to their guests.

At 2:30 p. m. the village of Guide Rock was well alive with people who soon filled the large hall to overflowing. Randolph McNitt of Red Cloud republican candidate for float representative, opened the exercises with a short, vigorous and well worded speech in which he implored the voter to avoid populist domination if possible. I. B. Hampton of Guide Rock then introduced W. E. Andrews, and Mr. Andrews proceeded in his own delightful manner to explain the vagaries of pop theories and picture with plain, careful argument the inducement to support the republican ticket. Mr. Andrews seemed at his best and the rounds of vociferous applause given him together with the careful attention he commanded, was evidence of the effect of his powerful and masterly effort. He took up the tariff and the money question and spoke of each one in such an unmistakably clear manner, that the result was conviction to many, who had heretofore thought differently. Mr. Andrews undoubtedly made votes in Guide Rock. At the close of his speech Dr. McKeeby, the senatorial candidate was called upon. The Dr. responded with a short but intensely interesting speech, which was well received and applauded. The Dr. referred to a report which some enemy had attempted to give currency, to the effect that Dr. McKeeby was not in sympathy with the old soldier. This report he showed conclusively to be an infamous lie of the most malignant character. He referred to his own army career and said "I have been asked if there was anything which would induce me to leave the republican party and I have answered that there was one thing, and that was when the republican party renounced their sympathy to the old soldiers then I would not give it my support." The Dr. said he would ever and always be found side by side with the old soldier and their interests. His speech was a very favorable impression in his interest, and an effective blow for the republican ticket. Mr. Andrews and Dr. McKeeby also spoke at night to large audiences north of Guide Rock.

"Many of the citizens of Rainville, Indiana are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This remedy has proven of so much value for colds and croup in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by Deyo & Grice.

THE WOOL IN OUR WOOLEN CLOTHING

Grows on a sheep's back—not on a cotton plant. Perhaps you have bought some of the kind of "wool" that grows on a bush, but you didn't buy it at our store. Some of our goods are part cotton of course, but they are sold as part-cotton goods—not as all wool. When you buy of us, you get just exactly what the articles are represented to be.—CHAS. WIENER.
