ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Incidents of Every Day Life Which Very Few People Stop to Think About on Account of Their Littleness.

Marshfield, Mass., charges an even million dollars for one saloon license. The result is that the city has no legalized gin mills and the drug stores are having a big trade in paint—nose paint.—State Journal.—This is the kind of situation the Anti-Saloon League desires to place this city in.—To vary the program a little we will also have a few blind pigs where you can lay down your money and receive on a dumb waiter a cool and invigorating bottle of ginger ale.—We remember once when we had no saloons here of a little drug store incident.—A man with an apparent limp came into the drug store and complained that his rheumatism was very bad.—The drug man said he thought he could fix him up and reaching for his bottle poured him out a generous glass of medicine—nose paint.—The man drank it, made a remark about the medicine being awful bitter, made a wry face and left.—A short time after we noticed the man on the street and the limp had disappeared and the medicine had evidently done its work.—If it be possible that we have no licensed saloons this year it will be remarkable how many men are troubled with rheumatism.—In that event also many packages of Hayner's seven-year-old rye will find their way to the express office billed to numerous young men of this city.—A boom will be created in the sale of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and our druggists will become plutocrats.—But this will not come to pass as the people by their votes will decide to have things run in the present good old way.—Now that the approach of spring is at hand one sees many rubbish piles afire throughout the city.—The burning of rubbish is all right but in numbers of cases the way it is done is all wrong.—It is too often left to be superintended by a lot of kids who are liable to get burned themselves or else set the surrounding property on fire.—In this part of the country where the state of the weather is so changeable from nice weather to that of high winds great care should be taken that fires are entirely out before left.—The usual school board fight which is always brought up by one or two individuals is again in evidence.—The present school board has been a very harmonious and efficient one and we believe it is to the best interests of our schools to keep the board as nearly as possible as it is today constituted.—The two members whose term expires this year are T. C. Hacker and L. H. Fort.—Mr. Fort was again nominated and Mr. Hacker declined and L. H. Holmes was nominated in his stead.—The board as now constituted is one from the district, two from the second ward and two from the first ward.—Both the terms expiring being from the first ward it is nothing more than right that this ward have its share and be represented by two members.—The personal animosity of two or three individuals who wish to get their stingers in on some of our teachers should not be countenanced.—Did you ever notice how easy it is to stir up trouble and strife.—One word sometimes causes more trouble than a week's peace making will settle.—This is true in both sexes.—However the fair sex is the most inclined to forgive and forget.—As a rule a man waits a long time for a chance to get even.—Have you noticed how the town has commenced to pick up.—New stores are getting to be a common thing.—And while everything else is going along at a lively rate why not fix up the sidewalk in front of your place.—The kindling season is about over and it will be safe to fix up.—The kite season is here.—The air is full of them.—The weather this week has commenced to make the farmers wonder when they are going to get at their spring work.—The people who know most generally say the least.—This may be an old saying, but it is a true saying.—When a cannon goes off it generally makes considerable noise.—After it is all over the people wonder how such a little thing can make so much noise.—There are some very pretty window displays noticeable along our streets these days.—The new spring dresses displayed cause many hungry looks.—The same holds true in regard to clothing stores.

A Memorial Service
Last Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregation al church held a memorial service in memory of their late president, Benjamin F. McCune. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and upon the platform was an easel holding an enlarged picture of the deceased. The service consisted of well chosen songs, bible and memorial readings. Following resolutions were adopted. Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God our Heavenly Father to take from our midst on March 21, our beloved president, Benjamin F. McCune, through the agency of death, therefore be it, Resolved, that in the death of our esteemed companion this society has lost a useful and worthy member.
That this society tender to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy and condolence.

There is a Class of People
Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been put in all the grocery stores a new preparation called Grain-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over one-fourth as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15c and 25c per package. Try it. Ask for Grain-O.
