

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

The fire boys of our neighbor town Red Cloud Neb., are so glad they can hardly express it and correspondingly grateful, for a little benefit gotten up by the ladies which placed in the treasury the nice sum of $101.80. They say it was needed, too.—Smith Co. Kan., Pioneer.

You are quite right Bro. Nelson, it was needed badly, and our firemen could make profitable use of the proceeds from several more such events.

Some horridly mean man said last week that the snow flakes reminded him of the Barr Oak girl's kisses; awfully cold, awfully soft, and an awful lot of them.—Burr Oak Herald.

A fellow who would dare make such a raw crack about Red Cloud girls would be the laughing stock of the entire community. Red Cloud girls never kiss. See?

A Kansas printer in making up the forms the other day got a marriage and grocer's notice mixed up so as to read as follows. "John Smith and Ida Qaa were united in the bonds of holy sauerkraut, which will be sold by the quart or barrel. Mr. Smith is an esteemed codfish at ten cents while the bride has nice pigs feet to display". And still some people will say that prohibition prohibits.

The agricultural editor of the Campbell Press says: "We have a corn planter and check rower, a cultivator and a harrow, a plow and a horse, who wants a bargain?" Why don't you try George Warren of the Red Cloud Argus? If he goes to farming in the spring he will need the identical articles enumerated above. If you have a wheel-barrow a four tined fork and a pair of plow shoes he will need them too. If George will insist on turning farmer, we consider it our to see that he commences right duty.—Guide Rock Signal.

The Locomotive stands up to remark that we cannot see there is any justice in the actions of supervisors of Webster county in the way they adjusted the cost in the case of the state of Nebraska vs. Ogilbee, inasmuch as they refused to allow the claims for the defense, and also refused to allow constable B. J. Brockman his fees for services rendered, but allowed the fees for all witnesses on the prosecution side of the case. We are not posted as to the law in this matter, but it looks to us as being very unjust and then as there was something over ninety dollars allowed for costs in the case, in the name of justice what has become of the balance of the money?—Lawrence Locomotive.

There is hardly a married man (except editors) who does not carry in his pocket the picture of an attractive young woman not his wife. We violate no confidence that the name is Miss Anna Williams of Philadelphia, and her picture ornaments the silver dollar that all of us adore.—Ex.

Miss Cora Kaley of Red Cloud, one of the Franklin academy graduates, was married last week to James Kidd of Sedalia Mo.—Franklin Sentinel.

Mrs. Jack Cook and the children are visiting in Red Cloud, and Jack is "longing for some one to love him."—Republican City Democrat.

Considerable comment arose in the senate yesterday over the report that Senator McKeeby's desk was broken into during the vacation and an important bill extracted. The Senator will not talk on the subject, but through an unexpected source it was learned that the missing bill is one to make newspapers common carriers of news. Luckily a copy of the measure is in existence, and there is nothing to prevent its introduction and passage, notwithstanding the secret and desperate opposition of certain metropolitan editors. Some significance is attached to the fact that it was prepared by an Omaha attorney, supposed to be none other than John Yeiser.—Seate Journal.

The historic individual whose appetite can not be satisfied until he is elected to office.

This fellow once dreamed of a Red Cloud sugar factory.

The fellow that makes hay while the sun shines.

Starting out for "Buzzard's Bay."

The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly fine. This may be applied to the wheels in some of our statesmen's heads.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a teaspoonful, four times the usual dose, of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy, one teaspoonful at a time, and at night again took a teaspoonful before going to bed and on the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has, on several occasions, used this remedy in like manner, with the same good results, and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. "Oh, I guess we will smoke together."—Louisville Truth.

Right Arm Paralyzed!
Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."—MRS. R. B. BULLOCK, Brighton, N. Y.
