The truth is the American sportsman is satisfied with your case for the press?" asked the corthe performance of the average highgrade American double-barreled gun.

Possibly never before were guns so cheap as at present. It is said that the in the same way as the bicycles were roughened the tires a little and so enabjed the dealer to sell them at "secondhand" prices without breaking his price the guns at reduced prices show little and other kidney troubles." or no wear, and equally certain it is that the fairly large profits on these goods will permit a smart dealer to nois regiment with distinction and won make a good thing out of the second- promotion. His skill with firearms is hand sales. The type of gun has of world-wide reputation, he has met changed also, owing to the use of smokeless powders. A few years ago when the everyday shooter knew nothing but black powder as a sporting explosive, the lowest grade Belgian barrels were good enough for guns made to sell at six dollars, and for ordinary amateur shooting filled the bill. About the worst that happened in case of an overcharge was that the barrel was bulged at the breech or muzzle, and a badly burst gun was the exception. Smokeless powder has all changed the situation. A comparison of a gun of ten years ago and one of to-day will show material differences in the mechanism of the breech, the thickness of the breech, and the construction of the body and action. All these changes are designed to withstand the greater strain of the nitro of smokeless pow-inly those of small caliber. The experience in actual game shooting with these arms has been about the same as in war. The bullet perforates without killing. In the Maine woods a fine deer was well within shot of a New York man, and it was noticed that the tip of took up one of the latter, and the proone antler was split in a peculiar fashion so as to distinguish the animal. He fired and apparently hit the deer just back of the flank. The bullet went clean through the deer, and away went the animal. Three weeks later, in another camp, the animal was shot by another man and identified by the split point and the wound mark which had healed. An old-fashioned bullet would have stopped the deer within 300 yards In the same camp a deer was secured without a visible wound. It was shot at, threw up its head and dropped. Just as the guide reached it, knife in hand, it rose, but its throat was cut before it escaped. At first the impression was that the knife caused the muscles to rebullet struck the base of the horn and was deflected, the shock stunning the through his whiskers. animal .- N. Y. Sun.

COUNTED BY MACHINERY.

Facts About Each Person Will Be Tabulated for the Census by Electricity.

Our first census, made in 1795, showed the population of the United States to be 5,000,000, and the count cost Uncle Sam, who was comparatively poor then, one cent for each person. It is esti-mated that the twelfth census, to be made in June, 1900, will show that our people number 75,000,000, and that the item of clerk hire, in the census bureau alone, will exceed $5,000,000. Although the work of enumeration will be com-MEN AND WOMEN pleted by the 1st of July, it will probably be two or even three months later before the last of the schedules are received at the census office; for not only must they all be examined by the supervisors, but in many cases they will probably require revision because of some error or informality. The actual counting of the people will not be done until the schedules are turned into the census office. The enumerators simply gather the facts, and the office force in Washington does the counting and the compiling, which is done by electricity. In 100 days all the facts relating to 75,-000,000 people will be tabulated.—Clif-ford Howard, in Ladies' Home Journal.

There are lots of mean men in the world. CHAPPELL, GRANT PARK, ILL.

"For several years my health was miserable. I suffered the most dreadful pains, and was almost on the verge of insanity. I consulted one of the best physicians in New York, and he pronounced my disease a fibroid tumor, advising an operation without delay, saying that it was my only chance for life. Other doctors prescribed strong and violent medicine, and one said I was incurable, another told me my only salvation was galvanic batteries, which I tried, but nothing relieved me. One day a friend called and begged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began its use and took several bottles. From the very first ottle there was a wonderful change for the better. The tumor has disappeared entirely and my old spirits have returned. I heartily recommend your medicine to "- fering women."-MRS. VAN (r, 416 SAUNDERS AVE.,

DREAMERS.

"There's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream." The old song is right. Lovers are dreamers. They create a special world in which they live immune from the hurts and ills which vex common humanity. In their estimate of household expenses there's no place for a doctor. And very often when the dream dissolves they find that the doctor's bill, the one thing they didn't count on, is now the one thing that's as regular as rent and taxes. And many times it is money wasted. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescrip-tion will do for a woman and her womanly ills, practically every thing that can be done by any doctor or medicine. It regulates the periods, dries de-bilitating drains and cures inflammation, ulceration and female weakness It makes childbirth easy, and thousands of nursing mothers have testified to its tonic and strength giving properties. It contains no alcohol, neither opium,
