EDITORIAL NOTES.

Every law-suit costs the county wherein it is tried so much money, aside from the cost that is defrayed by litigants. If the case must be tried twice, the cost to the county is just doubled, of course. Every case tried may be taken to the supreme court of the state when the decision of the district court is declared to be right, or it is declared to be wrong and the case is sent back to the court from which it came, to be tried again in the proper way. These things are common knowledge among lawyers, but the tax-payers do not stop to think how much of their money goes for second and third trials, because of error in the conduct of trials by the district court. The published decisions of the supreme court to date show that fourteen cases from Judge Beall's court have been decided, out of which ten have been reversed. In other words, the judge has guessed correctly just about one-third of the time; the balance of the time, costs have accumulated for tax-payers to pay. We have not stopped to figure what the actual costs are, but the fact is plain that whenever the next judge will not only have to dispose of whatever new litigation arises, but also about two-thirds of what the present judge should have done, so that the next term will cost just two-thirds more than it should, because it takes four years for cases to begin to be tried the second time in the district court. There is only one other judge in this state who has nearly so many reversals charged up to him, and this district has some of the best legal talent in the state. The cost to the litigant is ruinous, too. Evidently two-thirds of the litigants are distrustful of the judge's accuracy, and appeal is tedious and costly, so that, in numerous cases, incompetency, by delay, works a denial of justice. One hundred twenty-five cases are pending in the supreme court from this district. Not three or five or ten judges could keep the work of that court up to date if all the districts are like ours. The remedy is at home: Make the district court respected for its learning and probity, and these appeals and writs of error will begin to cease, and our judicial matters will cease to be congested. Time was, when in four years only twenty-nine cases went to the supreme court from this district, and only eight came back reversed. We can have this condition again by the election of James McNeny. Voters, ponder on these facts, and do not deny yourselves justice because of political tenets.

THE TARIFF.
It is a Necessity for the Prosperity of the Laboring Man.

Read what a former rank free trader says in regard to the tariff. There is not one thing that we know of that is truer than the saying of the writer whose story tells the whole truth in regard to the conditions of our country today. Read it carefully and then vote that, if you live, you will vote the republican ticket from this time henceforth

"THE WILSON BILL.

The prosperity of a country is dependent upon its revenues. Whatever policy may be adopted, the expenditures of a people should not be in excess of their receipts. This is just as true of a government as it is of an individual, and it will bear emphatic repetition. It is not difficult to foretell what will happen to the man who spends more than he earns. The same principle, adopted by a government, leads to the same results, affecting not only its agencies and powers but also its component parts—the people.

The existing stagnation of the country's industries and the depleted condition of the treasury are attributable, for the most part, to the present policy of the government in its system of revenue. What is called free trade is destructive of the interests of the great majority of the people. Wherever it has been adopted the many have been compelled to labor and toil at wages insufficient to supply the necessary wants of an honest livelihood. The alternative has always been either starvation or immigration. This accounts for the landing of thousands upon thousands at Castle Garden during the past quarter of a century. Many American industries were compelled to close when the "free list" in the Wilson bill became operative. The Express pointed out during the pendency of the bill that the golden visions of free raw material were illusory, and would create precisely the state of affairs which now exists. Behold the decrease of industrial activity; the great army of the unemployed, and the balance of trade against us to the amount of nearly eighty millions! A tariff below an economical administration of the affairs of the government, or in excess of the demands for the same character of administrations, are two extremes which should be avoided. The safest course lies between the two. Neither the people nor the interests of the country demand a pauper-making free trade or a rebber tariff.

The cry and clamor for free lumber and iron; free glass and glue; free wool and free raw material of almost all kinds has had its effect upon the people, and the industries of the country in no uncertain way. The injury which it has wrought has fallen upon those least able to bear, while the benefits which it has entailed has redounded to the English manufacturer and the Australian wool grower.

The present system for creating revenue has been in operation about one year. What are its fruits? Has it produced plenty, or want? It does not require much observation to answer these interrogations instantaneously. The distressed or destroyed industries of many kinds, the hundreds of thousands of American workers driven out of employment; American freight carried in British bottoms, with the balance of trade in favor of foreign nations supplying the gold of the treasury through the manipulations of foreign syndicates are so many monuments to the colossal stupidity that devised the system which has wrought this result."—San Antonio (Texas) Express. [Democratic.]

McNeny all the time. He is gaining votes every day.

Tax delegates to the democratic convention set down on Judge Beall, there being only two or three who were in favor of endorsing him.

They talk about finding gold in Nebraska. There has been several instances where gold has been found in this county in good paying quantities, it is said.

THE CHIEF heard of a man this week who asked another to do some work for him, and when the fellow refused, he attempted to get even by trying to scare the women of the house, by appearing in the neighborhood of the premises. Such conduct should be remedied by shotgun treatment.

Hon. Jas. McNeny can surely read his title clear to the judgeship of the tenth district. The people can put no better man in as judge. He is a friend of the people, firmly and consistently. The people pay the bill and they have a right to have the best man obtainable in the office of district judge, and Jas. McNeny is that man.

JUDGE BEALL and Johnnie Logan circulating wildly among a crowd of democratic delegates, that was what angered several citizens of this district Tuesday last. As a lobbyist the judge is a hummer but the democrats took theirs straight just the same and refused to endorse. Probably the judge's presence and activity hastened this result.

A prominent demo-pop once denounced G. Cleveland in clarion tones and closed by admitting that perhaps the president was honest but his ignorance negated his honesty, hence he should go out under another flag (the populist) to fight his country's battles upon the western plains. How about Judge Beall and ten cases out of fourteen overruled. Populists, ponder ere you vote.

The republicans of Webster county could not have put up a better set of men for county positions. For instance there is J. S. White, the most successful collector of taxes that has ever held a county office. He has collected taxes that were supposed to have been worthless for many years.

Then there is L. H. Fort the best and most competent clerk that ever put a pen to the county records. Well qualified in every respect.

J. W. Runchey has been sheriff for the past two years and as a sheriff he has been most courteous and prompt in the execution of his official duties. No one could fill the office better.

D. M. Hunter, the present incumbent of the county superintendent's office, has by his excellent work and the way that he has conducted the office, made many friends in all the different political parties who will vote for him. He has been a perfect success.

Jas. Burden, the nominee for district clerk is perfectly competent to hold that office and will be elected. Every man who casts a vote should remember Burden.

Samuel West. His name is familiar to every man, woman and child in Webster county. As judge of the county court there would be simple justice meted out to all. Sam is one of those big hearted fellows that always wishes his fellow man prosperity. His ability to fill the office is unquestioned.

W. E. Thorne and Dr. Beck, nominees for surveyor and coroner, are men who are well qualified to fill the office for which they have been nominated.

From the state ticket down to the city ticket you can not find a better set of men and they represent principles that no other party can present that are of so vital importance to the American people namely: "protection and reciprocity," that is if we desire a return to prosperity and we believe the people do desire it. Vote the entire republican ticket.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND.

AN ABSOLUTE CURE FOR THE WORST CASES OF RHEUMATISM.

The Plain Language of Mr. Oscar Pike—The Greatest of All Remedies Accomplished His Cure After Many Months of Weakness and Suffering—No Tedious Waiting for Improvement.

Paine's celery compound is the one known specific for the cure of rheumatism.

And it does not need a tedious trial to prove it.

The effect of this best of remedies is straightway felt.

Not a week goes by before the pains of rheumatism diminish.

Thousands of men and women have told of the days and nights of pain and feebleness exchanged in a few weeks for activity and strength.

Paine's celery compound has won the reputation of being the remedy "that makes the people well." Its good works extend from Oregon to Maine. In every state in the Union there has been piled up in the newspaper and medical journals, a tremendous amount of indisputable evidence of the curative power of Paine's celery compound over all forms of nervous debility and diseases of the blood. It cures after nature's plan, by affording nutrition for every part of the body, overhauling the worn-out tissues, and supplying new brain and nervous material, sending pure blood through the veins, invigorating the whole system, and removing the cause of disease.

Mr. Oscar Pike, a well known resident of Princeton, Maine, recently sent the following unsolicited letter to the proprietors of this wonderful remedy.

"Two years ago I was taken sick with what the doctors called the grip. I was improving when I took on a violent cold and chill. Then rheumatism set in, first in the joints of my shoulders, then down my hands and arms, then all over. Feet, hand and legs swelled. I could not put my hand to my head; could not throw the clothes off from me; could not dress or undress myself, nor get out of my chair without help. For a year and a half I tried all kinds of medicine and sarsaparilla, with little or no relief. I was 73 years old. Some one told me to try Paine's celery compound. After I had taken three bottles I found a marked improvement. I have now taken twelve bottles and the result is I eat and sleep well, do my own work and go about as usual, getting in and out of my carriage without help. I have been tempted to put an article in the local paper for the benefit of those that are afflicted as I have been."

Mr. Pike is well known in his locality. He is the founder and president of the North Washington Agricultural Society and Trotting Association. When he goes for his mail, he says, people ask him what he has been doing that he is improving so fast, and he answers as do thousands of others throughout the country—

"Paine's celery compound has made me well!"

Mamie Weideman conducted the Cicero recitation Tuesday.

Helen Roby had charge of the American Literature class Monday.

The school-board has granted the pupils one day, Friday, which they may attend the fair. "Thanks."

Prof. Caster called on the high school Monday a. m. and bade them farewell, before leaving the city for Lincoln.

Miss Mable Saunders, one of our junior girls, has been absent from school a week. It is reported that Mable fell from her wheel while going over the hill toward the B. & M. eating house.

Foot-ball is the game for the high school, in which Prof. Wilson takes a prominent part.

The senior class of the high school thinks that they are sadly imposed upon by having to take five studies but Prof. Wilson seems quite satisfied with the amount of work. They hope he will decide to relieve them of the fifth study.
