The band concert last Saturday evening was one of the best, if not the best, the band has so far favored us with, and shows that a little practice would give Red Cloud a band equal to any in the state. The Superior people compliment them very highly on their playing in that city during the reunion and say it was the best band Red Cloud ever sent to a reunion in that city.

We are pleased to announce to our readers this week that at the conference held at Fairbury this and last week, Rev. James M. Darby was assigned to the pastorate of the first M. E. church in this city for another year; and Rev. G. W. Blackwell to the Red Cloud circuit for another year. Both of these gentlemen are eminently satisfactory to the people of this city and circuit.

Through an oversight we failed to mention the fact that Isaac Shephardson of Riverton, had been nominated for state senator for the twenty-sixth senatorial district comprising Nuckolls Franklin and Webster counties, at the republican convention in Superior last week. The convention made a good choice and nominated a man who is a successful business man and who will get the full support of the party and we believe will be elected.

On last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Alfa Wells, living one mile west of the Eckley church gave a pleasant entertainment to her Sunday school class of that place. The entertainment consisted of an elaborate supper spread upon a table which fairly groaned with its burden, and there was candy, nuts, peaches and fruit to your hearts content. Seven boys and ten girls were the happy participants. Mrs. Wells takes much enjoyment in entertaining and working with children as she is not blest with any of the little juveniles. All went home happy, feeling they had a good friend and teacher in Mrs. Wells.

On last Sunday evening P. A. Wells and wife passed through an experience which they will not wish to have happen again very soon. They were out riding south of the river behind their team of spirited grays which became frightened at a movers wagon and started to run. Mr. Wells who was driving jumped out to catch the horses by the bits, but he unfortunately got mixed up with the wheel and was thrown down. At a place in the road at which two branch roads come together the horses concluded to part company and threw the buggy against a tree, throwing Mrs. Wells out, bruising her quite badly and smashing the buggy. Mr. Wells came out of it with a badly bruised leg.

There are bands and bands. They are usually a jolly lot of fellows—band boys are, and they are generally looking for a good time, sometimes to the detriment of their work. But there was no shirking of duties by the Red Cloud band which played for the reunion, although they had a merry week of it, too. They are a manly, well-behaved lot of young men and the music they gave Superior was of the sort the people like—nothing extremely fancy, but marches that make everyone swing into step, waltzes with a dream or two in them, and now and then a rollicking circus air. Red Cloud should be proud of her band and encourage the boys to stick together.—Superior Journal.

W. V. Allen, R. D. Sutherland and State Auditor Cornell held forth at the opera house last Monday to a very small crowd and for about four hours expounded state "savings" and other "reform" measures from a populist standpoint. W. V. Allen may be one of the smartest men in the populist party, he probably is the smartest, but it is evident that the people have quit their old habit of stopping work in the fields to drive from one to twenty miles through the hot sun to hear a campaign speech. The "campaign of education" inaugurated in '96 had the desired effect in teaching our people and at the present time they read newspapers in the evening instead of going to speeches in the day time. If the speakers above mentioned would just have their little speeches printed in pamphlet form so they could be franked through the mails, they would no doubt be more extensively circulated and the heavy expense (?) of railroad fare of these gentlemen would thus be avoided. That campaign of education was a good thing; push it along. Now is the time to subscribe and get one of these elegant bound books free.

Delicate Children

They do not complain of anything in particular. They eat enough, but keep thin and pale. They appear fairly well, but have no strength. You cannot say they are really sick, and so you call them delicate.

What can be done for them? Our answer is the same that the best physicians have been giving for a quarter of a century. Give them Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It has most remarkable nourishing power. It gives color to the blood. It brings strength to the muscles. It adds power to the nerves. It means robust health and vigor. Even delicate infants rapidly gain in flesh if given a small amount three or four times each day.
