

Those Dreadful Sores

They Continued to Spread in Spite of Treatment but Now They are Healed—A Wonderful Work.
 "For many years I have been a great sufferer with varicose veins on one of my limbs. My foot and limb became dreadfully swollen. When I stood up I could feel the blood rushing down the veins of this limb. One day I accidentally hit my foot against some object and a sore broke out which continued to spread and was exceedingly painful. I concluded I needed a blood purifier and I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time those dreadful sores which had caused me so much suffering, began to heal. I kept on faithfully with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in a short time my limb was completely healed and the sores gave me no more pain. I cannot be too thankful for the wonderful work Hood's Sarsaparilla, has done for me." Mrs. A. E. GILSON, Hartland, Vermont.

The statement made by Treasurer Meserve in his Lincoln speech at the formal opening of the popocratic campaign, that Joe Bartley turned over to him more than a million dollars on vacating the office, over $800,000 of which was real tangible cash, came like a thunderbolt from the clear sky, completely upsetting a very popular belief among the rank and file of reform forces, and inaugurating an entirely new line of thinking. Up to that very moment every pop in the state had been taught to believe, and his wife and children as well, that Ex-Treasurer Bartley left the state money vault entirely empty, in which distressing condition Mr. Meserve found it on his induction into office, and that every dollar finding its way into the treasury since that eventful date in history was put there by the magic touch of the great financier from Red Willow county. They had come to believe this as certainly as they believe in day and night, life and death, heaven and hell. How ungrateful, to wreck this simple faith! How unfortunate to disturb this blissful dream.

The dramatic accusation of Deputy Attorney General Ed Smith against Judge Hayward in his Lincoln speech did not electrify the people as his instigators had hoped; on the other hand it has proven a boomerang of no small magnitude. When Mr. Smith openly charged Judge Hayward with the dismissal of the Ebright case for a money consideration, and declared that the judge should be compelled to keep company with Bartley he made a bad break. Such rashness has stamped him a man without judgment or principle, and his cowardly attack has clearly turned out an expensive piece of dare-devil tactics for the cause of fusion. Instead of this vicious attack injuring Judge Hayward in the least, it has clearly developed the fact that Attorney General Smyth is guilty of dereliction of duty, for his failure to prosecute Ebright as he had specifically requested or expressed a desire to do, and as were the perfect arrangements and express understanding that he would do.

"We have enhanced the value of state warrants since we took charge of affairs." "We have raised them to a premium, whereas they were way yonder below for eighteen months ago."

These are the edifying platitudes printed in every pop paper and campaign circular. The eruptions also occur regularly from every rostrum where there is a grand old reformer to open wide his mouth and lift up his voice in behalf of the down-trodden masses. But the same brand of prosperity that has enabled the people to pay their taxes and bring increased revenues into the treasury, that these economical pretenders might have enormous sums of money to "save" to the taxpayers of Nebraska—by the card and circular—is also directly responsible for the premium of state warrants. The fusion gang under the capitol dome now playing their cards for re-election know this as well as any body else, but in their desperate attempt to hoodoo and humbug the people they must claim for the reform administration all the power and the glory world without end, amen. They must continue in the vain effort to hypnotize the voters of Nebraska with the delusion that state warrants are purchased at a premium in this year of grace 1898, by reason of an abiding confidence in the present state government as a guaranty that these warrants are a safe investment.

Lieutenant Governor Harris, on September 21, while acting in the capacity of governor during the chief executives absence from the state, in an interview regarding Judge Hayward's speech said it seemed a pretty strong array of figures, but the only thing that impressed him was the censure of Holcomb. "I never did think the governor did his full duty in regard to the treasury matter," said Mr. Harris, but Governor Holcomb is not running on the ticket now so I guess it does not matter." Speaking of the recent popocratic state convention Mr. Harris said: "I could have been re-nominated if I had wanted to stay in the fight, in spite of the fact that Frank Ransom and the entire stock yards influence were there to down me. Frank Ransom was in the convention as the paid agent of the stock yards, and he dictated the nomination. He was also in the senate as their paid attorney and dictated the entire organization. When asked for the privilege of naming the committees he told me I could have nothing to do with it and he arranged the committees to suit the corporate interests. He has never forgiven me for referring the stock yards bill to the committee on agriculture." Mr. Harris also said that the large number of unprincipled men who have been climbing into the populist band wagon are running the party. While this interview of Lieutenant Governor Harris adds nothing new to the facts that have long been familiarly known, it is a substantial corroboration from one who is in command of the chief executive chair of the state, and stood high in his party councils until the unscrupulous bosses began to see danger ahead for themselves and colluded to turn him down.

FROM HAWAII.

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Sept. 2.
 Well, here I am, sitting on my blanket writing on a tin plate, in a small tent which Myrt Adamson and I occupy. We are camped in the center of the fair grounds of the island of Hawaii and a prettier place you never set eyes on. California looks like a desert beside of Hawaii. The climate is fine, being about 85 degrees during the day and the nights are just pleasant.

The fair grounds are as level as a floor, and are surrounded by a one mile race track, and around the race track is a park consisting of all kinds of palm, cocoanuts, bananas, mangoes, pineapple, orange, etc., and it is a regular garden of Eden. On one side of our camp about half a mile distant is a mountain called Point Diamond. It is an old volcano 900 feet high. After a two hours climb I got to the top. It is in the form of a circle and in the middle is hollow down to sea level. On the other side of our camp, about thirty rods distance is the Pacific ocean, and once every day we take a salt water bath, and any time during the day you can see from 200 to 500 soldiers fighting the breakers on the sea shore. One of our boys took a cramp yesterday and we had quite a time getting him out, but he is all right now.

Between here and the beach is a park containing fountains and drives. On the north side of our camp lies the great rice fields and back of that the banana and great sugar plantations. These are all in the valleys. The islands are mountainous but the valleys are very rich. At the foot of the mountains and back in the valleys out of the city, are all kinds of tropical fruits growing wild. Some of us boys took a trip yesterday about two miles distance and came to all kinds of fruit that you could wish growing wild. Hay is $40 per ton, wheat flour $6 per hundred, it being all shipped from the states. If I was discharged here I would teach, that is if I could get a school. I was talking with the director of a country school of about thirty-five scholars the other day, and they paid $75 per month and could get board at $5 per week. But just now is a poor time for a poor white person because the natives will do hard work so cheap.

There are eight islands here, this being the largest. One of the islands contain the large sugar cane fields, and other is the Leprocy island and I do not know as to the others.

 As soon as the sun goes down here it is dark, and only about twenty minutes between sunset and pitch dark, when it is not moonlight.
 Rain here does not amount to anything, just a little sprinkle about every day and no hard storms.
 There are wild horses, cattle, goats, pigs and mountain animals in the mountains and foot hills of the island. We are waiting for further orders from the states or San Francisco which will probably arrive to-morrow so that you must know what we are doing before you get this. As for me I would like to stay here for a while.
 The mail leaves here for San Francisco in the morning and I will try and finish this, but we only have a tallow stick on a bayonet for a light.
 We were issued a white suit of clothes for the warm weather, and a large white cork hat, also for dress parade which make four suits each for us to carry.
 We do not drill much now. We have dress parade at six o'clock p.m. and guard mount in the morning and a little drill between meals. We do not drill Saturday and Sunday.
 We had a game of ball to-day between the First Tennessee and First Nebraska, which ended 34 to 4 in favor of Tennessee. To-morrow we will have a game between the First Colorado and First Nebraska.
 I went through the queen's palace which is a fine structure and it is under guard all the time. I talked with President Dole, president of the islands. We have had very little sickness since we arrived here. Myrt and I have not missed a meal since we joined the army—that is when there is one to miss.
 A fellow was caught asleep on guard last night by the officer of the day and he was put in the guard house for thirty day, and fined a month's pay.
 Yesterday we signed the pay roll for the second time.
 I must close as the ship will leave at any time. Myrt and I never felt better.

How to Prevent Croup.

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always prevents the attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of it would not do to be out of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than all other cough remedies combined.—J. M. NICKLE, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by H. E. Grice.

Music on the Graphophone.

Few people appreciate the marvelous power of the Graphophone as an entertainer. It is an instrument which, though it costs much less than the least expensive musical instrument, will enable its owner to have at pleasure music of any kind—from that of the bagpipe to that of the grand military band. It reproduces vocal selections and gives one command of every pleasure that appeals to the sense of hearing. No investment pays such large returns in pleasure. Besides reproducing the musical and other records made for entertainment purposes, the Graphophone will record immediately and reproduce at once and as often as is desired, your own words or song, or any sound. By writing to the Columbia Phonograph Company, 720-722 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo., you can obtain a catalogue that will give full information as to prices of Graphophone outfits.

Liver Complaints and Nervousness Cured.

A torpid liver always produces dullness, irritability, etc. You are all clogged up and feel despondent. Perhaps you have treated with physicians or tried some other recommended medicine without benefit. All that is no argument against "Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic," which we insist will cure nervousness and liver complaints. If not satisfied after using one bottle your money will be refunded by C. L. Cutting.
