

The Old Tallow Candle, The Old "Specks."

The old tallow candle and the old method of selecting glasses go together.

Both primitive—both best of the times in which they flourished—both are "back numbers." The man who takes his "specks" from off a case and puts them upon his face without knowing they are right, should step to the other end of the counter and buy a tallow candle to go with them.

If these are too modern, there still remains for him the flat and pine knot.

WE FIT GLASSES TO MODERN EYES BY MODERN METHODS.

ALMOST FORGOTTEN.

Incidents of Every Day Life Which Very Few People Stop to Think About on Account of Their Littleness.

Look out for spotters—It is about the time of year when people generally begin to think of laying in a supply of coal and begin to work their brains to see how they are going to do it.—If the present weather keeps up however, the ice man will still have the bulge on the business.—It has almost forgotten to rain for some time past.—School began last Monday and it is to be hoped the term will be successful.—The digging of the cellar for the McFarland brick has been completed and it is a good sight for the eyes.—The building of the opera house which was contemplated before the late upheaval of morality struck the town has been indefinitely postponed until some of the moralists move away or get changed ideas of the way to run a town.—The tourist printer who arrived in the city on last Saturday week and struck a job in this office and who was thrown in the "guay" on the following Monday night on an alleged charge of having eaten so much after a long fast that he became top heavy was on Monday turned loose.—There are some phases of the case that don't "track" right.—There are citizens who volunteered to be witnesses to the fact that they had seen the man at the time of his arrest and before that they saw nothing wrong with him and no just cause for his arrest.—While we make this statement let us say that one or more persons who said that the fellow was all right are reputable business men.—But be that as it may or may not the fact remains that a bread and water sentence of one day or ten days on a charge of drunkenness or a more serious charge is a damnable outrage.—The man who is hard-hearted enough to expect his fellow creatures to live on such fare should be served for ten days or more on a graveyard-stew-for-a-still with water instead of milk and made to lay drain pipe.—The costs for the arrest of the several parties lately to the city is about $3.50 each besides the cost of keeping.—The city government leaving out the mayor and council, city clerk and treasurer have "got it under their hat" that they can run the city to suit themselves.—One member of this self-appointed society of sleuths has even gone so far as to threaten the publisher of this paper and his assistant that they will be "run in" the next chance he gets.—We don't think.—But to return to the arrest.—On the Thursday morning after the arrest an order was made by the mayor for his release but he was still held by the sheriff on a bread and water diet with a mittimus from the police judge for ten days.—He was held as a suspect until the authorities of Ida Grove, Iowa, could be heard from.—The man wanted was ex-mayor of Battle Creek, Iowa, and the crime was embezzlement.—Just think of this poor forlorn, broken down, uncouth looking printer being taken for a mayor.—As he remarked himself, he looked as much like the picture sent as a monkey looked like an elephant.—And because we defend these poor devils who are "run in" when other crimes are winked at we have been threatened with being "pinched."—It is evident that this city has a detective association.—Red Cloud will soon assume the appearance of a graveyard and people will not dare to walk on the streets or sit on their front or back porches.—Even back stairs are tabooed.—The city better put a rein on its minions of the law or it may run up against a suit for damages.—There is a chance right at present for a successful one.

Hot days followed by cool nights will breed malaria in the body that is bilious or costive. Prickly Ash Bitters is very valuable at this time for keeping the stomach, liver and bowels well regulated. Sold by C. L. Cotting.

Teeth Would Last 100 Years

If kept clean—that is, surgically clean; so clean that no tooth destroying germ can find lodgment. There are plenty of dentrifices that will polish enough—or too much—but few that will cleanse thoroughly.

Dr. Reed's Tooth Powder

cleanses, whitens and polishes the teeth, and is an antiseptic and germicide. Does all that any other tooth preparation does and it has the germ destroying quality that few have. Perfectly harmless, delightful to use.

Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

The Royal is made from the most highly refined and wholesome ingredients, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is cheaper at its price than any similar article.

Samples of mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food, and in many cities their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive poison, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.
