

A GOOD judge must have both experience and learning. A housekeeper should be a good judge for she too must have experience and learning or she may think that the soaps made to look like Ivory Soap are just as good. With experience she will know that they lack the remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ivory Soap—99 1/2 per cent. pure.

Times are so good that Coin Harvey has been able to purchase a farm.

The democratic party always was opposed to millionaires who don't contribute to its campaign fund.

Between the Tammany ice trust and the exorbitant charges of the Kansas City hotel men the Democratic leaders are having quite a time with the octopus.

There is a divorce case at Atchison that is so noisome that even the Globe would not give a full account of the proceedings. It is a pretty tough proposition that will stump the Globe.

Capital alone can never form a trust. Without the co-operation of labor it is useless. Even capital and labor together can not form a trust, because they need the consumer to use their products.

With an available cash balance of almost three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) in the Treasury at Washington, the nation's finances are in considerably better shape than they were when Grover Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle were hunting around to sell United States bonds in the London market at high rates of interest.

The insincerity of the democratic leaders on the trust question was demonstrated in the house of rep-representatives when they declined to vote with the republicans for a constitutional amendment which would have taken the evil in hand in an effective manner. The democratic leaders don't want the trusts destroyed. They need them for campaign material.

Mr. Dietrich has never sought any political preferment whatever. This is indeed a case of the office seeking the man. He is an ideal candidate, a clean man in every sense of the word an enthusiastic republican, a man of broad, liberal practical ideas. He will give us a good clean, business-like administration.

The following figures of mortgages filed and released on Nebraska farms are interesting:

Year.	Number.	Amount
1904	24,842	$237,552.33
1905	18,258	127,444.15

An equally interesting statement is the showing of mortgages released in Nebraska, as follows:

Year.	Number.	Amount.
1905	50,419	$29,269,949
1906	79,932	49,292,765

Mr. W. J. Bryan, Everywhere, U. S. Dear Sir: Four years ago I was suffering with shrinkage of the pocketbook, had hideous dream of bankruptcy at night, and was in sore distress. I was in a bad condition generally. I came to the conclusion that your free silver pain balm was just what I wanted, but was forced by Mark Hanna to take some of his sound-money prosperity lotion. Contrary to my expectations, it brought relief, and after taking four years' treatment at the hands of Dr. McKinley, I am now recovering and enjoying life. I have since come to the conclusion that your free silver pain balm is a greatly inferior medicine, and would have been the death of me. I shall continue taking Dr. McKinley's medicine, knowing that it will finally affect a permanent cure. Respectfully yours, U. S. Farmer.

Centuries ago, when the individual found that his business was growing too large for him to handle, he took a partner. They formed a trust in a small degree. Fifty years ago, the partnership form of business began to give way to the small corporation, as business men found that a corporation afforded better facilities and protection to their business. More recently corporations grew in size until we have experienced the very large corporations called trusts. In nearly every case these are neither more nor less than partnerships, the only difference being in extent and degree. The increase in the world's volume of business has compelled the growth from the original partnerships to large corporations.

Where is the next generation of men coming from? We mean men, not the things that will result from the ageing of the young bloods who promenade the streets with a coffin nail between their teeth, eating at the "old man's" table; wearing clothes that the "old girl" pays for, and running tick for their tobacco and beer. Such as these will never make men, no never; they will drift along with the years until the father dies, or else until they marry some silly gum-chewing, tight-laced high-heeled girl just about as near half baked as they are and start out in life with tailor made clothes, and furniture unpaid for. They will then find themselves with too little sense to make a living without work, and too lazy to work, and so will simply exist until the end of the chapter, with nothing to show for having lived except a few more fronsy kids to propagate their incompetency. There will be plenty of these, but where are the men coming from? There are exceptions now, it is true, young men and boys who have a future because they are making it, but they and their kind should be the common rule, and the half-baked guys the exceptions. God help the world when a man or boy is singled out because he is industrious. It should be one quality that could be taken for granted.

As the train was leaving Lincoln the other day, a young man accompanied by a buxom dame strolled in a pullman sleeper, approached the polite porter and said in a low and confident tone: "Mister, me and my wife have just got married and are looking for the best accommodations this train has." "Looking for a berth, I suppose," said the dusky son of Ham, as he turned to assign seats to other passengers. "A berth! Thunder and lightning no!" gasped the astonished rustic. "We have just got married. We only want a place to stay all night, you know; that's all.—Ex

A minister in a town not a thousand miles away, says an exchange, surprised his audience by reading the following announcement from the pulpit: "The regular session of the Donkey Club will be held as usual immediately after the services. Members will line up just outside the church door, making remarks and starting at the ladies who pass as is the custom. Any member known to escort a lady to church like a man or sit with her like a gentleman, will be promptly expelled from membership." The application was to the point and the effect was marvelous.

A great many Kansas school marms are going to the Paris exposition, which shows terrible shiftlessness. Some of these days the dear girls will want to get married and will have no money with which to support a husband.—Burr Oak Herald.

ON THE ROAD

All the time, eating irregularly, sleeping irregularly, exposed to every disease latent in bad cooking or poor food; that's a summary of the traveling man's life. The result is "stomach trouble"; that general term which covers various forms and stages of disease of the organs of digestion and nutrition. The traveling man can't avoid the troubles which spring from his business obligations. But he can avoid "stomach trouble." If Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is used when the early symptoms of derangement of the stomach manifest themselves, the cure will be quick and radical. But even if the disease has become chronic the "Discovery" will cure ninety-eight times out of every hundred if tried fairly and faithfully.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Broadway St., Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at B. F. Keith's Bijou theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelsons, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and thank God, with good results." Free! Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to cover expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the same book cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Skin Diseases

When the excretory organs fail to carry off the waste material from the system, there is an abnormal accumulation of effete matter which poisons the blood, and it becomes sour and acid. This poison is carried through the general circulation to all parts of the body, and upon reaching the skin surface there is a redness and eruption, and by certain peculiarities we recognize Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Erysipelas and many other skin troubles, more or less severe. While the skin is the seat of irritation, the real disease is in the blood. Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and burning, but never cure, no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated and skin permanently injured by their use.

The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned.

The many preparations of arsenic, mercury, potash, etc., not only do not cure skin diseases, but soon ruin the digestion and break down the constitution.

S. S. S., nature's own remedy, made of roots, herbs and barks, of great purifying and tonic properties, quickly and effectually cures blood and skin troubles, because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions. S. S. S. cures permanently because it leaves none of the original poison to referment in the blood and cause a fresh attack.

Skin Diseases will be sent free upon application.

have suffered from catarrh of the head, and for the last six years from a form of nervous catarrh of the throat. My whole system was in a greatly debilitated condition. There was great mental depression, bearing down pains, weakness and nervous prostration and rheumatism. Much of the time I had been compelled to lie down every few minutes while doing my household work. I felt a great change after the first month's treatment; the catarrh troubles which I had given up all hopes of finding help for, is cured, and I am free from rheumatism. I cannot say enough in favor of the treatment most heartily endorse Dr. Shepard's plan of curing sick people at their homes.

and bronchial tubes. My nostrils became stopped up, giving a nasal tone to my voice and causing continual headache. I had not breathed through the left nostril for two years. Marked deafness came on with other symptoms until my hearing was very dull. This was the worst affliction of all. My whole system has been thoroughly restored to good health, however, by the Shepard home treatment and the local catarrhal symptoms have been mastered. The throat and nasal symptoms have disappeared and hearing is excellent.

KIDNEY TROUBLE.—Mr. Frank Behm, a farmer of Modale, Iowa, took a brief course of Home Treatment with Dr. Shepard. Now he writes: "Your medicines thoroughly, promptly cured me of catarrh of the kidneys, weak back and rheumatism. Before I began with you I had been a great sufferer with kidney disease, so that I could hardly attend to my farm work. Your home treatment soon fixed me all right, and given in splendid health now, and have been since your treatment—nearly four years ago."
