ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Incidents of Every Day Life Which Very Few People Stop to Think About on Account of Their Littleness

In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of—overcoats.—Not spring overcoats, just common winter overcoats.—As we heard someone remark winter lingers in the lap of spring.—We don't think that is the case this year.—We think winter has spring down and is sitting on her.—However, along about July or August we will be wishing for a little cool weather.—The probabilities are that the "garden sass" will be a trifle late.—If the snow and sleet had held off till Easter Sunday, a number of people would have been accused of rushing the season.—That is as far as Easter bonnets and light spring wraps are concerned.—Speaking of Easter bonnets, etc., did you ever know of a time in this city when it was as hard for a woman to find something to suit her—competition.—If there was but one bonnet in town it would just suit, but when there are several hundred to select from, she will hunt them all over and then can't find anything that just suits.—Since last week we have got chickens of our own.—What we said was too one sided.—We "take it back"—If your neighbor's chickens get in your garden just "shoo" them out.—Don't kill them.—Be kind to them.—Throw out a few meat and bread scraps for them.—They will as a rule eat that in preference to garden "sasses".—A chicken is a dumb brute and should not be maltreated.—Treat them kindly and they will get so they like you.—Then they will come and see you often.—About every week someone has the temerity to ask why the city don't fix up the side walks.—The only reason that we know of is that the city don't have to fix up the side walks.—It is the duty of every property owner to see that the sidewalk in front of his or her place is kept in proper repair.—If the city had to repair sidewalks all over the town it wouldn't take long to use up what money the city can get.—Let the property owners make it a point to fix up their side walks this spring.—The time is now approaching when people remark that the clouds look as though there was considerable wind in them.—And the timid person don't know whether to stay up all night or go to bed in the dugout.—We have for some time noticed the prevailing spring evil among some of our young men.—It is commonly called spring fever.—Among some of them it instills strange ideas about how much better off they would be if they were in Klondike or some other foreign seaport.—The percentage that become possessed with a dont care for nothing feeling is double that of the workers.—This is the time of year when the festive peddler gets in his work.—The people should say walk along to this class of rovers.—They never do the town a particle of good.—They generally have a lot of cheap stuff which they always sell at a large price.—In many cases the same article could be bought of the home merchant for half the price paid to a peddler.—Patronize the home merchant and then if you get beat you will have some recourse.—

Organization of Commercial Clubs.

The frequency with which announcements have been made during the past few months of the organization of commercial clubs and village improvement associations in the cities and towns throughout the southwest merits more than passing comment. Organization, unity, carefully-directed effort, is the secret of municipal success as it is of success in business, and it is a most hopeful sign that the fact is becoming more generally recognized. Every city and town can have and should have an aggressive organization of her public spirited business men, men who will carry into the work of advertising their city the same carefulness of plan and firmness in execution that they exercise in the conduct of their own business. Every town possesses advantages sufficient to attract new and needed industries, if these advantages be only set forth in a proper manner and good business judgment used in the direction of affairs. When specific propositions are insisted upon more than glittering generalities, when resources and possibilities and availability are more taken into account, there will be a considerably less number of idle smoke stacks throughout the country and a correspondingly less number of discouraged towns. When citizens awaken to the fact that they owe other duties to their manufacturing industries than pointing them out to envious neighbors, when newspapers devote more space to the industrial affairs of their town which are the basis of their prosperity, there will be less heard about unemployed workmen and glutted agricultural markets. If your city possesses a manufacturing industry which is helping support your working men, which is helping keep up your schools, which is helping to pay the expenses of your city and county government, it is the duty of every one of your citizens to support it. This is the surest way to attract new industries to your town, and the only way to hold them. To assure success a commercial club must have the united support of the citizens behind it on the question of home support and encouragement, and should keep hammering away on the one idea, by personal work and by the active co-operation of their local newspapers until they do secure such support. With this support assured, manufacturers who mean business, and who are really in search for a favorable location and not merely for large and questionable bonuses, will be disposed to give your town favorable consideration.—Southwestern Trade Extension Guide.

TURNURE - BROTHERS

"BIG TRADE STORE."

Resolutions of Respect.

Memorial of Charity Chapter, No. 37, Order of the Eastern Star, on the death of Brother H. W. Brewer.

Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Patron of the Universe to permit one link of our golden chain to fall away in death, by the removal of our esteemed brother, H. W. Brewer, be it Resolved, that this Chapter mourns the death of a charter member whose life and character embodied the purposes of our order, "to protect the widow and orphan, comfort the afflicted, sympathize with the sorrowing, and relieve the destitute and distressed." He stood just an upright man and Mason, whose wise counsel and cheerful companionship we shall no longer share in our Chapter here below. His honorable life gave proof that his trust in God was well founded and that his death was the entrance to a glorious immortality.

Resolved, that we realize the great grief of his wife, our sister, Martha Brewer, and offer to her our sincere, heartfelt sympathy in her bereavement.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy sent to the local papers.

By Order of Committee,

Indigestion is the direct cause of disease that kills thousands of persons annually. Stop the trouble at the outset with a little Prickly Ash Bitters; it strengthens the stomach and aids digestion. Sold by C. I. Cotting.

The Emergent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.

The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidneys, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.
