In this issue of the paper will be found instructions to voters and those who do not thoroughly understand how to vote should study them carefully and be ready to go to the polls next Tuesday and cast a vote for those for whom they wish to vote without making a mistake.

The people of the third commissioner district will make no mistake if they cast their ballots for J. W. Runchey. His election will mean that the affairs in that district will not be slighted, and that one district will receive just as much consideration as another. He is a man who believes in advancement and any meritorious improvement in the county would receive his support.

Strong Endorsements

Dr. Mary E. Green, president National Household Economics Association, member American Medical Association, member American Public Health Association, author of "Food Products of the World," writes from Charlotte, Mich.: "The excellence of Pabst Malt Extract is not unknown to me, as I have used it professionally for years, always with the most satisfactory results. For mothers nursing their children and for general debility from any cause, I regard it as of especial value, as it combines both tonic and nutrient properties, which make it truly the 'Best Tonic.'"

"I recently prescribed Pabst Malt Extract, The 'Best' Tonic, to three of my patients, all of whom were ladies, and all of whom were suffering from dyspepsia and its consequences, and in all these cases it acted like a charm. Two of them bought more of the tonic, and continued to take it, until now they tell me they can eat anything, and one of them added 'everything,' without the slightest inconvenience. They have certainly improved wonderfully in weight and strength. I have prescribed your 'Best' Tonic a great number of times. It is one of the best, if not the very best, of its kind."

Considerable kicking is being indulged in at present by the business men of our city who contributed their good money for the purchase of band instruments some time back. When the money was contributed it was supposed it was for the purpose of buying horns to be used, but it seems as if there was a mistake somewhere. From all appearances the band has broken up and the horns are scattered here and there and are doing nobody any good. There is no reason in the world why Red Cloud should not have a good band and if the present organization does not intend to make use of them, those who have money invested should get the instruments and give them to a new organization that will make use of them.

In 1897 Mr. Thomas McIntosh of Alentown, Tenn., had an attack of dysentery which became chronic. "I was treated by the best physicians in east Tennessee without a cure," he says. "Finally I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using about twelve bottles I was cured sound and well." For sale by H. E. Grice.

Dr. John's great lecture "Did Man Make God or Did God Make Man?" has had a remarkable run during the short time it has been before the public. Since July, 1895, it has been given more than five hundred times. Last season Mr. John made a complete tour of the Pacific coast and such was the success of the trip that he is now on his way to the coast for the second time. Our city is fortunate in being able to secure such a man and such a lecturer. We will have the privilege of listening to Dr. John at the opera house on the evening of Saturday, November 19th.

Red Cloud is blessed by what can be termed—without using as strong language as ought to be applied—one or more slyster lawyers, who having never made a mark for themselves, only a black one, are envious of those of their own calling who have more ability and brains. We do not need to tell our readers who they are as every day of the present campaign they can be seen upon the streets vilifying one of their colleagues who is their peer both as a gentleman and an attorney. We believe that the people are onto these slysters and will not let their better judgment be poisoned by the venom of these black spiders.

A certain young lady will probably remember last Halloween night for some time to come. She, with a party of eight or ten young ladies were out for "a time," and in attempting to remove a buggy from a yard in the north part of the city, were caught in the net. The gentleman of the house came upon them unexpectedly and they flew—all but one. She was gathered up in a pair of brawny arms and given a good old Kansas hug with a couple of Kentucky kisses thrown in, and released. The young lady concluded she had enjoyed the evening sufficiently and abruptly departed, while the owner of the brawny arms went slowly into the house, smacking his lips. He was bothered no more that night.

What Shall Be Done FOR THE DELICATE GIRL

You have tried iron and other tonics. But she keeps pale and thin. Her sallow complexion worries you. Perhaps she has a little hacking cough also. Her head aches; and she cannot study. Give her

Scott's Emulsion

The oil will feed her wasting body; the glycerine will soothe her cough, and the hypophosphites will give new power and vigor to her nerves and brain. Never say you "cannot take cod-liver oil" until you have tried Scott's Emulsion. You will be obliged to change your opinion at once. Children especially become very fond of it; and infants do not know when it is added to their food.

30c and $1.00; all druggists.
