Little Girl Suffers With Impure Blood—Other Treatment Failed But Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured—Weakness and Headache.

"My daughter, 9 years old, had a running sore below her right ear for three months. The doctor advised painting it with iodine and we did this but it did no good. Then I got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle made some improvement, and when the third bottle had been taken the sore was nicely healed. A year has passed since then and there has been no return of the sore." W. E. MAGNUSON, Arnold, Nebraska.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The publication officially of the financial recommendations that will be made in Secretary Gage's annual report to congress, created the suspicion that the synopsis of those recommendations, published several weeks ago, came directly from Secretary Gage, or someone sufficiently in his confidence to know just what he intended doing. The material facts are precisely the same—the funding of our entire bonded indebtedness in 2-1/2 per cent gold bonds; the increase of the gold redemption fund; the reduction of the class of notes that are redeemed upon demand in gold, and an increase in the number of national banks by allowing the establishment in towns of less than 2,000 people of banks with a capital of $25,000, and an increase in national bank notes by allowing the issue of notes to the par value of bonds deposited by them with the U. S. treasury. While these recommendations will not please the silver men, as they all tend towards increasing the strength of the grip the single gold standard has upon the country, they will not surprise them, they are mostly a natural sequence of the St. Louis platform, and the position assumed by the republican party in the national campaign. It is certain that no member of the administration seriously believes that legislation authorizing the issue of gold bonds can be secured from the present congress; therefore, that portion of the recommendations may be said to have been made for effect—to state to the world what the administration would do if it had the power. Ex-Senator Ingalls has engaged quarters in Washington for the winter for himself and family, and there is more or less guessing as to what he intends doing. The favorite guess is that his vitriolic pen is going to be used for a newspaper, or a syndicate of newspapers, but a respectable minority guess is that he intends following the usual occupation of the members of the "ex" brigade, who spend their time in Washington, during a session of congress—lobbying. The opinion is growing in Washington that the civil service law will have to fight for its existence during the coming session of congress. Gen. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in a long speech at the extra session, made the positive statement that he had enlisted for the war and that his bill for the repeal of the entire law would be pushed this winter. Some of those who have made it a point to ascertain how members of the house would stand on a vote on the Grosvenor bill, expressed the opinion that it would pass. Speaker Reed has not made known his attitude towards the bill, and upon that depends whether it can be got to a vote. Some of his personal friends think that whether he favored or opposed the bill, it would be good policy, if he has not abandoned his presidential aspirations, for him to allow the bill to be voted upon. It is hinted that although President McKinley favors the civil service law personally, he will not feel called upon to enter into a fight with congress to prevent its repeal, and that he would not veto a bill for its repeal, but this probably has no better foundation than surmise. But there is no surmise about the interesting fight on the law, but that is an absolute certainty. The report is current in naval circles that the board of officers who have been inspecting numerous places will report in favor of locating the government plant for the making of armor plate for fighting vessels at Birmingham, Ala., if congress decides that one should be established, which is more than doubtful since Secretary Long announced his opposition to the whole business.

Attorney General McKenna is very proud of the part taken by himself and the rest of the administration in the negotiations which resulted in a bid for the Union Pacific railroad sufficiently large to cover the claims of the government against that company, and he thinks it somewhat unreasonable on the part of those who still insist that the administration should have had the sale postponed, in order to give other syndicates a chance to bid. The average individual who isn't prejudiced either way, thinks that uncle Sam was playing in deuced good luck to get out whole on his loans to the U. P. and the accumulated interest.

"I'll tell you," remarked a diplomat, why neither this government nor that of Spain is willing to give out the answer of Spain to Gen Woodford's communication. There is nothing to give out. In other words, the long communication is merely an exemplification of Talleyrand's definition of the duty of a diplomat— to talk without saying anything. That is what the Spanish ministry has been doing. In about sixty days I think there will be some talk on both sides that will mean something."

SORE THROAT.

In a letter to Dr. Hartman, dated Dec 27th, 1896, George A. Blanchard, of Washington Ga., writes: "My throat had been in the habit of getting sore every year for years, and if the last twenty any medical skill did me any good it was so little I did not know it. Two years ago my wife was down sick two months, tried two doctors, but the case was a stubborn one of female trouble. I found in Pe-ru-na not only a good, safe remedy for sore throat, but one for weakness and nervous prostration. I quit the doctors and purchased a bottle of Pe-ru-na, and in three days after my wife got up and she has been going ever since, and I have not been bothered with that bad sore throat. It used to last at least fifteen or twenty days. Since we have used your medicine my wife has not lost a single day, and she has gained over fifty pounds."

In a later letter, July 22d, 1897, Mr. Blanchard writes: "All of the sickness we have in the family is when we cannot get Pe-ru-na. We people in the south think Pe-ru-na is a God-sent blessing. I recommend Pe-ru-na to friends of mine that had asthma and one bottle cured them. Whenever Pe-ru-na is used it speaks loudly for itself."

Dr. Hartman, the original compounding of Pe-ru-na, has a recent book on chronic catarrh which will be sent free by the Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O.

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says: "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui entirely cured her and also helped my mother through the Change of Life."
