ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Little Stuff Which Almost Escaped the Public Eye Through Carelessness.
"The only paper in Chicago that dares print the news."—This very suggestive sentence adorns each side of the heading of the Chicago Inter Ocean, one of the greatest papers in the world.—The cause for the above is brought by the exposure of rottenness of Chicago's mayor, Carter Harrison and the tough element who do his dirty work, by this paper.—A great man country weekly paper are in the same fix as the Inter Ocean designates the rest of the great papers of Chicago.—They dare not say this, or that for fear of a loss of patronage.—The Inter Ocean has taken the right stand and will win because the better element will stand by it.—A little more nerve on the part of papers in towns the size of Red Cloud would make them receive more respect.—Today is Good Friday, and the question arises did you get your "eaters" planned.—If you didn't later on in the spring will do just as well.—There are no signs of the times or old sayings which cut any figure in this country.—And next Sunday is Easter the only day in the year when the small child can be made believe that rabbits lay eggs, common eggs, speckled eggs, striped eggs, and eggs of all the colors and hues of the rainbow.—Such eggs may be healthful and pleasing for small children but we prefer ours of the natural color given by the hen.—Who ever originated the colored easter egg business must have been hard up for something to do.—He may have been a drug man with a lot of Diamond Dyes on hand he wanted to get rid of.—After a very extensive research of the history of the early period of the world about the time Easter is supposed to have originated we failed to find any thing regarding the eating of red eggs or the wearing of Easter bonnets.—If anyone can give us a good explanation why these two articles are so very essential to the Easter of this period of the world we would be glad to have it.—Easter bonnets are made principally to tickle the women and Easter eggs are made principally to tickle the "kids."—At present things have advanced to such a state that Easter gowns are also in order.—In the course of a few years more we may expect to hear of Easter celebrations that will out-class the Fourth of July.—Backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight; and give us those Easter days long lost to sight; when people dressed comely and not "all for show," and red eggs and bonnets were not all the go.—The Nation has received a letter from our red whiskered friend Mr. Bentley who is basking in the sunshine—and electric lights—of Hot Springs, Arkansas.—Mr. B. does not want any improvements in his home town for he has got the "tin" to go where he can walk under the glare of electric lights and take baths for "rheumatism" and see people killed as a pastime, while the rest of the fellows who come at his bidding have to be content to shiver in Red Cloud with no hard coal in their bins.—The prediction of that reproduction of Mathew B's hat which we made two weeks ago is liable to come true as there is very little doubt but that the rookery on the corner will in the near future be torn down.—The mayor and city council have done a big thing for the good of our people and the looks of the city in the passage of ordinance 28 and 29. Ordinance 28 is "an ordinance for the removal or destruction of buildings damaged by fire or decay."—Ordinance 29 is "an ordinance providing for safe approaches, entrances and exits to churches, opera houses, halls, lodge rooms and public buildings."—Ordinance 28 makes it almost certain that the eyesore, fire trap and dog kennel on the corner of Webster street and Fourth avenue will have to go.—The old coon song in regard to the old log cabin in which the words, "The roof am tumblin' in and the chimney's fallin' down and the old log cabins going to decay" gives a good representation of the rookery.—This is not the only building or our main street in the fire limits which is in the same fix.—The Chief does not believe in favoritism and if any is shown we will be like the Inter Ocean and speak about it.—Why the beauty of our streets should suffer and our city be liable to

Easy to Take Easy to Operate Hood's Pills

Because purely vegetable—yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory—be menaced by a conflagration on account of these old fire traps in order to let some one receive a small pittance for a rental is past understanding.—The men who own these buildings are well able to build one story or even two story brick buildings in their stead for which they would receive a rental which would be good interest on the investment.—When the mayor serves his order condemning these buildings he will have, we believe, every newspaper in the city at his back, and the hearty co-operation of every citizen who believes in improvements.—If there is any newspaper which does not it will be of the class as designated by the Chicago Inter Ocean.—The CHIEF has not in the past and will not in the future be found in this class.—In ordinance 28 the mayor can find lots to keep his odd moments busy.—To begin with the steps back of the CHIEF office should be condemned and an entire new stairway and landing built.—This was a death trap for years until the writer got boards and a carpenter and had five or six missing steps put in at his own expense.—It is in as bad a condition now, as several boards are gone out of the landing.—The opera house needs a little fixing—at least a light should be placed in the front entrance during the time of entertainments so that people can see to get down stairs.—We're not going to enumerate them all for most of them need fixing.—Tomorrow, April 1st, is April Fool day.—Probably the weather man will decide to fool us and give us a pleasant Saturday.—Don't try to kick any old hat off the side walk or pick up any pocket books.—They might be "fixed."—Red Cloud will have a shooting gallery for a time to gather up the stray nickles.—It will be located in the land mark of ancient Red Cloud, the rookery, the dog kennel, or whatever you want to call it, on the corner.—It is to be hoped the bullets will not fly around and break all the windows.
