Mr. Bryan should write a letter of acceptance to the Filipino Junta.

How easy it is for the democratic candidate to do things—in his mind.

The misquotations of the democratic leaders are numerous enough to make Lincoln and Jefferson turn over in their graves.

The democratic managers have already carried all of the states that they want, but it is understood they will hold a few rallies to keep in practice.

No man can take the place of President McKinley, and when the ballots are counted in November, the sensible people of the country will demonstrate to the world that no man will be allowed to take his place.

"We must stop borrowing money in Europe," declared Mr. Bryan in 1896. He was right. There has been a change from a democratic to a republican administration and we are now engaged in loaning money—gold—to European nations with good credit.

The subject of prosperity would be one entirely non-partisan were it not for the fact that good times in the United States have got so completely mixed up with the republican party that it is almost impossible to separate them in the public thought.

The opposition press is already so discouraged over the outlook that its perfunctory attacks on the administration are sandwiched in between long editorials on the sea serpent and the obituaries of those who were democrats before the party became the side show of the populist circus.

Mr. Bryan attributes the non-fulfillment of his calamity prophecies to the fine weather and good crops. Yet, judging from the tenor of his speeches four years ago, one might easily have concluded that the sun would stop shining and the rains cease to fall unless sixteen-to-one was adopted without delay.

What happened during the last three and a half years of grace of the last democratic administration? The alluring and musical hum of industry was no longer heard in the land of freedom. The pendulum of time swung back and revealed to the American people the ghastly skeleton of want and enforced idleness concealed in the free trade closet of a democratic administration. Do the people want another such administration? We think not.

Mr. Bryan can at least be credited with candor in one of his statements. While lecturing at Terra Haute, May 29th, 1899, he said: "When the votes were counted I found I had carried nearly every state in which I did not speak, and had lost nearly every state in which I did speak." And since 1896 Mr. Bryan has spoke in nearly every state in the union, and the question naturally arises under Mr. Bryan's own statement, what will he carry in 1900?

When the flag of our country waving above Fort Sumpter, was fired upon by the enemies of good government, thousands upon thousands of the democrats of the north forgot their politics, shouldered their muskets and became patriots. This year of grace, 1900, when the guns of anarchy and socialism are directed against the supreme court of the United States and the nation's honor and credit, these same democrats by the tens of thousands are turning from the platform of the repudiation of prosperity and the flag and are the staunchest of patriots.

Born and reared in the simplicity and honesty of a Quaker home, grown to mature manhood in the progressive, active life of the west, schooled in adversity and acquainted with the strenuous life of a frontiersman, W. S. Morlan, the republican nominee for congress, is an ideal man for the place he seeks. Having achieved success by dint of persistent industry, plain hard work, being a man of affairs, who is personally acquainted with the needs of this district and posted as to the traditions of fair America, in close touch with the common people, able, courageous and enlightened, he has every claim upon the voter of this district who has his own and his neighbor's good and the welfare of his native land at heart.

LESTER.

Fine rain, cisterns all full and running over.

There is a great deal more wheat being put out this fall than ever before in this neighborhood.

Mrs. J. F. Decker is back from Washington on a visit. She reports McKinley prosperity there.

Frank Frisbie has been burning off his lawn. Burnt work is getting quite fashionable.

All the Frisbies partook of a family reunion dinner at W. A. Mitchell's Sunday in honor of Robert Mitchell, who goes to Chicago soon to attend the Rush Medical College.

Seventeen of the Lester people went to the reunion Wednesday. They all bought a little rubber ball to bring home to the children.

Baldwin's park was well filled again last Saturday evening. The plays entitled "The Sinking of the Main" and "Grandma's Mistake" were played by a new troupe, and received much applause. The second act was entitled "Grandma's Mistake" and it was quite a mistake too, when she jumped off the boat into four feet of water and made for a point of land which proved to be should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

FOURTH—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter.

soft mud two feet deep. This was sensational indeed, but the most fitting part of the program was while she was floundering through the mud about one hundred yards from shore the choir began to sing that touching melody, "She Hath Seen Better Days." It is reported that after the play some of the troupe used Mr. Baldwin's lemon squeezer to squeeze the water out of their hosiery, however, we think this is a mistake. Moses.

BLADEN.

The rennon is in full blast Mrs. H. H. Hoffman and daughters drove to Red Cloud Saturday.

Geo. Clauson was down from Hastings visiting his parents before leaving for Montana, where he has a $75.00 per month position as book keeper. George is one of the Nebraska boys and we are sorry to see him go. May success go with him.

Druggist Phelps drove to Roseland Saturday evening and Sunday with his family.

James Goodlove and family left Monday evening for their old home in Virginia.

Hon. W. E. Andrews will speak at the reunion Friday of this week.

W. E. Thorne returned Saturday from St. Joe, where he had been with a carload of cattle.

J. E. Yost shipped several cars of cattle and hogs to St. Joe the last of the week. John went with them to look up a new location.

Harvey and Howard Yost are visiting their grandma at Stanton.

James Stanton purchased the portable house of James Goodlove.

Mr. Goodell, the new stock buyer, is here and ready to buy your stock at the highest market price.

Is Bladen going to have a republican club?

Mr. Moore drove in from the west to spend a few days with his son J. C. Moore.

The day changed hands Tuesday, Charles McCoy being the purchaser.

Wayne Reed had a public sale Tuesday and will leave soon for Sheridan, Wyoming.

GUIDE ROCK.

Bert Crow has built an addition to the house he purchased of Len Tompkins.

J. M. Chadla was on our streets Thursday.

A Mr. Renne from near Sioux City, Iowa, was here looking at the country with I. B. Colvin the first of the week with a view to purchasing a large ranch.

The patrons of the rural free mail delivery seem to be well pleased with it.

If you want to exchange real estate for a high bred trotting stallion. I. B. Colvin can fit you out.

J. S. Gilham and L. S. Wilson were in town yesterday on business.

The watermelon suit was dismissed by agreement of the parties yesterday.

Lawyer Cole of Nelson was in town yesterday.

Lyle Finch now plays the drum at the club.

There will be speaking at the club room next Tuesday night.

J. H. Behrs was over from Jewell county, Kansas, yesterday. I. B. Colvin traded his farm in Jewell county for other property and Mr. Behrs will go to Chicago to live.

The male quartet expect to be ready to sing for the club Tuesday night.

AMIDOWN.

TOO MUCH

Exercise is as bad as too little for the growing girl. It is very easy for her to overdo, and this is especially dangerous at that critical period of a young girl's life when she crosses the line of womanhood. It is not an uncommon thing to lay the foundation for years of after misery by neglect of necessary precautions at the first "change of life."

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes regularity, but it gives health to the entire womanly organism. It is the best medicine for diseases peculiar to women because it cures the causes of disease completely and permanently. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine nor any other narcotic. It cannot disagree with the most delicate constitution.

"For a number of months I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowne of 1212 Bank Street, Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do me any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to you for help. I received a very encouraging reply and commenced treatment at once. I had not used your 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved, and is improving every day."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
