

THE BEST EYES

Are those given the best care throughout all periods of one's life. "I used to have the best eyes" is a common expression. These people very likely have had eyes now because neglectful of the CARE necessary to keep them good. Let us KEEP your eyes good. If you haven't good ones let us assist in making them good. Right glass aid—that's what we offer.

We have a line of Goggles, Colored Glasses and Eye Protectors for Harvesters, Threshers, and others who work in the sun or dust.

 There will be a great exhibition of blooded swine, cattle, poultry, etc., at the Interstate fair at Red Cloud, Neb., Sept 11th to 14th. This will undoubtedly be the best exhibition ever held in this part of the country, and certainly you cannot afford to miss it. Many other excellent attractions can be seen that will be well worth the price of admission.
 Bring your best girl to the Interstate fair at Red Cloud, Neb., Sept. 11th to 14th. Many new attractions will be introduced each of which will be well worth the price of admission. Shooting tournament, good band music, good speaking, good horse racing bicycle racing, and many other fine features which you cannot afford to miss. Balloon ascension each day.
 The Hastings free street fair and harvest home carnival promises to out rival any such exhibition ever attempted in the west. The list of prizes and attractions offered are sufficient to attract the attention and draw the largest crowd the Queen City has ever entertained. Reduced rates on all railroads during the fair week make the trip possible to all.
 Telephones will be placed at the residences of W. A. Mitchell, Henry Cook, C. H. Potter, E. B. Smith, C. H. Miner, and at the livery barn of C. T. Hazelton. There are a number of business men who are yet without phones who could save much time and many steps and accommodate their patrons who already have phones. It is not always a matter of selling goods by phone but the convenience it offers and the idea of being enterprising and up-to-date.
 The city has been doing a little experimental work this week in trying to find a larger supply of water near the pump house, and have succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations. An eight inch test well was bored about 100 feet from the north well and water was struck at ten feet. The water was found in a bed of coarse gravel thirteen and one half feet in thickness and with the largest pump that could be got in the city the water in the test well could not be lowered.
 A story is going the rounds that an old church member died, of whose goodness there was some doubt, but who was regarded as a pillar by his pastor, who posted on the church window a notice in these words: "Brother Johnson departed for heaven at 4:30 this a.m." and then announced the funeral. Underneath this newspaper man tacked a telegraph blank, with these words: "Heaven, 9:40 p.m.—Johnson not arrived. Great anxiety."
 Wm. Barrett, residing just over the line in Kansas, had quite a close call last Saturday night. He arose from his bed to take a dose of some pain killer but by a mistake got a bottle of carbolic acid and took a tea spoon full of it before he discovered the mistake. As soon as the mistake was noticed means were taken to overcome the effects of the poison and he was at once brought to this city and proper treatment administered, and at present is suffering no ill effects from the mistake.

 Miss Pearl Ludlow was quite pleasantly surprised by a number of her young friends on Wednesday evening. Upon returning home from a few days' outing in the country she found her home well filled with young folks who had been invited by her parents, all willing and anxious to help her to enjoy a pleasant evening before departing to assume her school duties near Campbell. Games and other social amusements and a fine line of refreshments served to make the affair a very enjoyable one, and at a late hour the young people wended their ways home ward, wishing Miss Pearl success in her school duties and many happy remembrances of the occasion.
 Some miscreant entered Dr. J. W. Moranville's barn last Saturday evening and after pouring a quantity of coal oil in the stall where one of his best driving horses is kept, set fire to the hay used for bedding. The doctor happened to be at home and noticing the light in the barn went to investigate it. After a considerable amount of hard work he succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Had it not been that he had a hydrant in the barn it and other property near by, would have undoubtedly been consumed. The horse which was in the stall at the time the fire was set was quite badly burned about the legs. No trace of the guilty party has as yet been found, or any cause for the perpetration of such a dastardly act.
 The story is told that a dignified and portly old judge at Winfield, Kansas, attended a ball a short time ago wearing a pair of extremely tight-fitting trousers. During the evening he was horrified to find that a thread had broken in one of the seams, producing a bad rip. He beckoned to his wife and told her of his predicament. She produced a needle and thread and they entered an ante room at one side of the hall. Just as the judge had removed his trousers two ladies were heard coming towards the same room. The judge looked around for a place to hide. His wife saw a door leading apparently into a closet. Opening it she thrust her husband through and bolted it, and then turned with a smile to meet the ladies but at the same time there came a terrible thumping on the door and a voice roared: "Open this door quick, I'm in the ball room."
