Mrs. B. F. Mizer left Saturday for Port Washington, Ohio, where she was called on account of the serious illness of her mother. Miss Trix accompanied her mother from Chicago.

A new sidewalk is being laid in front of Bense's restaurant and Berg & Smith's shoe store. It ought to have been built of brick as the difference between brick and wood is very small, but it is a good improvement just the same.

During the storm of Monday morning the residence of C. F. Evans in the south part of town was struck by lightning. The bolt struck on the northwest corner of the roof near the chimney but the damage was small.

You get up in the morning tired, a bad taste in the mouth and a headache. Know what's the matter? Biliousness! Take DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They regulate the liver and cure constipation pleasantly and promptly. Never gripe. C. L. Cotting.

A couple of new men of the telephone force arrived Saturday night and the phones are now all placed in position. The switch board has arrived and as soon as the connections are made at the central office and some little other work completed, the system will be ready for use.

The Methodists of Bladen are making preparation for the building of a fine edifice at that place and plans for its erection have been sent for. Subscriptions for the building fund are being asked for and many of the wealthy residents of that neighborhood have subscribed liberally several putting in as much as a hundred dollars to help along the good cause.

The B. & M. have at last commenced to tear down the brick work of the round house here. For a time it looked as though they were going to let it remain. It looked for all the world like the remains of some ancient amphitheatre, and if they had only held off Red Cloud might have worked up a boom by advertising it as such and have tourists and sight seers stop off and view it.

List of letters remaining uncalled for at the postoffice at Red Cloud, Nebraska, for the week ending June 29th, 1899.

Adams, Louisa Brown, A. J. Case, M. K. Logan, S. K. Pollock, R. H. Warren, Capt.

These letters will be sent to the dead letter office July 13th, if not called for before. When calling for above please say advertised.—T. C. HACKER, P. M.

Miss Beatrix Mizer, assisted by some of Red Cloud's best musical talent will give a concert at the opera house on Thursday evening, July 13th. This entertainment is under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church and we are sure will be first class in every way. Miss Trix needs no introduction to Red Cloud people, having lived here all her life and on many occasions given proof of her rare musical gift. Latest news from Chicago says that she now sings better than ever. Prices of admission 25c and 35c.

Dr. J. F. Goode, our new doctor who is located over the drug store of C. L. Cotting, although only having been here a short time, is gradually working up a nice practice. The Doctor, although having arrived in this city from Ohio, is not a new man to the west, but has been a resident of Nebraska for years, having resided at Beaver City. In a talk with a resident of that place we were assured that we had secured a fine practitioner who understands his vocation thoroughly and this is doubly proven by the words of praise spoken of his ability by the papers of Beaver City.

The papers of Superior are still making war on the rotten sidewalks at that place and the Journal tells in its last week's issue of several accidents which have occurred on account of them. Red Cloud is in the same fix but it will never accomplish anything in the way of better sidewalks until the council passes an ordinance requiring property owners when putting down sidewalks to build them of brick, and enforcing the ordinance. The practice of letting one property owner build a sidewalk of ashes, the next one of gravel, and another of common every day dirt and building one high and another low has made our city a laughing stock.

The VanDyke doys and H. H. Peck have been having trouble lately. Peck had the boys arrested and the case occupied the attention of a jury Monday. Peck claimed that the boys had been tearing up his fence, but the evidence in the case wouldn't substantiate the charge and the boys were turned loose. The boys are Peck's bad boys and should be sent to the reform school or some other place where they will be kept out of mischief, and Peck's desire to eternally be engaged in a lawsuit should be squelched.

George May an old and respected citizen of this county died at his home in Glenwood township on Saturday morning. The funeral services were conducted from his late residence on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. Geo. W. Hummel and the remains laid to rest in Prairie Gem cemetery where they were followed by one of the largest funeral processions ever witnessed in the county, it being about a mile in length. Mr. May came to Webster county in 1874 and was known as one of its oldest settlers and best citizens. He is a brother of our present county commissioner W. A. May. At the time of his death he was 45 years, 9 months and 19 days old and has for the past twenty-five years been an invalid. The cause of his death was spinal fever.

A case which has caused more than the usual amount of attention both to parties of Rosemont and vicinity where the parties to the case reside and to the people of this city was held before Justice West several days this week. The defendants in the case were Pete Nelson, his two sons and his son-in-law William Leetsch, the latter of whom keeps a store at Rosemont and they were under arrest and trial on the charge of being in possession of stolen property and as accessories. Many robberies have in the past been committed at numerous nearby towns and through the efforts of A. L. Hawley of Rosemont the discovery was made that some of the goods were in the possession of Wm. Leetsch and his father-in-law Pete Nelson. The officers of the law becoming apprised of the discovery repaired to the scene and parties who had lost goods by burglary were notified and a portion of the goods in the store of Leetsch were identified as some of the stolen property. The defendants claim to be innocent purchasers, but enough evidence was introduced to satisfy the justice in binding over to court the elder Nelson and Leetsch but the sons were turned loose. The defendants were represented by the firm of Overman & Blackledge and J. R. Mercer and the state by attorney J. M. Chaffin and L. S. Wilson
