I have $50,000 to loan on good farms at lowest interest rates. If I make your loan you will not have to wait six months three months, one month or ten days for your money.

J. H. BAILEY, Red Cloud.

CITY NEWS.

N. W. Kingsland spent Sunday in Beatrice.

U. G. Knight of Inavale was in Red Cloud Saturday.

Miss Fuller of Smith Centre was the guest of James Swearingen and family last week.

W. S. Bense, the popular baker at the Bon Ton, leaves tomorrow for a short visit in Tecumseh.

The Misses Hattie and Edna Yarger of McCook were visiting their brother Oscar in this city over Sunday.

M. R. Bentley and wife, A. H. Gray and George Holland arrived from Hot Springs, Arkansas, Tuesday night.

Hon. C. W. Kaley and wife returned from a pleasant and extensive southern visit Monday night. They saw many things of interest in Texas and other southern states, and had a very enjoyable time.

Sam Heaton of Walnut creek was in Red Cloud Saturday for the first time in a long while, and had the nerve to tell a reporter that his dinner at the Gardner House that day was the first square meal he had eaten this winter.

Mrs. H. B. Musser, formerly of this place but now of Edison, accompanied by her little children, Esther and Henry, were visiting several days last week with friends in this city and near here. Her husband has 3,000 acres of wheat near Edison, and will either make or break.

Why can't we have an elopement, or a sensation, or another "Princess Bonnie," or something to break the monotony? Not a traveling show has come to town this year; more than that, there is no danger of any coming. If theatre loving people are not able to go where they can see a good play occasionally, they may as well amuse themselves with home talent shows.

You are not as handsome a man as you were when you courted your wife—not so well dressed. She probably loves you better today than she did then, in spite of your shabby appearance, but what a nice compliment it would be to her if you bought a new suit of "H. S. & M." clothes at the Golden Eagle, and tried to "spruce up" a bit. Women don't say much about these things, but they think of them just the same.

D. M. Stoffer and family left Monday for Arkansas, where they expect to reside in the future. Mr. Stoffer took with him all his personal effects, excepting the furniture in his barber shop. This, Charley Ray, who has been connected with that establishment for some time, has rented, and Charley now has full control of the shop. Charley has acquired considerable popularity as a tonorial artist, and has a pleasant student in the person of Charley White. The two will do a successful and satisfactory business.

Doc. Boynton is a conductor on the branch of the C. B. and Q. that runs through Amboy. When Doc. gets between Shabonna and Paw Paw he throws off a daily daper for a farmer living by. The farmer's dog is always waiting for the paper and six days in the week he carries it to his master. One Thursday the train did not run, but the dog was at his post and remained there until dark when the farmer coaxed him home.—Clinton (Ill.) Public. This is our own Doc Boynton, who is well known in this city and who owns a farm here at present.

AROUND TOWN.

James Glass was in Superior this week.

For sale, good corn for seed, C. L. Cotting.

And skating is a thing of the past for this year.

S. A. Pettit of Alma was in the city Wednesday.

D. M. Platt left Wednesday morning on a business trip to Ohio.

The male quartet at the M. E. church Sunday night was very fine.

The traveling salesmen are more numerous in Red Cloud of late.

John Winters came home this week, to spend a few days with his family.

Marsh Parker of Omaha was the guest of W. N. Richardson this week.

Give W. B. Roby your order for seed corn. He will have a car in, this week.

We failed to mention last week that Henry Deiderich was elected foreman of Hose company No. 2.

Master Joe Dilley was deprived from attending school Wednesday on account of the severe north wind.

Mrs. Minnie Gray and sister, Laura Smith, have returned from a visit in our neighboring town of Lebanon.

Miss Georgia Blackmore returned Monday from a long and pleasant visit with friends in Parsons, Kansas.

Col. Hoover and Henry Kohler of Blue Hill were in the city on business last Saturday. They came in overland.

Business on the B. & M. is picking up perceptibly, and Mr. Dilly of the B. & M. eating house is building an excellent trade.

The Congregational ladies gave a very pleasant waffle supper with maple molasses at Martin's store room Tuesday night.

Red Cloud girls are very funny.

That is, they are very strange. They won't marry you for money.

All they want is lots of change.

Conductor Doc Boynton says that honey, Holland gin and raw linseed oil in equal parts will cure whooping cough. Take a half to a teaspoonful, according to age.

Geo. Hummel Sr., father of Rev. Geo. W. and L. P. Hummel, of Line precinct, arrived from Iowa Wednesday night, and will spend the summer with his two sons.

It is understood that Rev. Williams will preach in the Baptist church Sunday. That popular divine lived in Red Cloud not many years ago, and will be greeted with a good congregation.

Seed and feed is what the farmers of this county are in need of at the present time. They all think that if they can get a crop planted they will reap a harvest. Let us pray that their hopes are confirmed.

These are close times for all—the farmer, mechanic or merchant, and it is well to work hand in hand. Wiener, the clothier, is trying to do this, for he is selling goods at the smallest margins possible.

Mrs. A. L. Funk and son, Robert, returned home on Wednesday after a short visit with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Thornburg. Her mother, Mrs. Thornburg, returned with her to Lincoln.

The prize of twenty-five silver dollars given away by Ducker & Co., was secured by Miss Mollie Stevens, the handsomest daughter of Clark Stevens, a respectable farmer living at the head of State creek just over the Kansas line.

Rev. A. D. Finch closed a very successful revival in the Christian church Sunday night. Mr. Finch was not known to be unchristian-like in any of his dealings here and his kind and sincere manner merited the profound respect of all.

Our enterprising merchants have been drawing patronage as far south as Lebanon, Kansas, within the last ten days by their extremely low prices on groceries and dry goods. When you want low prices on the best of goods come to Red Cloud.

When I invoiced my stock February 1st, I valued the goods at the present low prices, regardless of their cost. The loss was mine, the gain yours, for every stitch of clothes in stock will be sold at present low values. My stock is complete; the new goods have nearly all arrived. I want your trade, and my prices will induce you to buy.—CHAS. WIENER, The Clothier.

While the population of Webster county has slightly decreased, the stable and substantial element still remains, and these people will see to it that a bountiful crop will be raised this season if nature gives her consent. There is an immense crop going into the ground this spring. Farmers seem to think that this is the last pull, and they will either raise a crop, or go broke and sleep in the streets.

The marriage of Miss Minnie McAvoey a charming young lady formerly of this city, and Mr. William Lottridge an excellent young man of Deadwood, S. D. was consummated in the latter named city the 27th of last month. The wedding occurred at the residence of Anson Higby, in the presence of about thirty guests. The Deadwood papers speak very highly of both bride and groom, showing the great esteem in which they are held in that city.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Miss Rotteman, niece of Adam Morhart has returned to Illinois.

Doc Boynton sold his fine farm over in Batin Township to Oscar E. Ranney.

See our ad 32 full weight loaves of bread for $1.00 at the Bon Ton Bakery.

All kinds of sewing done at Mrs. F. P. Hadley's. Three blocks west of Miner's store. t f

Real estate loans made payable here Money furnished promptly.—C. W. KALEY.

Go to Roby's west of post office, for flour, feed, grain, hay, &c. Best quality and reasonable prices.

The revival meetings at the Christian church have closed with twenty additions to the church.

Do not forget that W. B. Roby has a carload of bran for sale by the hundred pounds or by the ton.

E. G. Moranville has fitted up his barn in excellent style, and is launching forth in a lucrative business.

Call and get a Ladies' Birthday Almanac Free with Weather Forecasts by A. J. De Vae, Devo & Grice.

The caucus Thursday night at Bentley's hall was participated in by all shades of political personages.

Miss Dora Henderson has gone to her home near Womer owing to ill health. Mac Pope has taken her place.

I am now ready to do all kinds of dress making. Prices reasonable. Three blocks west of Miner's store.—Mrs. F. P. Hadley. t f

A herd of horses have been meandering our streets this week. Some fellow will have some costs to pay if he is not careful.

Don't forget that I am prepared to carry passengers to all parts of the city. Leave orders at the Holland House.—LOYD CHABILL.

Take your wagon work to Stapleton. He forges all irons for buggies out of the best Norway iron, uses no malleable iron in repairing buggies.

When your piano needs tuning, call on Prof. Jenkins, who is now prepared to do this work in a satisfactory manner. Rooms over First Nat'l Bank building.

The electric lights still burn, notwithstanding the order of the council. The business men and citizens seem to be unanimous for lights on some satisfactory basis.

All who are indebted to M. B. McNitt on account of flour, feed, hay, etc. will please call at his old store and settle. The accounts have been left with W. B. Roby for collection.

Lost—A gold ring with garnet set, initials L. C. T. to J. E. G. Finder will please leave same with George Guilford. The ring is only valuable as a keepsake.

Special attention is called to the bargain shoe counter at Wiener's store. He has placed all odd pairs on a counter, regardless of cost, and is giving you the choice for $1.50 per pair.

Geo. Lindsey left Thursday morning for a business trip to Wymore and St. Joseph where he will endeavor to purchase fat cattle for beef. His Red Cloud supply is about exhausted and he has to search for cattle to kill.

We notice from a program of the Central Nebraska Teachers association to be held at Aurora, that Prof. G. M. Caster of the Red Cloud public schools and Prof. D. M. Hunter, superintendent of Webster county, have prominent places on the name during the session.

Upon retirement of Miss Bertha Brown from the lower room in the south ward school, Mrs. J. A. Baum was chosen for that position. Mrs. Baum is a most estimable lady of fine attainments, and will doubtless be a popular teacher in our city schools. She has had experience as a teacher also, and enters her work fully equipped with the knowledge required to conduct a successful school.

Julius Wobberman living south of the river had a dance at his bachelor's hall Friday night and if the reporter understands it correctly, they must have had a red hot time. Several of the Red Cloud bloods went out and two of the boys that had solid girls went alone. What was their surprise when their own sweet damsel arrived soon afterwards, just merely to find out who the boys took with them. When they were all tired of dancing a large ring was formed in the center of which two physical giants toed the mark and beat each other in the nose till the big draw near the house was full of blood and Dennis Finn had to ride across on Charley Turner's back to get his horse and go home.

Every day I see him standing When the sun is shining bright, And in brutal tones commanding, Urges little boys to fight.

With him are his boon companions, They're a pretty looking lot; They would gag a mess of onions While they're boiling in the pot.

There they stand and talk in curses, And complain about the blues; While a lady as she hurries, Wades in spit above her shoes.

Ladies blush at their wild revels, And their vulgar, rotten tongues, And I think I'd shoot the devils, If I knew the very ones.

The ladies of Red Cloud, Nebraska, got out an edition of one of the local papers in that town last week. Two former Clintonians had a finger in the pie. The wife of Frank V. Taylor was managing editor, and Mrs. Fred Homer was one of the reporters. The paper was sprightly and spicy. As the women had only to face a frowning world for one week they said a good many sharp things that would bring endless wrath on them if they were the regular editors. They had a well written obituary notice of Mrs. Tulleys, who died recently, an aunt of County Supt. Hattie P. Wilson.—Clinton (Illinois) Public.

THE CHIEF believes that there is a demand in Red Cloud for an ordinance providing for a board of health with power to act in all cases where the health of the community is jeopardized. There is a lack of sanitary measures in Red Cloud and at various times the people have been put in jeopardy by well meaning people who did so unthoughtedly. This is not a personal article but a gentle reminder that the lives of 3,000 people should be taken into consideration at all times, and that the greatest care should be taken to guard against all infectious diseases without regard to person or persons. This is a duty that we owe ourselves as well as the community. This should be done, not only to protect our people this year, but to protect them at all times. Give us a board of health.

"No, ma'am," said Wallace Wright to a young wife who was looking for a piece of tinware in their store the other day, "we have coffee pots and tea pots, but we haven't a jack pot in the house, and I don't believe you will find one in any hardware store in Red Cloud." "I am so sorry," said the innocent young wife, whose anxiety to please her husband made Wallace's bachelor heart throb as he wished he had a wife who would be as earnest in seeking his comfort. "You see," said the young wife, "we have not been married long, and my husband always lived with his mother, who is an excellent cook, and when I heard him muttering in his sleep about a jack pot, I thought I would surprise him by buying one. He mentions it so often that it must be a good thing. Can you tell me what they cook in it?" she asked of Wallace. "Greens, ma'am," said Wallace, and he sent her over to see if Peter Shea had such an article as a jack pot in stock.

In the last issue of the Belt we noticed a personal fling at Prof. Caster, that we believe does that gentleman a great injustice. The editor of this paper has been in Red Cloud twelve years and in that short period has found that the schools, prior to the coming of Prof. Caster, had been mismanaged to a great extent, with perhaps one or two exceptions. There seemed to be but little system and no government in those years. However, with the coming of Prof. Caster, the schools took on new interest, good attendance, fewer tardies, good behavior and a more general interest was manifested in all departments. Of course a school with the number of pupils and patrons of our public schools could not be carried on without some friction, and without some one disliking the superintendent; that is to be expected. We do not believe however that the charges made by our esteemed contemporary will stand to be scrutinized. Some of the teachers have become dissatisfied and resigned but THE CHIEF does not believe for a moment that Professor Caster has been instrumental in their resigning, unless he thought it was best for the schools. It is easy for people to make charges, but not so easy to prove them. Suppose the board of education should put anyone of the few grumblers at the head of the schools, how long could they be able to do the professor's work? Not long. They may say all the mean things they desire about Prof. Caster, but there is one thing they cannot say, and that is that he has not brought order out of chaos in our public schools and placed them on a foundation such as the have never been placed upon before, in the history of their establishment. This is an age of grumbling and people oftentimes grumble from force of habit. The board of education, as the representatives of the people look to and expect the superintendent to carry on the schools successfully, and when he does his whole duty, some grumble, especially if their ox is gored. The proper thing to do is to uphold the superintendent and teachers in all their laudible efforts to give the people the worth of their money invested in our great and growing school interests. Personal spites and petty flings should not enter into consideration in discussing school issues. Our contemporary should forbear.

Hay for Sale or Trade I have a large quantity of hay for sale at reasonable prices, to trade for cattle or any other young stock. Call on or address.—Harry McCormick, Guide Rock, Neb. 8-41
